TWO PLANES DAMAGED IN SACRAMENTO SHOW

SACRAMENTO, May 27. (AP)—Two airplanes were damaged today in accidental crashes at the Sacramento aircraft show. The first, a Douglas observation plane of the National Guard, broke one wing and stripped the landing gear when a faulty feed line caused a forced landing. The seond mishap occurred during the "dead stick" landing contest, when a competing plane was forced into the ground to avoid crashing into a ship just taking off. Neither of the pilots was injured.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 27. [To the Editor of The Times:] You can always tell when the Senate is getting near a close. The Boulder dam bill will come up. Some day somebody with the interest of that bill at heart will bring it up the first day of Congress and then if some Arizona Senator can talk from then to the close it will be a record and not just a repetition.

They knew Coolidge would veto the farm bill. Well, if they had had the farmers' interest at heart and wanted to see him receive some help this summer why didn't they have some kind of a compromise bill ready that he would sign? No, sir. There was more politics than relief in that bill.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

DOCTOR, ILL, AIDS IN OWN LIFE BATTLE

Chicago Interne, Infected in Autopsy, Keeps Tab on Pulse and Directs Nurses

CHICAGO, May 27. (Exclusive) Dr. Clyde Jensen, 26 years of age, an interne at the Presbyterian Hospital, is hovering between life and death in the hospital as the result of an infection he incurred recently while conducting an autopsy on the body of a man who had died from peritonitis.

Although only partly conscious at times, the young doctor is helping to direct his own fight for life. His hand creeps often to his temporal vein to feel for his heart beats. And when he finds the pulse sluggish he tells his nurse and calls for a stimulant to get him over the crisis.

Dr. Spencer Johnson, pathologist at the Presbyterian, whom Dr. Jensen assisted in making the post-mortem examination, also suffered infection, but in a milder form, and he now is convalescent.

Assisting the young man in his battle are Dr. James B. Herrick, Dr. Ernest Irons and Dr. Gatewood, all of the Presbyterian Hospital staff. Internes and physicians at the institution have offered their blood if a transfusion becomes necessary; so also have his father and brother, summoned to his bedside from their home in Omaha. The attending physicians say it is only Dr. Jensen's general stamina and strong vitality that have kept him alive through several of the crises he has passed.

RADIO LISTS TRIMMED

Many Stations to Lose Licenses

Ninety-one of Broadcasters Concerned Located in Middle West

WASHINGTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—Another long step toward elimination of interference in broadcast channels was taken by the Federal Radio Commission today when it moved to cancel the licenses of 169 radio stations throughout the country.

All of the licenses would have expired automatically on June 1 next, but the commission extended them for sixty days during which period the holders will be given an opportunity to show "that public interest, convenience and necessity" will be served by a renewal of the licenses.

Ninety-one of the stations notified that public hearing of their application for a renewal has been scheduled for July 9, constituting more than one-half of all the stations affected by the commission decision, are located in the fourth radio zone, which includes Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The list of stations includes, in addition to the ninety-one in the fourth zone, thirty-six in the first zone, thirty in the second zone, five in the fifth zone and seven portable stations.

In its notice to the stations affected, the commission asserts "from an examination of your application for future license it does not find that public interest, convenience or necessity would be served by granting it and unless you can make an affirmative showing that public interest, convenience or necessity will be served by the granting of your application, it will be finally denied."

The stations in the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain States composing the fifth zone, whose licenses will be discontinued are: KFPR, Los Angeles; KFUS, Oakland; KGPM, Stockton, Cal.; KOOS, Marshfield, Or.; KFUT, Salt Lake City.

Radio Stations Will be Checked

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (Exclusive) — Through the establishment of a new listening-in station the radio division of the United States Department of Commerce expects to make a continuous and careful check of all broadcasters to see that they send only on their designated frequencies.

Bernard Linden, radio supervisor, is negotiating with the United States Coast Guard for its station at Fort Funston, not now in use. Linden says the custom house, where the radio office is now quartered, is not in a suitable situation for listening in on broadcasters.

Music Publisher Divorces Dancer

NEW YORK, May 27. (Exclusive) The blissful marital duet chanted by Gustave Schirmer, millionaire music publisher, and Dora Ford, song-and-dance girl, is ended. The melody lingers only in a healthy separation allowance.

So recent is the rift—to amend the musical figure of speech—that numerous Park avenue and Broadway friends of the Schirmers are not aware they are living apart. They were married in 1926.

Sacramento Man Found Murdered

SACRAMENTO, May 27. (AP)—With two bullet holes in the head, the body of N. R. Mehra, wealthy rice grower who disappeared from his home on March 28, was found this afternoon in a small slough two miles south of Verona, Sutter county, on the Garden Highway.

The body was weighted down by a heavy slab of cement tied to the man's neck with a thick wire. Sutter county officers expressed the belief that Mehra had been shot from behind and his body thrown from the Garden Highway bridge.

SMITH FAILURE PREDICTED

Senator Simmons Asserts North Carolina Result Beginning of End for New Yorker

WASHINGTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—That Gov. Smith cannot and will not be nominated at Houston, or if nominated cannot be elected, is the prediction of Senator Simmons in the following statement predicted on the results of the North Carolina precinct meetings in that State yesterday.

"The result of the Democratic precinct meetings in North Carolina held Saturday was a smashing defeat for Gov. Smith and a strong indorsement of Cordell Hull for the Democratic Presidential nomination," said Senator Simmons today.

"This defeat is so signal there can be no doubt about it and efforts of Republican as well as Democratic newspapers supporting Smith to throw doubt up is merely in keeping with their program of claiming everything with a view of selling the people the idea that Smith's nomination is inevitable.

INTENSE DRIVE

"The intensity of the Smith drive in North Carolina was greater than that in any other southern State because they consider me the leader in the South against Smith's candidacy.

"Gov. Smith, chief of the Tammany sachems, recently spent ten days in North Carolina. He had with him, to aid in planning his campaign in the State, the successor of Tweed, Crocker and Murphy in the person of Mr. Olvaney, the present head of that powerful and highly financed organization. Every possible effort was made by his North Carolina supporters to capture the State. The signal failure of these efforts makes it certain that the whole South will be to the end practically a unit against the nomination of Gov. Smith.

STRENGTH DOUBTED

"I do not believe that Gov. Smith has now safely assured as many as 500 votes and, instead of that number increasing I think it will continue to diminish from now on. The Democratic party never has, and never will, in my judgment, concur in, and submit to the things which Tammany Hall and Gov. Smith, its outstanding figure, represent and stand for.

"Viewing the situation as it now stands and the developments which I think will take place between

CHURCHMEN DEMAND DRY CANDIDATES

Presbyterian Delegates Pass Resolutions Directed to Party Conventions

TULSA (Okla.) May 27. (AP)—Resolutions asking that national political conventions adopt party platforms pledging candidates for national office to enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment and nominate candidates, "who, by their utterances, acts and records, are committed to this policy," were adopted at an unofficial meeting of delegates to the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church here today.

The resolutions, drawn up by Dr. J. W. Claudy, head of the moral welfare department of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, probably will be submitted to the general assembly tomorrow.

They were presented after an address by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the National Women's Christian Temperance Union, in which she asked also that the conventions be committed to a dry platform and dry candidates, naming candidates for President, whom she classified as wet or dry.

She designed as wet, Gov. Smith of New York, Senator Wadsworth of New York, Representative Longworth of Ohio, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and Senator Reed of Missouri.

He said eleven are expected to be in the party.

EXCAVATION DISCOVERY REPORTED

Herculaneum Expedition Unearths Well-Preserved House and Treasures

ROME, May 27. (Exclusive)—Prof. Maiuri of Naples, superintendent of ancient art, who is directing the excavations at Herculaneum, buried along with Pompeii under lava streams, today telegraphed the Ministry of Education a report of remarkable finds just made under 150 feet of solid lava.

The main discovery was a large house of the Samnite type built of tufarock, in pure Greek architectural style, and almost perfectly preserved. The building was constructed in the shape of the letter U, with marble colonnades. The balcony, overlooking what once was the main street of Herculaneum, is described as being particularly of great architectural importance. It is decorated with stucco and small columns. A fire-scarred wooden stairway leading to the first floor also was discovered, as well as several priceless works of art inside, consisting of a bronze Mercury, a white marble Venus, beautifully sculpted but darkened by fire, two Bacchich Mercurys in red marble and several small vases.

The report states that the Herculaneum excavations, which will take five years to complete, promise far richer yields than Pompeii.

Foster Named for President by Communists

NEW YORK, May 27. (Exclusive) While one of the wildest demonstrations ever seen at a political convention raged, William Z. Foster was nominated today as Communistic candidate for President.

After Foster's name was presented, enthusiastic supporters streamed down the aisle shouting and singing the Internationale. They took Foster and carried him around the hall on their shoulders.

Slight dissension developed when certain factions demanded a platform advocating social reform. Others held that since the entire purpose of the party is an immediate revolution such a platform is unnecessary. The revolutionists won.

Tramp Trying to Aid Boy Drowns

YUMA (Ariz.) May 27. (AP)—He was only a tramp, but he gave his life in a vain effort to save a 9-year-old Mexican boy from drowning in the Colorado River here.

The boy, Richard Salamon, stepped into deep water while wading at the edge of the river. The tramp, lying on the bank under the Ocean-to-Ocean bridge near by, leaped into the river to save him, but sank in the muddy, swirling water before he could reach the lad.

MORROW PLAYS WALLFLOWER

(Copyright, 1928, by New York Herald-Tribune)

MEXICO CITY, May 27. (Exclusive)—Dwight W. Morrow, American Ambassador to Mexico, would rather pay out hard cash than dance, it was revealed shortly before his departure for the United States yesterday. The Ambassador's wife offered $150 to the Young Women's Christian Association drive here if a girl could get Mr. Morrow to dance. The bidding occurred at a benefit ball given by Mrs. Thomas A. Robinson, daughter of President Calles.

The Ambassador outbid his wife, however, paying $250 to keep off the ballroom floor. He also declared he would outbid any increased offers.

ARCTIC QUEST FOR NOBILE AND AIRSHIP UNDER WAY

Vessels and Planes Set for Dash; Coast Picks Up Mystery Call; Mussolini to Lend Aid

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

A rescue expedition is en route from Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, to the Arctic wastes to search for Gen. Umberto Nobile and his polar dirigible Italia, unheard from since Thursday on its attempted round-trip flight to the North Pole. The general's base ship, Citta di Milano, has put out from Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, heading for Amsterdam Island just north of Spitzbergen, to search for the explorer. Plans were announced for the Norwegian sealer Hobby to proceed from Oslo to Tromsoe where Lieut. Lustsen Holm, Norwegian air ace, will embark for Kings Bay to conduct a search by airplane.

Although Pacific Coast radio stations reported they had picked up calls for help for the Italia, purporting to come from a Siberian station, anxiety over the fate of Gen. Nobile and his craft increased as no direct word was received from his airship or radio stations closest to the Arctic area in which she was last heard from.

MESSAGE GARBLED

Several amateur operators and the Radio Corporation of America reported hearing the Pacific Coast calls, which reported the Italian "in disaster," but all agreed that the position of the dirigible was not given and that the message was repeated time after time in French, Italian and English and was garbled and almost undecipherable.

These vague reports, however, found no confirmation in either Norway or Spitzbergen. Several hours after she steamed out on her rescue mission, the Citta di Milano reported that she still was without word from the dirigible. Oslo reported that "no news since Thursday"—seven hours after the Italia reported she was returning after a flight over the pole—still was the best that could be said of the missing expedition.

ITALIANS CONFIDENT

Lack of definite news stopped much of the activity at Kings Bay, but the little group of Italians there still are convinced of the ability of the big dirigible to remain in the air and eventually reach civilization. They displayed great interest in the report that the steamer Hobby will be used in a search.

It was announced that on arriving at Kings Bay aboard the sealer Hobby, Lieut. Holm intends first to explore the north and northeast coasts of Spitsbergen. Plans for the second part of the relief expedition, which will be under the joint leadership of Roald Amundsen and Capt. Otto Sverdrup have not been definitely settled.

Meanwhile Rome's morning newspapers expressed supreme confidence that the general and his crew soon will be located and exhorted their readers to remain calm. News that the Norwegian government and several famous explorers had started rescue preparations was received with great rejoicing in the Italian capital.

To further bolster up the spirits of the anxious watchers, the Rome paper Messagero recalled that the same anxiety was experienced for two days in 1926 and cited the message from the base ship, Citta di Milano, "They will return. They cannot fail to return."

Premier Mussolini was studying all possible means to get help to Gen. Nobile and has given orders that any news of the whereabouts of the expedition be relayed to him immediately.

SAN FRANCISCO RADIO PICKS UP ITALIA PLEA

SAN FRANCISCO May 27. (AP)—Calls for help for Gen. Umberto Nobile's dirigible Italia, in peril somewhere in the Arctic wastes, were picked up out of the air by Pacific Coast radio operators early today. Position of the Italia was not given. The message came time after time, first in Italian, then in French and again in English, garbled and almost indecipherable because of distance or low-powered sending apparatus.

Surmise that the Italia, more than five days out of Spitsbergen on its voyage for the North Pole, was broadcasting its appeal from

REDS RIOT IN BERLIN

Police Reserves Called When Shots Break Up Parade in German Capital

Meeting Held in Celebration of Victory in Elections Last Sunday

(Copyright, 1928, by the Chicago Tribune)

BERLIN, May 27. (Exclusive)—All the police reserves in Berlin were called out after the first shots were exchanged between Reds and policemen in the Charlottenburg section of Berlin in the course of demonstrations by the Red Front Fighters.

Two small children playing before the house of their parents and a man and a woman were wounded seriously.

The Red Front Fighters were holding their annual meeting in Berlin. A group of fifty which arrived last night were parading in the Charlottenburg section. A traffic policeman signalled them to stop and let a motor bus pass, but they marched on. The bus driver threatened to drive into the crowd and shots were fired. The police said they came from a house opposite known to contain mainly Communists. They returned the fire and a score were slightly wounded, in addition to the principal victims.

On bicycles, in trucks and on foot the Red Front Fighters are trekking into Berlin from the far-away districts of the Ruhr, to demonstrate and celebrate the victory they scored in the elections last Sunday. In Berlin a solid mass of 30,000 Red Front Fighters are ready to receive them. Trucks from the industrial districts surrounding Berlin are pouring into town, decorated with the traditional Whitsuntide boughs of young birch and red flags, bringing another 30,000 Red Front Fighters.

ITALIAN POLICE MAKE RAIDS ON COMMUNISTS

[Copyright, 1928, by Chicago Tribune.]

ROME (Italy) May 26. (Exclusive)—Extensive police raids against Communists were carried out during the last two weeks, it became known today. During the last few days the police arrested numbers of men said to be Communists, near Genesso, a suburb of Rome. These men came under the surveillance of the authorities for their attempts to make a demonstration on May Day, Labor Day in Europe generally, but banned in Italy.

The police followed up investigations after the arrests and discovered a central bureau of Communists for propaganda in Rome and the vicinity. Numerous documents and a considerable sum of money have been found and confiscated. The central bureau in Rome was directed by an accountant and a former newspaper man whose names were not revealed.

AERIAL GOLF LATEST SPORT

Foursome Played From Air by Flyers Who Drop Balls on Links in Unusual Curtis Field Game

GARDEN CITY (L. I.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Four aviators attached to Curtis Field have invented a new game, "aerial golf," and it was tried out this afternoon for the first time on the links of the old Westbury Club adjoining Curtis Field.

It proved a success. Fifty minutes was required for the nine holes and scores slightly better than those totaled on normal golf were hung up.

The winning team won by 3 up. It was a foursome that started off this afternoon. One member of each team piloted a monoplane overhead while their partners holed out the shots on the ground. The man in the plane would circle over the green and try to drop the ball as close as possible to the hole, then the other plane would hover overhead while the first one soared out of the way.

Gold and silver balls were used. M. M. Merrill, manager of the Curtis flying service and William Hammond, one of his pilots, comprised the winning team, while Arthur Caperton and William Winston were the defeated pair.

Merrill and Caperton were the pilots of the two planes, while Hammond and Winston holed out the shots on the ground.

The two flyers found the greens easily and every shot but one was within easy putting range. Hammond proved slightly superior to Winston with the putter. The winning team required twenty-seven strokes to their opponents' thirty-one.

The match was watched by many hundreds of persons on the ground and quite a number, as such things go, from the air. Among those who circled the course were Col. Lindbergh and Thea Rasche, the German aviatrix.

Miss Rasche stunted over the course during the match and afterward challenged the winning team to another aerial golf match next week. She said she would have a prominent woman golfer as her team-mate on the ground.

A list of hotels and new stands where the Airplane Edition of The Times may be purchased in San Francisco and Oakland appears on the last page of Part 1.

FINAL DRIVE FOR SENATE DAM VOTE OPENS TODAY

Johnson Girds for Fight to Prolong Session, While Foes Line Up Filibuster Forces

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Battling against time, Senator Johnson, Republican of California, will start his final drive tomorrow for a vote in the Senate on his Boulder Canyon dam bill. Already approved by the House, the measure held its position as the order of business in the Senate against two determined attacks Saturday and now Johnson is turning his attention to keeping Congress in session long enough to permit a vote in the face of the filibuster by the opposition.

A show-down on the time element comes tomorrow at the conclusion of the regular two hours of morning business in the Senate. A vote will be taken at that time on the House resolution fixing Tuesday at 5 p.m., as the adjournment date for this session.

HAS TWO CHANGES

Senator Johnson has two amendments pending to the resolution. These will be voted upon first. He will propose in one amendment that a week from next Tuesday be made the closing time. If that is rejected, he will propose adjournment on next Saturday.

Meanwhile, the Californian has raised his hand against the consideration of any other business. He has the power to block everything else until the Senate votes on Boulder dam or votes to displace it as the unfinished business and he gave notice on Saturday that he would exercise that power.

Across the aisle, Senators Ashurst and Hayden of Arizona, set grimly determined to go the limit, regardless of what adjournment date is decided upon, to prevent a vote on the bill which they contend would rob their State of its waterpower and only resource.

Behind the Arizona Senators sits King, Democrat of Utah, and near by on the other side of the chamber is the veteran Smoot, Republican of Utah, who already has killed two days in previous consideration of Boulder dam this session. Ashurst and Hayden declared tonight they could meet the "test of physical endurance," which Johnson has declared he will force.

VOTES SHOW STRENGTH

The Boulder dam forces showed their strength on Saturday when Chairman Hale of the Naval Committee moved to displace Johnson's bill for consideration of the administration's naval cruiser construction measure. Hale lost, 44 to ...

Before that, an attempt by Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, to sidetrack the Boulder bill for the army promotion legislation, making a new system for the Air Corps, was turned back, 51 to 16.

Regardless of failure to obtain a vote at this time, Senator Johnson can again bring the bill up at the short term next December. House action again at that time will not be necessary. It appears likely that he can keep it before the Senate as the unfinished business until the end even if it is not voted upon and if this is done he will be in a position to get early consideration upon the reconvening of Congress next winter.

CRUISER BILL REMAINS

Outside of Boulder Canyon dam and the cruiser construction bill, the long list of tasks to which the seventieth Congress set itself last December has been completed and Congress is ready to quit this week.

Final enactment into law of four major legislative proposals still awaits the necessary approval of President Coolidge. On his desk are the Muscle Shoals, tax reduction, postal rates revision and second deficiency appropriation measures. All of these were sent to the White House during the rush of the last two days.

Three of the other four big problems of the session have been placed upon the statute books—flood control, development of the merchant marine and the Alien Property Settlement Act. The fourth, farm relief, has gone through the legislative mill and ended in the wastebasket, the Senate sustaining the veto of President Coolidge on the McNary-Haugen measure.

In addition all of the annual supply bills to meet the expenditures of the Government during the coming fiscal year have been completed. Leaders of both the House and Senate taking particular pains to get them out of the way well in advance of the usual end-of-the-session legislative jam.

The House in disposing of the tax bill yesterday cleared its slate of the last big measure on its calendar and will stand by this week ready to go home at any time that the Senate may make up its mind to do so.

President Coolidge was urged today in a telegram from State Senator Fred T. Colter of Arizona to veto the Boulder Dam bill if it should be passed by the Senate. Senator Colter, Arizona State Commissioner to oppose the bill, said the fact that the measure would put the United States into the power business is a minor "threatened disaster" compared to the reversal of vested individual State and constitutional rights.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

NEW YORK, May 27. (Exclusive) President Coolidge's blistering veto of the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief bill is destined to influence the action of the Democratic national convention at Houston and the strategy of the Jeffersonians in the election, in the opinion of Democratic leaders here.

With the nomination of Al Smith generally regarded a foregone conclusion, interest is veering to the choice of the candidate for Vice-President and to the character of the platform to be adopted at Houston.

As to the Vice-Presidency, the party will be called upon to decide whether expediency dictates the choice of a dry, Protestant Southerner to counteract prejudice against Gov. Smith's wetness and Romanism, which is most pronounced in the South, or of a Protestant Westerner, either wet or dry, for the purpose of making a special bid for the electoral votes of the corn belt. The big platform question will be the party declarations on prohibition and farm relief, the latter of which assumes importance in Democratic minds by virtue of the opportunity the Democrats think they have of capitalising farmer resentment of the Coolidge veto.

SEEK CORN BELTER

Democratic leaders, particularly those in the Smith camp, heretofore have been confining the survey of Vice-Presidential possibilities to the "Solid" South and to the border States. Among the entries from the "Solid" South are Gov. Moody of Texas, Senator George of Georgia and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, while Representative Cordell Hull of Tennessee is the offering of the border States.

Since the Coolidge veto, the Democrats are beginning to scrutinize the corn belt, which, resounding with the threats of a Republican bolt, appears to be unusually fertile political soil for Democratic cultivation. A Vice-Presidential candidate from that region, it is conceived, would improve the chances of the Democrats winning one or more of the agricultural States.

Among the eligibles for nomination in that region whose qualifications are being canvassed are former Senator Gilbert Hitchcock of Nebraska, Gov. Bulow of South Dakota, Senator Kendrick of Wyoming and Senator Hawes of Missouri.

The prospect entertained some months ago of a knockdown and dragout fight at Houston of the prohibition plank in the platform gradually has been fading. The expectations of a battle were based chiefly on Gov. Smith's declaration in his Jackson Day letter that "we cannot carry water on both shoulders," that "the Democratic party must talk out to the American people in no uncertain terms," and that the principle of the noninterference by the Federal government "with local habits" should be applied to the prohibition question.

PLAYS SOFT PEDAL

This utterance was interpreted at the time as notice that Smith would fight at Houston for a plank committing the party to State jurisdiction of the definition of intoxicating liquor. But Smith now does not appear disposed to press the views he expressed in the Jackson Day letter so far as they relate to prohibition. His chief sponsors have stated in so many words that there will be no fight made for a wet or even a moist plank at Houston. They would oppose a fanatical bone-dry plank but they would accept a law-enforcement declaration of the innocuous nature incorporated in previous platforms.

The prevailing opinion among friends of the Governor is that he will keep mum on prohibition and all other issues until after the convention but that in his acceptance speech he will give his views on the dry law.

When it comes to the issue of farm relief the Democratic party is divided. For that reason the adoption of the agricultural plank may be attended by much party travail. The Coolidge veto and the sounding of the talk of midwestern Republican revolt that has ensued in some quarters, have caused many Democratic leaders to declare that a wise deference to considerations of expediency would impel the adoption of a plank at Houston promising the farmers legislation along the line of the McNary-Haugen bill. Do that, they say in effect, and the Republican corn belt will go Democratic next November and put Al Smith in the White House notwithstanding his wetness and his Romanism.

DEMOCRATIC MEASURE

The fact that the McNary-Haugen bill was a device ostensibly for making effective the protective tariff, an institution professedly abhorred by the Democratic party, creates no difficulty from the viewpoint of these Democratic opportunists. They don't see why the party should be any more embarrassed by that consideration than were the twenty-nine Democratic Senators out of forty-one who espoused the McNary-Haugen farm-relief principle. They contend that the Democrats of Congress eventually made the McNary-Haugen bill more a Democratic than a Republican measure.

There is, however, a strenuous opposition to the McNary-Haugen bill among eastern Democrats, the importance of which is not lessened by the fact that Tammany supported the measure in Congress. The Tammany gesture was patently a bid for support for Al Smith by those southern and western influences in the Democratic party which were being exerted to put through the farm-relief bill.

It is not doubted that the Democrats who are opposed to committing the party to McNary-Haugenism will make themselves heard at Houston and they may be strong enough to force a material modification of the bid that will be made for the agricultural vote.

KIDNAPED GIRL FOUND DEAD

Ohio Child Hunted Two Weeks Believed Attacked and Slain by Unknown Fiend

SALEM (O.) May 27. (AP)—The partly-clothed body of Beatrice Rosenbaum, 10 years of age, who disappeared from her home at Youngstown, two weeks ago, was found in a ravine on the farm of John Lippatt, two miles from here today.

The body was identified by David Rosenbaum, 16, and Mrs. Amelia Goldstein, brother and sister of the dead girl. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max Rosenbaum, also were summoned here by police.

The girl apparently had been the victim of an attack by a man who was supposed to have kidnaped her, according to Deputy Sheriff Lawrence Kindsbatter, although this cannot be determined definitely until an autopsy has been performed.

Deputy Kindsbatter said he believes the child's neck had been broken.

County Coroner Van Fossan went to the Stark undertaking parlors in Salem, where the body was taken, to conduct an autopsy.

The circumstances of the finding of the body and a single clew furnished by John Lippatt and his wife led to the conclusion today that Beatrice had been kidnaped, as was first believed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lippatt told Police Chief McNichols of Youngstown that they observed a small automobile parked on the road along their farm Friday night. The description of the car indicated that it might have been the roadster in which two neighbor women of the Rosenbaums said they saw Beatrice carried away.

The body of the child was found by two sons of the Lippatts, Melvin and Lewis, about 200 yards from the spot where the farmer and his wife said they saw the parked automobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Lippatt each saw two persons in the car but neither could say whether one of them was a child.

DRIVEN TO FARM

Deputy Kindsbatter said he was of the opinion that the captor of Beatrice drove her to the Lippatt farm, carried her into the ravine, attacked her and possibly broke her neck and left her.

The child probably had struggled with him and either her coat was lost while her assailant was carrying her or he had dropped it while going back to his machine, the deputy said.

Kingsbatter judged from the position of the child's head, as the body lay in the ravine, that the neck had been broken. But there were no visible marks to justify this opinion, he said.

Coroner Van Fossan viewed the body, but declined to express an opinion as to the cause of death until he had completed an examination.

HUNT FOR NOBILE STARTS

some point north of Siberia was advanced because of the repetition with its radio call of RAOS of the prefix "AS," assigned by the International Amateur Radio Union for use of Siberian stations.

The message, repeated with infinite trifingual patience from 5:15 a.m. to 7:40 a.m., Pacific Coast time, was:

"SOS ARRO-3 dirigible Italian with Gen. Nobile in disaster. It is equipped to radio on a wave length of 40.45 meters. Please help immediately."

"SOS ASRA03 dirigibl Italia Charles E. Bialack, a San Francisco amateur operator. Other amateurs and the Radio Corporation of America, notified, tuned to the designated wave length and heard the same message.

The final faint whispering from the air gave, in English, the wave length of the Italia's communicating radio as 30.33 meters. Radio men suggested that the dirigible's operator, able to send, but not to receive, was running down the scale of wave lengths in his patient effort to make sure his message was heard, or that with advancing sunlight at the Italia's position, he was decreasing his wave length to insure transmission.

OPERATOR THINKS PLEA RELAYED FROM SIBERIA

PORTLAND (Or.) May 27. (AP)—Edwin Lofquist, an 18-year-old amateur radio operator here, who early today heard on the air an appeal for help for the dirigible Italia, declared his belief that the message was sent from an amateur station at Vladivostok, Siberia.

He believed the message one the Russian amateur had picked up and was relaying to the world, struggling with the Italian and French words in which it was phrased.

STATION SENDING ITALIA PLEA IN VLADIVOSTOK

HARTFORD (Ct.) May 27. (AP)—The American Radio Relay League, which has its headquarters here, said tonight radio station AS-RA03, which was given as the call letters of the station heard sending appeals of help for the dirigible Italia, is listed under the name of a Mr. Golovstchikoff of the laboratory of the far eastern university at Vladivostok, Siberia.

EIGHTEEN MEN ON BOARD HUGE CRAFT AS SHE LEFT

KINGS BAY (Spitzbergen) May 27. (AP)—There were eighteen men on the Italia when she left Kings Bay for the North Pole. Several dogs, including Titina, the little terrier mascot, which flew with the Norge across the pole in 1926, also were aboard.

The personnel consisted of: Gen. Nobile, Capt. A. Mariano, pilot; Capt. Filippo Zappi; Lieut. A. Viglieri; Lieut. Ettore Arduino; Prof. Pontremoli, Dr. Finn Malmgren, Swedish meteorologist; Prof. F. Dehounek, meteorologist; Dr. Ugo Lago, journalist; Giuseppe Biogi, radio operator; Natale Ceccioni, motor chief and Cowani, engineer; Attileo Caratti, Vincenzo Pomella, Armmando Angioletti and Callisto Ciocca, motor men; Renato Allesandrini and Luigi Bellocchi, envelope attendants.

Seven of these, Gen. Nobile, Dr. Malgren, Ceccioni, Arduino, Caratti, Pomella and Allesandrini, were with Amundsen in the 1926 dirigible venture.

Dr. Dehounek was not at first listed in the personnel for the polar flight, but Gen. Nobile gave him permission to go only two hours before the start.

A "hunch" engendered by a message from Gen. Nobile's wife, kept the chaplain of the expedition, Father Gianfranchesci, at Kings Bay. It had been intended that he would go on the Italia to drop on the North Pole the cross intrusted to Gen. Nobile by Pope Pius. But Signora Nobile sent her husband a telegram just before the start begging him to drop the cross himself and saying that this would bring luck to the expedition.

BASE SHIP BORES INTO ICE IN SURVEY FOR RESCUE

KINGS BAY (Spitzbergen) May 27. (AP)—The Citta di Milano, which sailed from Kings Bay this morning on a preliminary survey of rescue conditions in connection with the missing dirigible Italia, reported by wireless at 9 p.m. that she is off Amsterdam Island. The message added that a very strong wind is piling ice floes against the north coast of Spitzbergen.

The vessel intends to ascertain, if possible, the best course for passing the ice barriers. It would have taken her but a few hours to reach the vicinity of Amsterdam Island, but as she had not returned at 5:30 p.m. it is thought she may have proceeded toward Norwegian Island, on the north coast of the archipelago.

It is believed that she would have to take a course to the westward as the ice was moving in that direction. Some of the expedition personnel who were left here think she might be out for the best part of a week.

Aside from a vague, unconfirmed message that some points in America had heard that the Italia had landed somewhere at an untold time, there was no news of the missing dirigible here today.

The weather continued extremely cold, despite some sunshine. There was a cold wind with fog over the mountains to the north.

The report that Capt. Hjalmar Riiser-Larsen, second in command to Gen. Nobile on the 1926 voyage of the Norge, will lead a searching expedition with airplanes, brought the comment that any aviators who undertake such a job will find their task difficult. The regular June fog conditions are now prevalent.

Lack of news of the Italia has stopped much of the activity here. A grim silence has fallen over the little group of Italians. There is no longer any busy military life with words of command sending men in bright uniforms scurrying about on errands. The transportation of tubes of gas and other preparations for the possible needs of the great airship have ceased.

Nevertheless, the Italians remain convinced of the ability of their huge dirigible to remain in the air and eventually reach safety.

Until the departure of the Citta di Milano this morning, her wireless operators spent the entire time in either listening for the Italia or in sending her messages of encouragement. They send out their words of cheer on the bare chance that the dirigible has landed somewhere and is unable to transmit messages from her own wireless equipment.

NORWAY LOSES HOPE AS SILENCE SHROUDS ARCTIC

[Copyright, 1928, Associated Press.]

OSLO (Norway) May 27. (AP)—Any hopes which had been aroused in the early hours of today as the result of vague reports that news of the missing polar airship the Italia had reached Vadsoe or some other Northern Norway point, were completely dashed today by the continued silence of the Arctic.

"No news since Thursday" is still the best that can be said of the unfortunate airship and her devoted crew as the hours pass without the slightest sign from Gen. Nobile, even the most optimistic are losing heart and finding their hopes dwindling to zero. They cannot overlook the slender chances that confront the ill-fated airship with her fuel supply probably exhausted and the craft completely at the mercy of harsh elements in the fog-bound polar regions.

The Geophysical Institute of Tromsoe sent a radio message saying that the Citta di Milano reported at 1 p.m that she still had nothing from the Italia.

The Norwegian government and the Italian representatives here are more than anxious to do anything possible in the way of rescue. The same may be said of the rather numerous experienced Arctic explorers in this city. But always the question confronts them of what is best to do when they are without the slightest hint to guide them as to the direction in which to seek for the missing explorers.

Herein lies the tragedy of the prolonged silence. It was taken to mean either that the Italia's wireless equipment has broken down or that the ship has met with disaster.

Roald Amundsen still pins his hope to the belief that the Italia, although fuelless, may remain in the air for perhaps a month, and, by luck, reach some civilized region.

Whatever plans may be adopted for search, whether by sea or air, cannot be determined for some days as at least a brief interval must be used for organization of any relief measures that may be decided upon.

ALASKA RADIO STATIONS GET NO ITALIA MESSAGES

SEATTLE, May 27. (AP)—Despite a continuous day and night "watch" the six United States naval radio stations of Alaska had heard no word from the Italia late tonight, although the messages constantly being sent out by the Citti Di Milano, mother ship to the dirigible, were being received at short intervals.

HOOVER TO STAY IN WASHINGTON

Secretary's Aides to Handle Convention Campaign

Many Other Candidates Will Go to Kansas City

Politicians Watch Primary in West Virginia

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Herbert Hoover intends to stay more than 1000 miles away from the Republican national convention. He will remain in Washington while the balloting is on, leaving his campaign on the convention floor for the Presidential nomination to a group of lieutenants.

In reaching a decision not to go to Kansas City, Mr. Hoover is taking a course similar to that of Gov. Smith of New York, who has announced that he has no intention of going to Houston to press his fight for the Democratic nomination.

Several other Democratic Presidential aspirants, however, are planning to be on deck when the Houston convention gets under way four weeks from Tuesday, and a number of those who are after the Republican nomination will keep close tab on convention developments by going to Kansas City.

DARK HORSES THERE

Lowden will be there, as will Curtis of Kansas, Watson of Indiana and Borah of Idaho, who will be a delegate, and within range probably also will be a number of "dark horses," most of them holding delegate credentials.

As was the case four years ago when he was nominated for Vice-President at Cleveland, Dawes will be at Marietta, Ohio, attending commencement exercises at his alma mater. President Coolidge has not announced when he will get away for his summer vacation or where he will go but it is his intention to be in Washington during the Kansas City convention at least.

The fight to put Secretary Hoover over will be under the personal direction at Kansas City of James W. Good, his campaign manager, who expects to arrive in the convention city this week in advance of the hearing of delegate contests beginning next Monday. Good is not a delegate, and some other Hoover supporter, perhaps Walter F. Brown of Ohio, will be floor manager for the Commerce Secretary.

Mr. Lowden intends to arrive in Kansas City a week from Saturday. He will have a suite at the Muehlbach Hotel, and there intends to greet delegates and confer with his adherents. His campaign manager, Clarence F. Buck, will be a delegate-at-large from Illinois, and will be on the ground to put up a fight for the former Illinois Governor.

CURTIS'S HOME NEAR BY

Adjournment of Congress this week will enable Senator Curtis to make an early get-away for the convention city which is just across the river from his home State of Kansas. Maneuvers on behalf of the Senate floor leader, whom his friends look on as a suitable compromise candidate, will be in charge of George A. Clark of Topeka.

Senator Watson, who will go into the convention with the solid support of the thirty-three Indiana delegates, will not be a delegate at large as he usually has been in the past. But he will be on hand, perhaps holding a proxy.

Whether Senator Goff of West Virginia, also will be present depends to an extent on the outcome of the Republican primary in his State Tuesday. There he is pitted against Hoover, with nineteen delegates, the last to be chosen, at stake.

In the Democratic primary in West Virginia which also is held Tuesday, Smith and Reed of Missouri will fight it out.

The Republican result will have an effect particularly on the campaign of Hoover, whose managers assert he has nearly enough delegates in the bag to go over on the first ballot.

AERIAL BANDIT HUNTS

BANDITS' TRAIL AGAIN RED

Two Mistakenly Shot by Sheriff's Men Seeking Colorado Bank Robber Gang

NORTON (Kan.) May 27. (AP)—Mistaken for members of the (Colo.) bank-robber gang, L. L. Robinson, 34 years of age, man of Hill City, Kan., and Carl T. Peterson, farmer and former were shot and seriously wounded by Sheriff's officers here last night. Both are in a hospital here.

The officers who did the shooting had been told by a farmer boy that "the bank robbers tried to hold me up." Sheriff Jones and three deputies drove at once to the spot where the boy said he saw the robbers. Robinson and Peterson, who happened to be on the highway when the officers arrived, were not recognized in the darkness and the men in the Sheriff's car started shooting.

Robinson received a shotgun charge in the spine and Peterson was shot in the arm with a charge of buckshot.

SEARCH CONTINUES IN BAD-LAND REGION

LAMAR (Colo.) May 27. (AP)—Search for the four bandits who robbed the Lamar First National Bank last Wednesday and slain the president, cashier and a physician, and kidnaped a teller, continued today in the Bad-land region and bordering territory in Kansas, Colorado and Oklahoma, with no definite clew as to the whereabouts of the quartet.

It was reported here late last night that ten witnesses to the robbery have identified a photograph of Charles Chester Clinton, said to be an ex-convict from Oklahoma, as one of the bandits. Oklahoma authorities are checking prison records for a possible clew in this connection.

Peace officers here believe the robbers have escaped the net established by posses, individuals and airplane searchers since the robbery, and expect the men to be found in some eastern or Pacific Coast city.

NEW YORK, May 27. (Exclusive) Col. William Breckenridge, 81 years of age, one of the last of the officers of the law in the bad old days of the West, voiced a protest today against sensationalism in parallels between the Lamar bank robbers and gangsters of the gunmen of the present.

Col. Breckenridge, who is sixty-seven years of age and has been chief of the United States marshal service, stone, Ariz., and special agent the Southern Pacific lines is visiting in New York.

"These Colorado killers are not like New York gangsters," he said. "In the old-time gangs, if a man had murderers and killers, they didn't kill just for the pleasure of killing and shoot down from ambush."

...Discusses Survey of Foreign Investing

...Almost Balanced by Incoming Gold

...Millions Go Overseas for Bootleg Rum

...HINGTON, May 27. (AP)—A ...considerable shrinkage in the ...ual total of American invest... was disclosed today ...ational Commerce Depart... ...ability of the nation's economic ...ure for 1927.

...e total of American cap... ...annually invested abroad for ...ar found to be $1,976,000,000. ...in the same year, with less ad... ...foreigners invested in ...United States the huge sum of ...in the form of new ...and the repayment of private ...ebts.

...Hoover, surveying the ...ary estimated that with the reduction in the year's American investment abroad which had to be made in the nominal totals to give effect to refunding, commissions and discounts, the nation's net export of capital in 1927 was only about $671,000,000, a figure much smaller than suspected.

Along with this, another huge figure against the United States was found in the estimate that this country's tourists abroad in 1927 spent $617,000,000, money that had to be furnished from this country.

Both of the figures given were derived in the attempt to determine just what payments the United States received in the course of its international business last year, and what payments it made, not alone for the visible trade in commodities and gold, but also on the "invisible" exchange, which includes foreign investments, tourist expenditures and a thousand other items.

The compilation, Secretary Hoover observes, "is perhaps the most important single computation in the entire field of its international economic relations."

Taking into consideration all items, the survey calculated that during 1927, the United States furnished the world abroad with gold, goods and services amounting to $9,115,000,000. The world furnished the United States with similar items to a total of $9,121,000,000.

The accounts do not actually balance, but the $6,000,000 difference, the survey concluded, represents unavoidable error and the result of untraced transactions.

SMUGGLING, TOO

For 1926, a similar survey calculated that the United States gained credits abroad to a total of $8,713,000,000, while the world abroad gained credit within the United States to a more than balancing total of $8,899,000,000.

In tracing out the complicated balances of international payments, the Commerce Department took into consideration not only the shipments of goods and the sales of securities, but also the smuggling of liquors, narcotics and similar unlawful operations.

In 1926 it was estimated that the nation incurred a debt abroad of $40,000,000 for its bootleg-liquor supply, but this year the report said that "certain public officers found ground to object to such publicity." Consequently the whole set of unlawful foreign trading items are lumped, and it is concluded that during 1927 the outer world obtained a credit of $189,000,000 against this country by such operations. This was $9,000,000 greater than the like total for 1926, but no official view is expressed as to how much liquor smuggling had to do with the increase.

GUIDE TO CREDIT

"The broad purposes of the survey are, of course, to obtain a clearer understanding of the larger international transactions," Mr. Hoover said in a foreword to the study, "to discover how much we paid out nationally and how much has been paid to us. From it we are able to form sounder judgments as to the situation of foreign nations, as to the forces that are likely to effect the stability of the currency and foreign exchanges, and as to many other factors. . . .

"Another of the important disclosures from this study is the fact that the capacity of foreign people to purchase American goods or to repay obligations to the United States is enhanced by the sum of approximately $900,000,000 through the $617,000,000 expended by our tourists abroad, the $206,000,000 remitted by immigrants in the United States to relatives at home, the $43,000,000 of American charitable contributions to foreign countries, and our payments to other countries of $32,000,000 for freight.

"These sums almost exactly offset the net amount paid to us by foreigners for interest on their private debts and upon their war debts to our government."

(Copyright, 1928, by New York Times.)

LONDON, May 27. (Exclusive)—Count Hermann Keyserling believes that America is the least materialistic country on earth, and insists that money means less in the United States than anywhere else.

The distinguished German philosopher has been in England three weeks looking back on his American experiences from an Old World vantage point and writing the first chapters of his new book to be called "America Set Free."

Before leaving he said it was necessary to explode at least one wide-spread European illusion concerning America.

"America has no repressed desires as far as money is concerned," he said, using the Freudian analogy. "America admits frankly that it would like to have its money and sets out to get it. But when it has money it gives it away or throws it away on an unprecedented scale."

Cleaner Takes "Scarface Al" Into Partnership

CHICAGO, May 27. (Exclusive)—Alphonse Capone, the same "Scarface Al" not so long ago the kingpin of the city's bootleggers and vice lords, and who recently was invited to get out of Los Angeles by the police, has been adopted by the cleaners' and dyers' business, according to information from the Employers' Association of Chicago today. Capone is now the invited partner of a leading business man who for years fought the threats and violence and extortions of racketeers, and who, it is revealed, has decided to hire a devil to fight the devil.

And as a result there is a possibility of civil war among the factions of the cleaners' and dyers' trade which, according to G. L. Hostetter, secretary of the Employers' Association, may outdo in violence the somewhat recent beer wars. Gangsters are in all the forces now drawn up for combat, competition for services of the best gunmen is keen, while the law, it is said, stands idle.

PRIVATE ARMIES

Still more alarming, to Mr. Hostetter's view, is this new tendency of big business, dismayed at the impotency of the prosecuting forces in Chicago against racketeers.

"There is much to tell anent the disclosures by the Employers' Association, and perhaps the first to be heralded should be the advent of Scarface Al.

Capone now appears as a principal partner in the Sanitary Cleaning Shops, Inc., with a plant nearing completion at Prairie avenue and East Sixty-third street.

The patron of big business introducing Scarface Al is Morris Becker, for forty-two years a leading dyer and cleaner in Chicago, who coined the advertising phrase, "Becker—He knocks the spots."

WORM TURNS AT LAST

Mr. Becker explains, according to Mr. Hostetter, that for ten years his places have been bombed and burned, his employees slugged, robbed and threatened by lawless competitors. And no one has been punished. Now, says Mr. Becker, that's all over. He has gone into business with Scarface Al Capone. Capone has enlisted his Mafian tribe into the firm.

And since that new partnership became known in the trade, nary a threat has come to him, Mr. Becker says, and not even a whisper of a bombing, a beating or a shakedown. He refers all comers to Capone.

When it was first learned that Becker was opening a new shop, and that Scarface Al was a new kind of "angel" for it, one Max Krauss, legal adviser for the Master Cleaners' and Dyers' Association, which had been the nemesis of Becker, went to Capone and asked what it was all about, according to Mr. Hostetter's information.

"JUST START SOMETHING"

"Listen, brother," it is told Capone said to Krauss, "as the moving spirit in the Master Cleaners' and Dyers' Association you have had things pretty soft. Now, I'm in on the other side, see? Monkey with my business and see what happens."

Attorney Walter G. Walker, counsel for the Employers' Association, reported to the association that papers of incorporation were taken out on April 25, 1928, showing as the incorporators of the company Alphonse Capone, John Guzik and Maurice Cowen. Louis Cowen, publisher of the Cicero Tribune and professional bondsman for the Capone tribe, and Joseph Lustfield, town attorney of Cicero, appear as directors.

Capone, according to Mr. Walker, invested $35,000 in the corporation. In addition to Capone and Guzik the "protectors" of the firm's prosperity include Philip D'Andrea of the notorious family of feudists, and Frank Rio. The foregoing names to those "in the know" are something to conjure with.

In a statement made to Attorney Walker and given out by the Employers' Association, Mr. Becker avowed that:

SITTING PRETTY, NOW

"I now have no need of the State's Attorney, Police Department or the Employers' Association. I have the best protection in the world."

Mr. Becker told the association that he intended to slash prices, which, he said, had been boosted to profiteering heights by the Master Cleaners' and Dyers' Association.

Which brings on the next chapter.

The Master Cleaners' and Dyers' Association has recently been charged by Ben Kornick, president of the rival Cleaners' and Dyers' Association, with responsibility for assaults on Central drivers and burning of three of their trucks. Kornick swore out warrants against Albert Doris, an official of the association, and charged that many gunmen were employed to stifle competition.

UNIONS CONTROL

Four years the Master Cleaners' and Dyers' Association has sought to control the industry in Chicago. At the head of it now is F. W. Crowley. Allied with the association are the Cleaners' and Dyers' and Pressers' Union No. 17,742, of which Ben Abrams is president; the Laundry and Dye House Chauffeurs', Drivers' and Helpers' Union, of which John G. Clay is secretary-treasurer, and the Retail Cleaners' and Dyers' Union, of which Sam Rubin is the head and in which 10,000 tailors are members, paying $2 a month dues and $10 annual assessments.

Through the allied unions Crowley as the head is able to paralyze a rebellious tradesman, the Employers' Association charges.

Now it appears, according to Attorney Walker, that the various factions in the industry have all taken to arms and have been scurrying about for good gunmen, Becker landing the big prize in Capone, the lawyer said.

"Becker's old company is to be run by a Michigan company which has employed a two-gun gangster and several aids to protect their interests," Mr. Walker declared. "I am informed that the Central Cleaners and Dyers, after many vain attempts to bring their oppressors to justice, has been negotiating with Abe Schaffner, another notorious gunman.

"Big Tim Murphy, who is seldom long without a racket, is trying to muscle his way into the Retail Cleaners' and Dyers' Union. All places are rapidly being filled—none but the surest shooting gunmen need apply."

Joliet Rejoices in Bond Victory

JOLIET (Ill.) May 27. (AP)—Celebration over the victory of the Joliet High School in the Class A finals of the national band contest continued until an early hour today.

Since last Thursday thousands of youthful musicians from all sections of the country have filled the air with music. Last night residents of Joliet, assisted by visiting high-school students, rent the air with sounds not so melodious. It was Joliet's third successive victory and the national trophy awarded by the National Bureau for the Advancement of Music becomes a permanent possession.

The other finalists finished in the following order: Senn High School, Chicago; Modesto, Cal.; Gary, Ind.; Hammond, Ind.; Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Still Making Poison Seized

LOVELOCK (Nev.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Said by Federal dry agents to have caused one death and poisoned several men and women, a still using water from an arsenical well has been seized near Lovelock. Two men, giving the names of M. Diaz and R. Rhodes, are under arrest, and may be forced to face a murder charge. The still was made entirely of iron, and was described as "a death vat," by the raiding officers. The liquor was found highly poisonous, and the death of one Lovelock man has been traced to the lethal brew. Several persons who purchased the liquor are under care of physicians.

CROW GETS VOTE FOR NEBRASKA STATE BIRD

COLUMBUS (Neb.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Who would choose the crow for Nebraska's State bird? Hunted as an enemy of growing crops, the bird has found a staunch supporter in the person of one Platte county school pupil, who picked the crow to be the State's future State bird. The vote in the county was taken as a part of a State-wide program of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs to determine what feathered being is the most popular in the State. As in most communities, the robin came in for the highest vote. In the rural schools, it was given 636 votes, the house wren received 265, the meadow-lark 281, the bob-white 171, the brown thrasher 49, the canary 9, swallow 3, bluejay 2, and one each for the blue-bird, cardinal and crow. In the city schools, the robin won 386 supporters, nearly half the total vote cast.

COAST SURVEY WILL HAVE NEW EQUIPMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (Exclusive)—The California division of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey will have the latest devices for making soundings and surveys when its new ship Hydrographer, soon to be constructed, is ready for service, Commander Paul Whitney, in charge of the division, announced today. A $400,000 appropriation has been made for the craft and plans for her construction are in Commander Whitney's hands. Contractors are now figuring her cost. The vessel will be 167½ feet long, thirty-one and a half feet beam and eighteen feet deep, with Diesel-electric propulsion.

DECREASE IN REALTY BROKERS' LICENSES

SACRAMENTO, May 27. (AP)—Revenue from brokers' licenses issued by the State Real Estate Department has been cut in half, T. A. Kelly, chief deputy of the department, reports. Approximately 12,000 brokers renewed licenses during the first three months of 1927 at $10 each. As many renewed this year at the $5 fee provided by amendment to the Real Estate Act. About 26,000 salesmen have secured licenses to operate during 1928, as compared with 40,000 secured during the whole of 1927.

MOTOR BUS SERVICE WILL AID AIR MAIL

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Motor bus service, designed to hasten deliveries and collections in Central Texas and to make the air mail service worth more to smaller towns, will be put into operation out of Austin, Tex., this week, under a temporary contract to be supplanted by a permanent one August 1.

GRAVES SHOW SCOTCH SAVING

Two Families Use Tombstone Which is Engraved on Both Sides

ABERDEEN (Scotland) May 27. (Exclusive) — The canny Scot practices economy even unto the grave. Tombstones in a cemetery here are used on one side by one family and on the other by another family, thus cutting down the cost of the tombstone.

"I hope you don't call that meanness," declares Miss E. Maclarty, president of the Educational Institute of Scotland. "That is only economy raised to a very high and dignified level."

THREE BISHOPS CONSECRATED

Methodists in Spectacular Ceremony

Conference Yet to Make Assignments

Important Reports Await Consideration

KANSAS CITY, May 27. (AP)—Consecration of the three newly-elected bishops of the Methodist-Episcopal Church in a spectacular ceremony here today climaxed the four weeks' session of the quadrennial general conference which concludes at noon Tuesday. The conference convened the 1st inst.

In an impressive laying on of hands Bishops Raymond J. Wade of Chicago and James C. Baker of Urbana, Ill., and Missionary-Bishop Edwin P. Lee of Singapore, were consecrated to their Episcopal duties before a record crowd in Convention Hall.

Assignment of the thirty-three effective bishops to residences throughout the world remains as the principal business of the conference, though scores of important reports still are to be discussed.

Dr. Merton S. Rice, chairman of the subcommittee of the episcopacy committee, which assigns bishops, said his committee likely will report late Monday night or Tuesday morning.

His committee's work is greatly complicated, he said, by the sudden dramatic election Friday night, after a three-day election deadlock, of Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary to India, to the episcopacy, and Dr. Jones's even more dramatic resignation last night, which threw the conference into near-confusion at the eleventh hour before consecration.

Following a hasty session of the episcopacy committee, the conference voted to accept the resignation and consolidate the Manila-Singapore areas under the church's only missionary bishop, Dr. Lee, thus eliminating one Episcopal residence and reducing the number of bishops.

Bootleg Blamed in Fatal Fight

SAN JOSE, May 27. (AP)—Robert Hill, Jr., 26 years of age, of 491 Staten avenue, Oakland, died at a local hospital this morning of a fractured skull suffered yesterday morning at an asserted bootleg resort on Amaden avenue, just south of San Jose.

Clarence Leddy, proprietor, and Fred True, bartender of the resort, were arrested yesterday on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon after Albert H. Webb, Hill's companion, went to the District Attorney's office here and accused the pair of beating Hill with a grubbing hoe during a fight. The pair are at liberty on $6000 bail.

INQUIRY TURNS TO PROPAGANDA

Utilities Publicity Bodies to be Under Spotlight

Federal Commission Plans Several Hearings

New York, Minnesota and Colorado Listed

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Publicity organizations in New York, Colorado and Minnesota will be placed under the spotlight by the Federal Trade Commission this week as it resumes its inquiry tomorrow into the financing of power utilities.

Of particular interest is the inquiry to be made of concerns in New York where Gov. Smith has upon occasions advocated harnessing some of the waters of the St. Lawrence River by the State in order to reduce the cost of power.

Charles H. B. Chaplin of New York, secretary of the Empire State Gas and Electric Association, and Fred W. Crone, director of the New York State Committee on Public Utility Information, are to be questioned as to the activities of their organizations tomorrow.

SCHOOL ANGLE TO FORE

Robert E. Healy, chief counsel for the commission, will seek to learn what efforts, if any, have been made to influence legislation, and will investigate the use of publicity in schools and colleges.

John W. Lapham of Minneapolis, executive secretary of the North Central Public Utilities Information Bureau, is to testify Tuesday about power interests in his territory.

Great interest has been shown in utilities activities in Rocky Mountain States in view of the Boulder Canyon dam project and these will be disclosed Thursday when representatives of utility publicity organizations in the West will be quizzed.

WEST TO BE HEARD

George V. Lewis of Denver, executive manager of the Rocky Mountain Committee on Public Utilities Information, which takes in several States, is scheduled to be the first witness. He will be folowed by O. A. Weller of Denver, secretary-treasurer of the Rocky Mountain division of the National Electric Light Association, and secretary of the Colorado Utilities Association.

During the hearings, Dr. Theodore J. Grayson of Philadelphia, who was mentioned in the testimony as having been employed by utility interests to deliver several speeches, will make a statement to correct what he feels were some inaccuracies in testimony about him.

No hearing will be held Memorial Day.

RATTLESNAKE AS WATCHDOG

Texas Merchant Ties Reptile Inside Front Door of His Store

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 27. (Exclusive)—M. J. Perrin found that the door of his store in the outskirts of San Antonio had been tampered with when he went to open it the other morning. He sent into the country and got a five-foot rattlesnake which he tethered in front of the door upon closing up in the evening. He believes that the venomous reptile will serve the purpose of watch dog. The rattlesnake lies coiled upon the doorstep ready to strike with its fangs any intruder who may venture too near at night.

BISHOP BARK ARRIVES AT RENO DOCKS

Daughter of George Gould Places Seal of Certainity on Divorce-Plan Gossip

NEW YORK, May 27. (Exclusive) The arrival of Gloria Gould Bishop in Reno, America's divorce capital, apparently puts the seal of certainty on gossip that the youthful daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, sister of Lady Decies, and wife of wealthy young Henry A. Bishop, Jr., is through with marriage.

Afte. repeated denials of a break betwee the young Bishops, it was broadly hinted for more than a year, following a Gould family council in Paris, where Gloria was living with her 2-year-old daughter, that if Bishop would not go to France and fulfill the requirements necessary to obtain a quiet French decree his wife would pursue her ambition to be free by returning home and filing suit in America.

Young Mrs. Bishop arrived in Reno last week. She has refused to comment on her residence there or her plans, but those who know of Gloria's pronounced preference for her Parisian apartment are aware that she is not in Reno for her health.

It was in September, 1923, that young Gloria, then 17 years of age, and Henry Bishop were married. Shortly afterward Gloria startled society by ouening a school for dancing. Then the Bishopses' baby daughter was born, March 12, 1925.

"My wife will do no more dancing for six months," said young Bishop. But Gloria was dancing in less than half the time.

Two Injured in Train Accident

WENATCHEE (Wash.) May 27. (AP) Two men were injured and several other persons thrown from their seats when the rear trucks of the observation car of Great Northern eastbound passenger train No. 4 went off the tracks near here today. Seepage of water from the Columbia River, which is out of its banks, was believed to have undermined the roadbed, and when the engine passed over the spot the earth gave way, leaving the tracks suspended over the hole. The men injured were David Gunnell, recently of Everett, and Paul Hendrick of Basin, Wyo.

OBSERVE MEMORIAL DAY IN VISALIA

VISALIA, May 27.—Plans for observing Memorial Day in Visalia were outlined by C. L. Bradley, commander of the American Legion post, committee in charge of arrangements. The program will follow much the general lines of such events, opening with a parade from the Municipal Auditorium to the city cemetery at 9:30 in the morning. Legion and Auxiliary members, National Guardsmen and members of other patriotic and civic organizations will be in the line of march.

Ceremonies at the cemetery will be brief but impressive with taps and a rifle salute by a picked firing squad closing the exercises in memory of the hero dead.

MOUNTAIN CAMP OPEN FOR SEASON

SPRINGVILLE, May 27.—Camp Wishon, a Sierra resort east of here, opened officially for the season yesterday. Clark Standiford and F. E. Bowden are new proprietors and have made a number of improvements in the resort, which has long been known as a packing-station into the inner recesses of the mountains. The water, electric light and telephone systems have been improved and a general renovation made in the place to render it pleasant and inviting to the public. An ice-making and refrigerating plant has been installed. There is plenty of fishing near the resort, according to the proprietors.

NEIGHBORS STAGE ANNUAL PLAY DAY

TULARE, May 27.—Neighbors of woodcraft throughout the San Joaquin Valley, numbering several hundred, assembled at Mooney Grove today for their annual picnic. Their families and friends were guests. The morning activities featured a program by the juvenile organization of woodcraft which also staged several stunts and contests for which prizes were awarded. Following the picnic luncheon beneath the spreading oaks, the afternoon hours were devoted to games, sports and other forms of amusement.

MOLDERS' CASE MAY COLLAPSE

Two Face Bar on Murder Charges Today

Key Witness Missing and Dismissal Likely

Judge Hints Disappearance Needs Investigation

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (Exclusive)—Absence of Frank Shaner, key witness for the prosecution in trials growing out of the molders' strike cases, may lead to dismissal of murder charges against two defendants, it was indicated today. The matter comes before Superior Judge Conlan tomorrow.

The five defendants are Frank Brown and Robert Burton, who are charged with murder and conspiracy, and Earl Parente, William Allen and Tony Mello, charged with conspiracy. All are members of the molders' union.

OTHERS FREED

Shaner's testimony is held vital to their successful prosecution. His absence recently resulted in an instructed acquittal of other defendants on assault charges and in view of the virtual collapse of the prosecution case because he cannot be found. Judge Conlan said:

"If nothing is shown to change my mind, the charges will be dismissed when the case is called tomorrow morning."

In so doing, however, Judge Conlan suggested that the circumstances surrounding Shaner's disappearance should be taken to the grand jury.

TWO KILLED

He referred to the results of the molders' strike war, in which two were killed and three crippled for life, in addition to the infliction of less severe injuries on a score of others, and said:

"There is no question of the committing of these crimes, nor is there any question that punishment should be inflicted upon the guilty. However, the circumstances of the case make it apparent that the charges cannot be prosecuted."

REMOVE OLD BUILDING

BAKERSFIELD, May 27.—Work of clearing the ground of residences at the corner of Thirteenth and F streets to make way for the new $100,000 unit of the Kern County Union High School, has been started. Several old buildings on the site have recently been sold by the trustees to be moved away.

FALL INTO RESERVOIR IS FATAL

Ten-Year-Old is Drowned in Artificial Lake Near Tipton

TULARE, May 27.—The body of Mary Jean Whittaker, 10 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E Whittaker of Tulare, lies at Rice's funeral parlors here, having been recovered late yesterday by J. H. Harrison of Tulare from fifteen feet of water in a reservoir near Tipton in which she was drowned.

Playing on the edge of the reservoir in shallow water with several companions, the child walked to the other end of the pool on the bank, suddenly lost her footing and slipped from sight. It was some time later before the body was found lodged against the edge of the bank about ten feet under water. Harrison made three attempts before locating it. More than a dozen school children from here, accompanied by Mrs. George H. Schrack of Tulare, were in the swimming party.

Physicians were summoned and all efforts made to resuscitate the child proved unavailable. She is believed to have been held head first in the soft mud of the side of the bank. Besides her parents she leaves a brother and sister. Funeral services have not been arranged.

NEW OIL LEASE SUITS FORECAST

Investigator at Salt Creek Heard by Senate

Bell Confident Cancellation Moves Warranted

Dummy Locations and Stock Juggling Charged

WASHINGTON, May 27. (AP)—Confidence that investigation of the Mid-West Oil Company leases in the Salt Creek (Wyoming) field would warrant government suits for cancellation, was expressed to the Senate Public Lands Committee yesterday by Robert C. Bell, former special assistant to the Attorney-General.

Bell's report after an investigation made in 1918-20 charged dummy locations and that interlocking stock ownership gave the Mid-West interests actual benefit of acreage in excess of legal limits. The presentation of this report in the Senate and a similar finding by A. C. Bouton, also a former Department of Justice agent, prompted the resolution under which the committee is acting.

At yesterday's hearing, Bell did not materially amplify his original charges, which were considered by the Department of the Interior before the challenged leases were authorized in 1921 by the then Secretary, John Barton Payne. He argued that the existence of a record of contracts between William G. Henshaw and William N. Pitchugh, controlling the group making the original locations later acquired by the Mid-West interests, under which Henshaw was to receive three-fourths of the property for financing the work, was sufficient notice to their assignees that the other names used in the location filings in order to obtain large acreage were in reality dummies.

Bell was told by Senator Walsh that the committee was planning to scan closely how it happened that the Indiana company, through the Mid-West Refining Company, came to enjoy any sort of oil monopoly.

Old Plainsman Peace Officer in His Own Town

JAL (N. M.) May 27. (Exclusive) "Two Gun" Dick Herwig, owner of the townsite of Jal, the new oil town, has not found it necessary to appoint any peace officer to keep peace and order among the hundreds of colorful oil field workers and camp followers who throng the streets. Herwig does his own law enforcing. He has spent his life upon the frontier and is rough and ready whenever the occasion demands quick action.

He does not use the two guns he carries except in cases of emergency. Even then he first tries the man-handling method. Only a few nights ago a half-dozen young men got into a row and began shooting at each other in the street. Herwig heard the noise, got out of bed and walked into the midst of the trouble, dressed only in his night shirt. He disarmed the belligerents one by one, and when any objection was offered, he promptly knocked the protestant down with his fist.

It is more than seventy miles from Jal to the nearest railroad point. The town has grown almost like magic, due to the big business in goods and supplies which the new oil field near here has created.

Dry Activities Bring Boycott

SUPERIOR (Wis.) May 27.—Business men whose wives are members of the W.C.T.U. are being boycotted because of the organization's too zealous espousal of the dry laws, it was admitted by members of the Douglas County W.C.T.U. who met here to consider ways and means to alleviate the situation.

While no remedy was suggested and action to help bring back the business was nil, numerous complaints were added. Wet sympathisers not only have taken their trade elsewhere but there campaign has resulted in many members of the W.C.T.U. dropping their affiliation with the organization and abandoning efforts to obtain local enforcement of the dry laws, it was admitted.

BONUS RECEIVED BY GOLD-STAR MOTHER

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 27. (Exclusive)—The first San Antonio gold-star mother to receive the $60 bonus granted by the Federal government to mothers of men killed during the World War is Mrs. Antonio Barclay, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Sabra Whipple, chairman of the gold-star division, San Antonio chapter, American War Mothers. To date about ten gold-star mothers have been located in San Antonio and vicinity who are eligible for the trip to France to be given by the government to mothers and wives of men killed during the war who were buried overseas, Mrs. Whipple said.

MAINE SCHOOLS SAID FREE OF PROPAGANDA

AUGUSTA (Me.) 27. (Exclusive) Dr. Augustus O. Thomas, State Commissioner of Education, stated that no Maine schools are being subjected to propaganda by public utilities organizations. No Maine utilities have asked permission to introduce such matter into the schools, according to Mr. Thomas. Dr. Thomas's attention has been called to a newspaper report from Washington, D. C., stating that a letter had been sent to heads of school systems in several States by J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the National Education Association, suggesting that investigation be made into alleged public utilities activities in schools.

BOY, EIGHTEEN, TWICE WEDDED

Married First at 16 Years of Age, Divorced, and Takes Second Wife

EAST ROCHESTER (N. H.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Only two months from the time he was granted a divorce from his wife, when he was reputed to be the youngest husband to be granted a decree in Strafford county, Bert Garland, 18 years of age, of East Rochester has been married again, according to the return of the license made public at the City Clerk's office. His present wife was Miss Grace Rippett of East Rochester, to whom he was married by Rev. Walter Reynolds, pastor of the Baptist Church at Gonic.

When only 16 Garland married Miss Stella Hall, 18, of Dover. They had one child, a daughter. In March Justice Burke, sitting in Superior Court, granted Garland a divorce from his young wife on a statutory charge.

Mother Tabby Adopts Pigeon

ARKADELPHIA (Ark.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Hugh Atwood, linotype operator for the Siftings Herald, has a cat, and the cat has a big family of recently arrived kittens. But that didn't keep the cat from adopting a young orphaned pigeon that fluttered down from somewhere the other day and took up abode with the cat family. Although it is a cat's instinct to seize all tender feathered things for food, especially when raising a large family, this tabby adopted the birdling waif, taking it into the nursery and placing it with the kittens. Although the bill of fare is different for the kittens and the squab, the Atwood family is supplying the food for the latter, while the old cat is giving the little bird her mother love.

Convict's Auto Jaunts at End

OAKLAND, May 27. (AP)—Arthur Antoine, convicted of murdering his wife by a jury which recommended life imprisonment, is not going to get any more automobile rides in search for the hiding place of his wife's body.

Alameda county officials, after a fruitless trip on which they were accompanied yesterday by Antoine to the thickets of a Calaveras county ranch, the home of the 18-year-old Lyla Stovall, whom he married four days after he killed his first wife, announced their belief that he has been telling fictitious stories about the disposal of the body in order to get away from the jail's comfortless confines.

Hold-up Victim and Bandit Die

DALLAS (Tex.) May 27. (AP)—Ronald L. Combs, 32 years of age, superintendent of the Piggly Wiggly stores in Dallas, and an unidentified robber, about 25, were shot to death during an attempted hold-up of one of the stores here last night.

NITTI ATTACKS FASCIST RULE

Ex-Premier Launches War Against Mussolini

Violence and Madness Rule Italy, He Declares

Life Unbearable and Whole Nation Called Prison

(Copyright, 1928, by Chicago Tribune.)

PARIS, May 27. (Exclusive)—In a violent verbal attack on Premier Mussolini today, Francesco Nitti, exiled former Italian Premier, gave what his conspirator friends assert is the signal for a concerted offensive against Fascism both within and without.

To what degree this sweeping indictment of all things Fascist will be listened to in Italy, if it is heard at all, is problematical, but it is well understood in Paris.

WORSE THAN RUSSIA

Asserting that it will be better to abolish the Italian constitution outright than so pointedly to ignore it, Signor Nitti declares the newest development of Fascism leaves the country in the hands of an organized minority who have destroyed local liberties that even Czarist Russia respected.

The King, who swore to uphold the constitution, must bear the blame, Signor Nitti declared.

"Even the tiniest children in Italy are brought up in a cult of violence and madness," Signor Nitti charges.

The Balilla and Piccolo, he characterizes as "utterly monstrous conspiracies to corrupt minors."

"Italy has become a vast prison, where reason laughs no longer, where one lives no longer except in the starkest misery that, despite false economic information spread in Europe and America, is becoming daily unbearable. Torture has been revived. The state reneges on its financial obligations. Bolshevist methods, applied backwards, have done this to a noble country with thirty centuries of glorious history."

But, once the Fascist regime has fallen, Signor Nitti warns the rest of the world, no succeeding government will recognize a single obligation incurred by the regime that he says is entirely illegal.

"I am warning the world that we will pay no debts or respect no concessions or engagements contracted by Premier Mussolini," he concluded.

POWDER PUFF LANDS SAILOR IN LOCK-UP

NEW YORK, May 27. (Exclusive) A powder puff landed Eugene Wiss, seaman, in jail today charged with stealing a suit of clothes from George Talbot, another sailor. Talbot identified his suit by the powder puff in a pocket.

JUGO-SLAV KING UP ALL NIGHT TWIRLING DIALS OF HIS RADIO

BELGRADE, May 27. (AP)—King Alexander of Jugo-Slavia is known in the Balkans as "The Radio King." He has installed a powerful radio receiving apparatus in each of his six palaces in Jugo-Slavia and often he sits up until 4 o'clock in the morning trying to snatch some American station out of the ether. So far he has been unable to log a United States station.

His wife, Queen Marie, often must drive him from the set that he may get a few hours' sleep.

One of his delights is to listen to the propaganda broadcast by the Communist International at Moscow. Having been educated in Petrograd, Alexander understands Russian perfectly.

Soon Alexander intends to install a sending set so that he can converse at will with his brother monarchs of Europe.

London Shocked by Near Poverty of Lord Asquith

LONDON, May 7. (AP)—England received something of a shock on learning today that the late Lord Oxford and Asquith, one-time Premier, who devoted his life to politics, left an estate of only about $45,000, and that he was relieved of financial worry during his last days by the beneficence of friends.

INTEREST GREATER IN THIS YEAR'S FAIR

SACRAMENTO, May 27. (AP)—Greater interest is being taken by California as a whole in the 1928 fair than in any previous year of the exposition, Charles W. Paine, secretary, said today. He based his statement on the number of entries already received by the various departments. To date thirty-seven counties have reserved space in the horticultural building for exhibits. Reservations of space in the commercial and industrial divisions also have set a new advance record.

TEN THOUSAND SAIL TO EUROPE

Nine Liners Crowded With World Notables

Leviathan Departs With 1300 Passengers

French Boat Held Up Hour for San Franciscans

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—The summer rush to Europe got under way today with more than 10,000 passengers, including many notables of business, diplomacy, the stage and screen, aboard nine liners.

Heading this mighty armada was the United States liner Leviathan with about 1300 passengers, and the Italian liner Conte Grande with 1365.

The France of the French Line, scheduled to sail at 12:30 o'clock this morning, was held up one hour to accommodate a party of twenty persons from San Francisco delayed in reaching New York. They arrived at 1:10 a.m., and were taken to the dock in a special bus provided by the French Line to speed their arrival.

BOY BANDIT SENTENCED

PORTLAND (Me.) May 27. (Exclusive)—A prison sentence of one to two years on a charge of breaking into a gun shop and stealing three revolvers was imposed on Ralph Frisco, 21 years of age, alleged leader of a local gang of boy robbers, in Superior Court. He pleaded guilty after abandoning plans for trial. Two of his associates got terms of two years each last week.

Much Physical Pain Follows Operation

Made Fortune in St. Louis Candy Company

PASADENA, May 27.—Walter W. Candy, wealthy St. Louis business man, committed suicide at his home here today by closing the doors of his garage at 818 South Oak Knoll avenue and inhaling the gases from the exhaust pipe of his two limousines, police reported.

Mr. Candy dressed at 8 a.m. this morning and starting the motors of the cars, lay down on the garage floor until the carbon monoxide fumes caused him to lapse into unconsciousness. Detective Sergeants Collins and Cropsey stated in their report.

Mrs. Candy awakened at 7 a.m. and hearing the noise of the racing motors, she opened the garage door. She managed to drag her husband to the lawn and summoned a physician, who was unable to revive him.

She declared that Mr. Candy had suffered intense pain following a recent operation and that he had stated on several occasions that he had only a short time to live.

He was a native of England and was 58 years of age at the time of his death. Mr. Candy was the founder of the Busy-Bee Confectionery Company of St. Louis, Mo.

Besides the widow, he leaves two sons, Walter W. Candy, Jr., and William Candy, both students at Princeton University, and one daughter, Peggy Candy, 6 years of age. He leaves three brothers, Gilbert, Joseph and Will Candy of St. Louis.

The funeral arrangements will be announced by Turner and Stevens Company. No inquest will be held.

Ontario Youth in Third Fight for Freedom

ONTARIO, May 27.—His third fight for freedom will be launched Monday by F. J. Hudson, Ontario youth, twice convicted on a robbery charge, when his second appeal is reviewed in Appellate Court in Los Angeles.

Hudson was convicted March 1, 1926, on a charge of first-degree robbery in connection with the holding up of Floyd Sabin, Upland service-station operator.

He appealed and the court conviction was reversed and a second trial followed after a long delay, during which time Hudson was held in San Quentin prison. His second trial resulted in another conviction, however, this time on a lesser degree robbery charge.

In seeking a second appeal, A. S. Maloney, Hudson's attorney, contends that Hudson should have either been convicted on a first-degree burglary charge or acquitted.

Sabin was robbed of $89 by a pair of bandits who used a gun in the crime. One of the $1 bills taken from Sabin bore a splotch of red ink, which led to Hudson's arrest, as Sabin testified the bill came from a drawer in the service station into which red ink had dripped when a bottle on the desk was upset.

The dollar bill was sent to Sabin by Hudson to settle a small bill, it was testified.

COMPLETE COURSE AT WHITTIER

Largest Class in History of Quaker College Graduates Thursday

WHITTIER, May 27. — Plans are complete for the twenty-fourth annual commencement exercises at Whittier College when the largest number of students ever graduated from the Quaker school are to receive their diplomas. There are fifty-six in the graduating class.

Commencement exercises are to be held in the First Friends Church Thursday morning, June 7, at 10:30 and the Rt. Rev. W. Bertrand Stevens, Ph.D., D.D., bishop of th Episcopal diocese of Los Angeles, is to give the commencement address. A commencement dinner at 12:30 is to follow.

The baccalaureate address is to be given by Dr. Walter Friar Dexter, president of the college, Sunday afternoon, June 3, at 5:45 in the college amphitheater. Monday evening the annual concert by the college orchestra and assisting artists will be presented in the auditorium, and Wednesday evening, June 6, the senior class play, "The Piper," by Josephine Preston Peabody, will be given. There are more than 100 persons in the cast, the leads being taken by Arthur Hunnicutt, Edythe Johnson and Margaret Woodward. The cast is head of the department of public speaking and dramatic art at the college.

Alumni day has come to be one of the most interesting days at commencement time and alumnus gather from the four corners of the earth. Last year, India, China and other foreign countries were represented at the alumni day activities. This year the day has been set forward to Saturday, June 2. The annual baseball game between the alumni and the varsity team, is to be the big outstanding athletic event of the afternoon. The alumni banquet is to be given at the William Penn Hotel, Whittier Saturday evening, June 2. William C. Jones is president of the Alumni Association.

New School at Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, May 27.—Work has been started on the new Laguna Beach grammar school, for which a bond issue of $124,000 was voted nearly thirteen months ago. The contract was signed between the School Board and Markel & Son of Santa Ana. Frank P. Gowan, civil engineer, conducted a field party over the site of the school and the spot was marked off. Ground was broken yesterday morning.

The school will be completed in 100 days, it is expected, and will be ready for use when school opens September 10 for the fall term. The building will cost approximately $116,000. The tower, which is one of the features of the original plans, will be omitted, but the foundation will be laid so that it can be added later. The auditorium will be completed as planned and there will be few other alterations.

RECORD CLASS TO GET SHEEPSKINS

VAN NUYS, May 27.—J. P. Inglis, principal of the Van Nuys High School, today announces that the next graduation class will contain 101 pupils, boys and girls, the largest in the history of the school. The largest previous class was that of the spring of 1927 when seventy-eight boys and girls received graduation diplomas. Chief speaker at the coming graduation exercises will be Vierling Kersey, assistant superintendent o the Los Angeles school system. The class speakers will be Viola Canova and Charles Faulkner.

PUBLIC IS INVITED TO OPENING

Model Orange House to Hold Formal Opening Next Saturday

OLIVE, May 27.—Formal opening of the Olive Heights Citrus Association orange packing plant, a $90,000 building, second largest in Orange county west of the Santa Ana River, will be held Saturday, June 2, when the public will be received and conducted in an inspection tour of the plant, was announced today by Ben H. Coleman, manager.

Dr. J. D. Thomas, president of the association, together with Clyde Slater of Orange, representative of the Orange County Fruit Growers' Exchange will be present to welcome visitors.

Several new features have been incorporated in the building plans, it was disclosed. The unloading platform has been constructed opening onto a basement driveway, eliminating the necessity of handling the fruit by conveyors to the basement. All of the plant equipment is of the latest type, Manager Cole said.

At capacity operation, the plant will be able to pack six carloads of fruit each day with the one unit of machinery installed. Fifty girls will be employed.

This year the one unit is all that is to be used due to the light orange crop, but provision has been allowed for installing another unit when the production requires enlarging.

Packing operations were started Wednesday, the 23rd inst., prior to the formal opening.

The plant is located on the west side of the Santa Ana Canyon road near the Santa Fe Railway station in Olive. The work of construction for the building, in progress during the past months, was under the charge of E. M. Mahl of Garden Grove, by day-labor arrangement.

PAY TRIBUTE TO WAR HEROES

California Cities Arrange Programs

American Legion, Boy Scouts Take Important Part

Many Noted Speakers to Address Audiences

SAWTELLE, May 27.—With a parade and program at the National Soldiers' Home Cemetery, Memorial Day will be observed here next Wednesday. Lieut.-Gov. Buron Fitts will deliver the address, following a recitation of Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Comrade H. Q. Morton. Col. John A. Hadley, governor of the Pacific Branch Soldiers' Home, Sawtelle, is to introduce the speakers, and Comrade Melvin W. Myler will place a wreath on the monument.

School children are to place flags on soldiers' graves at the opening of the program. The Soldiers' Home band, which will lead the parade, starting at 8:30 a.m., will provide the music, and Rev. Anthony Jacobs will offer invocation. Chaplain S. A. Drummond will speak. Comrade Joel Palmer will read Gen. John A. Logan's Memorial Day order, and there will be a vocal selection by Virginia Fiohri.

The program will be concluded with a salute to the dead by the firing squad, taps by the bugler and the singing of "America" by the audience. Airplanes from Clover Field, Santa Monica, will strew flowers over the graves while the school-children decorate them with flags. Sawtelle churches held special Memorial Day services today.

AT REDLANDS

REDLANDS, May 27.—Plans are complete for a big Memorial Day program here with a parade at 8:30 and exercises in the amphitheater at 9 o'clock. Judge Benjamin F. Warner of San Bernardino is to deliver the address.

REUNION OF PIONEERS

AZUSA, May 27.—Plans for the observance of Memorial Day here were completed last night by members of the special committee and officials of the Chamber of Commerce, it was announced today. Ceremonies to be conducted at Oakdale Cemetery will be followed by a picnic and annual reunion of pioneers of the San Gabriel Valley at Gum Grove, in the foothills of Azusa.

Frontiersmen of the valley, now living in all parts of Southern California, flock to Azusa for the annual get-together.

A parade to Oakdale Cemetery will be led by the Azusa intermediate school band. Members of the G.A.R. will have charge of the flag raising and the decoration of soldiers' graves will be carried out by the Boy Scouts under the direction of Mrs. E. H. Sprague of the Woman's Relief Corps. Miss Lucile Reed, orator from the Citrus Union High School, will give the "Gettysburg Address" and Rev. Wayne Snoddy and Dr. Kane will officiate.

The program will be participated in by Legion men of Baldwin Park, Covina, Glendora, Puente and Azusa.

SANTA MONICA, May 27.—Memorial Day in Santa Monica is to be observed on an impressive scale, according to veterans of the Civil War. Stephen Jackson Post, No. 191, G.A.R.; McArthur Camp, No. 25, United Spanish War Veterans, and Santa Monica Bay Post, No. 123, American Legion, in charge of the program.

Grand Marshal O. F. Arvidson will lead a parade starting at the City Hall at 9:15 a.m. Veterans of the nation's armies and navies, preceded by the Santa Monica Municipal Band, escorted by veterans of Foreign Wars, will march to Woodlawn Cemetery, Santa Monica, where graves will be decorated. Other patriotic organizations of men and women will participate, and boys and girls will place wreaths and flags. Chaplains of the posts and organizations will place a wreath on the monument to the Unknown Dead.

In the afternoon a second procession will march to the Municipal Auditorium at Ocean Park, where a squadron of airplanes from Clover Field will strew flowers on the water in honor of the country's naval heroes and sailor dead. Col. J. J. Steadman will deliver the address of the day, and Mayor Herman Michel will welcome the throng. Commander W. A. Blackburn will call the meeting to order, and prayer will be offered by Rev. E. J. Bradner, Ocean Park Methodist Church. Others on the program are E. J. Stoffer, Sons of Veterans; Santa Monica Municipal Band, Comrade H. B. Steward, Mrs. Elma MacDonald and Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Hogg, soloists, and J. C. Millman, introduction.

COMBINED CEREMONIES

GARDENA, May 27.—Memorial services, which began in the churches here this morning, are to be continued by various organizations until Wednesday afternoon, when American Legion posts of Gardena, Compton, Torrance and Redondo are to unite in services at Roosevelt Memorial Park.

The visiting Legionnaires will assist in the services here in addition to conducting those of their own respective cities and the plans include an organ concert at the Memorial Park at Twenty-third street. C. Harold Dick, organist, has arranged a program of patriotic airs with medleys of Civil War and World War songs as a part of the program.

A. O. Barnes is master of ceremonies and Capt. K. P. Nance of Redondo will give the invocation. Maj. Frank R. McReynolds will give the Memorial Day address and Chaplain H. P. Hames of Redondo the benediction. The program will be followed by massed colors by the American Legion posts and Boy Scout troops participating and United States Army planes, Three Hundred and Twenty-second Pursuit Group will scatter flowers above the cemetery. The Gardena Valley Boy Scouts, under the direction of Scout Master Albert Chapman, will conduct the flag services.

ALL CHURCHES JOIN

ALHAMBRA, May 27.—All Protestant churches of Alhambra joined in a union service tonight in the First Baptist Church in observance of Memorial Day. Rev. D. Edward Wright, pastor of the Grace Lutheran Church, and president of the Alhambra Ministerial Association was the chairman of the meeting.

The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. Dr. Fred P. Woellner of the University of California at Los Angeles. His topic was "Memories." The choirs of the various churches furnished musical numbers and the American Legion Post members acted as color bearers.

The Legion is arranging a program for Memorial Day, with a procession and a patriotic exercise at San Gabriel Cemetery. Veterans of the Civil War occupy honored places in the parade and all patriotic organizations of the city will take part in the program. Rev. Ernest Lamb of the Ramona Park Community Church, will give the address at the cemetery.

EXPECT LARGE CROWD

VENICE, May 27. — Plans for handling a large crowd at Venice, the Los Angeles beach, have been made by amusement men here. Memorial Day observation will center upon the annual strewing of flowers on the waves from the Venice pier, in charge of the Venice American Legion Post. Special events have been arranged for entertaining visitors, and hundreds are expected to take their first dip of the season in the surf.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS

CHATSWORTH, May 27. — The Spanish War Veterans' Memorial Day program will be conducted at Oakwood Cemetery at 2 p.m. on Memorial Day, the 30th inst. The Van Nuys Post, American Legion, the Reseda and Owensmouth posts and the Glendale camp of Spanish War Veterans will assist the San Fernando Valley Camp in the ceremonies, aided by State and national department officials.

Veterans attended church services at the Van Nuys Baptist Church at 11 o'clock this morning and at 2 p.m. in the auditorium of the Owensmouth elementary school.

Mark Brennan, commander of the Spanish War Veterans' Camp, will be master of ceremonies on Memorial Day.

PHILIP DODSON TO SPEAK

INGLEWOOD, May 27.—"The Hell of War," was the theme of the Memorial Sunday sermon preached to the patriotic organizations of the city today by Dr. H. H. Saunders, pastor of the First Christian Church.

American Legion Post, 18, Charles E. Clark Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, and th Richard J. Mohr Post, G.A.R., with their respective auxiliaries, attended the church in a body.

Philip Dodson, State Department Commander of the American Legion, will be the speaker at the Memorial Day exercises here in Inglewood Park Cemetery on Wednesday, it is announced by Harry Van Beaver of the local post, who is in charge of arrangements for the organization, with L. W. Maxson, general chairman for the Spanish War Veterans, who will have general charge of the observance this year.

EMPLOY NEW TEACHERS

HUNTINGTON PARK, May 27.—The high-school board of trustees have selected Miss Maude Campbell as head of the home economics department, to take the place of Mrs. Ethel Cooper, next school year, Mrs. Cooper having been granted a year's leave of absence. Miss Della Sloan has been selected to succeed Miss Williams in the English department, the latter having been transferred to the history department.

STEALS WHOLE COLONY OF BEES

Thief Who Takes Twenty-Six Stands Not Stung When Insects are Molested

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, May 27.—San Fernando Valley police are searching for one of the oddest and nerviest thieves that ever happened to traipse through these parts.

According to Mrs. Cora Jones, the thief called at the Jones ranch in the absence of the owner and carried off in a truck twenty-six stands of bees. The loot is valued at $300. Police say it is impossible to steal so many stands of bees without being seriously stung. However, this culprit did his work well and apparently got away without arousing any of the neighbors.

CUYAMA VALLEY ABLAZE

Serious Fire Reported in Santa Barbara County; Fighters Battle Flames on Three-Mile Front

SANTA BARBARA, May 27. (Exclusive)—The first serious forest fire of the season broke out in the Cuyama Valley, approximately sixty miles up the river from Santa Maria, yesterday morning. Nearly 100 men from the county and national forestry forces have been called out to fight the blaze.

The fire is estimated to have spread over an area three miles long and a mile wide. Most of the acreage is grazing land. Two-thirds of the fire is in county territory while one-third is burning in the national forest. The fire is reported to have started in Branch Canyon.

County Forester Dunne will leave for the fire district immediately if the situation grows critical. Judge Samson, assistant Forest Supervisor, left to assist in directing the firefighters.

NEW HIGHWAY PROJECT

Ventura County Cities Interested in Link to Be Built Between Los Angeles and San Francisco

SANTA PAULA, May 27.—Eastern Ventura county cities including Fillmore, Moorpark and Simi are boosting a proposed west side highway which will link Bakersfield, Fillmore and Los Angeles as one link in a proposed highway from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

According to the announcement made recently, steps are being taken to start the formation of a road district. The highway will cut off from Connor's Lake, southwest of Moorpark, traverse the San Emidio Canyon and lead to Fillmore on the Coast, passing through Santa Paula, according to Harry McCray, one of the leaders in the movement for the highway.

Santa Paula by the formation of the road, it is believed, would thereby be in a strategic position, being located between the Coast Highway and the Ridge Route and the Coast Highway and the West Side Highway, it would command the position of center points. It would also place Santa Paula closer to Los Angeles.

"The West Side Highway will be the shortest route in distance and time with the easiest grade and the best allignment between Los Angeles and San Francisco," McCray said. "It would avoid the congestion through the populous centers of the valley and its southern highway connections at Fillmore and down the Malibu Canyon, the only canyon cutting the Santa Monica range, will give the San Joaquin Valley a direct route to the harbor of Los Angeles and on to San Diego, avoiding the populous areas.

"Those with other destinations can select departures at Fillmore, the proposed Victory-Ventura and Mulholland Boulevard, effecting a desirable distribution by the geometrical ratio of increasing traffic." Proponents of the West Side Highway recently told Gov. Young that they will submit to the people at the November election a $40,000,000 bond issue to finance the construction of the route, which will be 400 miles in length and designed especially for fast travel.

PACOIMA DAM SOON TO BE IN OPERATION

PACOIMA, May 27.—Supervisor Sidney T. Graves, who is chairman of the county's flood control committee, today announces that the new $2,470,000 Pacoima dam is nearing completion and will soon be in operation. The report was made following a request from Chief Flood Control Engineer Eaton for authority to conduct further tests of the dam's foundations at the county's expense. The matter was referred to the consulting board of engineers for approval.

OUR HISTORY IN PICTURES 1040 The Story of Our War With Spain. Toral Asks for a Truce.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

GEN. TORAL, COMMANDING THE SPANISH FORCES IN SANTIAGO, DID NOT YIELD TO GEN. SHAFTER'S DEMAND OF JULY 3, 1898, FOR THE SURRENDER OF THE CITY, BUT ASKED FOR A TRUCE SO THAT HE MIGHT HAVE TIME TO COMMUNICATE WITH HIS GOVERNMENT AT MADRID BEARING ON THE SURRENDER, AND TO PERMIT ALL NON-COMBATANTS TO LEAVE THE CITY. THE TRUCE WAS GRANTED.

OUR SOLDIERS IN THE TRENCHES BEFORE SANTIAGO WERE SUFFERING GREAT HARDSHIPS, BUT THE NEWS OF THE DESTRUCTION OF CERVERA'S SQUADRON BY THE AMERICAN FLEET (JULY 3, 1898), RESTORED THEIR SPIRIT.

FRESH TROOPS WERE RUSHED TO SHAFTER FROM THE COAST UNTIL HIS ARMY NUMBERED ABOUT 20,000 MEN; SIX MORE BATTERIES OF ARTILLERY WERE BROUGHT UP, AND THE AMERICANS EXTENDED THEIR LINES, WHICH WITHIN A WEEK COMPLETELY ENCIRCLED THE CITY.

MEANWHILE, GARCIA'S CUBANS GUARDED ALL THE ROADS AND TRAILS LEADING TO SANTIAGO AND PREVENTED ANY SUPPLIES FROM REACHING THE HUNGRY SPANIARDS.

REACTION TIME SAFETY FACTOR

Auto Drivers' Ability to Stop Quickly Varies

Scientist Makes Study of Highway Accidents

Asserts 69 Per Cent of Road Crashes Due to Speed

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) May 27. (AP) A safe driving speed for one motorist may be disastrous for another, says Prof. Charles F. Park of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who has made a study of highway safety.

"There has been a return of the speed craze," he finds, "and a leading line of some dealers today is that the car will make this or that many miles per hour. The public is responding to this appeal, and highway speeds are now probably higher than ever before."

The engineer, who is professor of mechanism and director of mechanical laboratories at the institute, comments on the tremendous power represented by an automobile in motion and the importance of being able to stop quickly. He believes that the effect of the personal equation—the time it takes a driver to react to any situation—is a factor not generally recognized or appreciated.

CRASHES DUE TO SPEED

Prof. Park asserts that 69 per cent of the motor accidents in Massachusetts last year were caused by speed "too fast for existing conditions and the kind of driver."

Tests conducted by the Bureau of Standards, he points out, showed that fifty-seven automobile operators examined required an average time of 0.84 seconds to apply the brake pedal after they had received a signal. Driving at sixty miles an hour and reacting at this average speed, a motorist would run forty-seven and one-half feet after getting a stop signal before he applied his brakes. Some operators had a reaction time of more than a second.

SLOW TO REACT

"The experimenters assert," says Prof. Park, "that there is little doubt that many drivers could be picked up on the streets who would have reaction times as long as one and a half or even two seconds. The operator must act quickly. Otherwise the distance the car would run during the driver's reaction time might be greater than the distance in which the brakes would bring the car to rest.

"It is my opinion that when automobile operators have knowledge of their reaction times and know in what distance they can actually stop their cars under all conditions, and when they confine their attention to operating the car and drive at a speed at which they can bring their car to rest within the distance for which they can see a clear way, then there will be fewer accidents on the highways attributable to excessive speed."

Highway Delay Laid to House

WASHINGTON, May 27. (Exclusive)—Completion of many important national highways has been unnecessarily prolonged as a result of the failure of the House of Representatives to join the Senate in over-riding the Presidential veto of the Colton-Oddie bill appropriating $3,500,000 annually for the next three fiscal years for building highways through Federal lands in eleven public-land States of the West.

This statement was issued today by the national headquarters of the American Automobile Association in the form of notice to Congress that it will continue this fight in December.

Senator Oddie and Representative Colton have announced that they will reintroduce their measure as soon as Congress convenes in December.

Heiress Weds Liner Captain

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (AP)—Mrs. Florence Boardman Pulliam, Piedmont, Cal., heiress, was married five months ago at Alexandria, Egypt, to Capt. K. B. Lowry of the Dollar liner President Polk, it became known today.

Mrs. Lowry, who left last night for Los Angeles to meet the President Polk when it arrives there today after the trip through the Panama Canal, was divorced two years ago from James Norman Pulliam after five months of married life.

The wedding with the skipper of the Dollar liner was an event of its latest 'round-the-world trip, on which she was a passenger and on which she first met Capt. Lowry.

SQUIRRELS INVADE KANSAS CITY HOMES

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Many complaints are being received at the city service bureau at the City Hall concerning the squirrel population in the smaller parks and heavily wooded sections. Charles H. Moore, superintendent of the bureau, said many persons reported squirrels had taken quarters in the eaves of their houses and in some cases inside the walls.

While in virtually every case the householders did not object to the presence of squirrels in trees about their homes, they complained an invasion of their homes was carrying things a bit too far. Mr. Moore said he did not know how to advise the complainants. There is a city ordinance against the killing of squirrels in any manner and another ordinance against the discharge of fire arms in the city limits.

BEERY AND HATTON GO A-GUNNING

"Big Killing" Takes Place in Ozarks; Last of Team's Comedy Series

BY PHILIP K. SCHEUER

A fairish amount of humor is extracted by Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, two good character men who have tried with some success to be comedians for something like two years come next Whitsuntide, from "The Big Killing," now at the Metropolitan. This affair is all about mountaineers and their feuds; and it is getting so that, them thar hills or these hyar hills, it doesn't matter much any more. "Tol'able David," "Stark Love" and "The Kid Brother" were all made by men who apparently knew their Ozarks—and knew them so well that there was nothing more to be said on the subject.

Still, they didn't have Beery and Hatton; most certainly they didn't have Beery. And the spectacle of the great, lumbering, good-natured Mr. Beery as he gazes through a pair of long-distance lenses (which he is wearing in lieu of his lost eyeglasses) at an angry mountaineer who is about to shoot him from fifteen paces, and imagines that the fellow cannot be less than a generous mile away, is certainly one not vouchsafed us every day. At this point, assuredly, all's right with the world.

Too, there are other situations brought to light in the course of this last of the Beery-Hatton team confections—and honesty compels the admission that it is the last of them—which will tickle the risibilities. Many of them are aided by the titles of Herman J. Mankiewicz, who is as privileged to use puns as the next man (the next man would be George Marion, Jr.,) and uses them well.

Beery and Hatton do not make their appearances early in the action. The story starts off with an assumption of seriousness, bringing us quickly to a crisis in the lives of the families of Beagle and Hicks, who have been killing each other off for a long time now—and liking it. Of course, there is the young hillbilly who heeds the wanderlust and wants to go places (Gardner James) taking with him the fairest flower of the Ozarks (Mary Brian.) He just wants to go places so badly that old man Hicks (Paul McAllister) can't do a thing with him. And old man Beagle (Anders Randolf) has the same trouble with his daughter.

It may well be realized that such a state of affairs, plus that smoldering feud we mentioned a while back, cannot long continue. It doesn't; which brings us up to date, and to Beery and Hatton.

A wagon runs wild for the climax; and this has been exceptionally well photographed.

F. Richard Jones directed.

Frank Jenks and a large company occupy the stage for nearly an hour with an act called "Fast Mail." In the company are the Three LeGrohs, the Foster Girls, Eddie Hill, Myrtle Gordon, Eva Thornton and Roy Shelton. The LeGrohs are acrobatic dancers of some distinction.

In the pit, the concert orchestra plays Liszt's "Second Hungarian Rhapsody;" and Herb Kern, organist, asks the audience to sing.

German Officer Here in Person

Capt. Julius Lauterbach, chief navigator and prize officer of the German cruiser Emden, the sea raider which sank more than twenty enemy ships in the Indian Ocean during the early months of the war, before her eventual capture by the Australian cruiser Sydney, will personally appear on the stage of the Criterion Theater tonight. This bow will be in connection with the picture, "The Raider Emden," the screen record of the exploits of the raider.

DISTINCTIVE PERFORMERS WIN FAVOR

Elsie Janis, Derickson and Brown, Jubilee Choir on Orpheum Bill

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

True, Elsie Janis is there, which fact alone would be sufficient to insure an enjoyable afternoon or evening at the Orpheum this week.

Plus the ruefully clever impersonations of such individuals as Will Rogers, Lenore Ulric, John Barrymore, Fannie Brice, George Cohan and Sarah Bernhardt which she furnishes, there is much, much more of a surprisingly refreshing goodness onthe new bill.

There is, for example, the fine program of music furnished by Charles Derickson and Burton Brown, two young gentlemen of direct and ingeniously engaging manners. Derickson is a dramatic tenor and Brown is a concert pianist. Both contribute work of a distinguished nature which was yet not at all "high-hat."

A well-earned thunder of applause rumbled forth in tremendous volume as appreciation of their efforts. This echoed and re-echoed in steadily increasing momentum through the usually quietly decorous theater auditorium of a Sunday afternoon until preparations for the staging of the next act had to be stopped.

Derickson sang in English with fine dramatic fervor, "Laugh, Clown," from the opera "Pagliacci," the pleasing "Can't You Hear Me Say I Love You," written, incidentally, by Brown, and lastly "Chloe," which he endowed with unusual feeling and power. Brown played the Hungarian Rhapsody and Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C sharp minor in accomplished manner. As the much requested encore, "Ramona" was given.

As if to give added testimony to the truth of the old saying that "good things never come singly," there shuffled onto the stage next the kinky-haired members of Forbes Randolph's Kentucky Jubilee Choir. Such a program of old plantation songs and negro spirituals as followed, with the ebony-hued singers a-tapping out the tunes to rhythmic swaying of seemingly jointless bodies! Best of all, perhaps, was "The Comin' of Judgment Day" (if that name is correct) rolled out in full-throated, melodious fashion.

The little darky leader is a show all in himself.

Jed Dooley's nonsense is bright and laughable. He has a nonchalant way of tossing off clever quips and a merry, pleasant personality. Miss Audree Evans, who assisted him, is a pretty young thing, not without ability of her own. The two had a good spot on the bill and deserved it.

Abe Reynolds and Florence Clark have a humorous skit, "Three A.M.," which provokes laughter. Julius Schichtl has a marionette show of distinction. Homer Dickinson is back with a new act, while Jack and Virginia Bell-Thazer will show you what is new in acrobatic feats.

Miss M. V. Burr, Deputy Attorney-General of Pennsylvania, has been admitted to practice before the United States Supreme Court. She will be the youngest woman ever to have this privilege, which is held only by two other members of her sex.

McCoy Honored at Celebration

Honors will be conferred on Col. Tim McCoy, western star and apostle of the outdoors, as a special guest at the celebration of American Green Cross night this evening in connection with the showing of "The Trail of '98" at Grauman's Chinese Theater.

Heating lemons in an oven or in hot water is said to make them yield more of their juice when squeezed.

DOUBLE FEATURES SHOWN AT PALACE

"Keeper of the Bees" Screened With "Clothes Make the Woman"

No greater contrast than that afforded by the two pictures, "Keeper of the Bees" and "Clothes Make the Woman," both current at the Broadway Palace Theater this week, can be imagined.

The first is a film version of the late Gene Stratton-Porter's novel produced by F. B. O. with Robert Fraser, Alyce Mills and Clara Bow. Miss Bow is featured above others in the set, but her appearance in the picture is confined to but a few brief moments, in the last of which she dies a tragic death.

The story is built about Fraser's fight back to health in an idyllic rustic garden spot by the sea where he has been befriended by an old man known as the keeper of the bees. This elderly philanthropist dies and bequeaths his bees to Fraser and a young friend. A romance between the girl who is portrayed by Miss Mills and Fraser develops, which eventually, despite unbelievable complications, is consummated in their betrothal.

Those who are ardent Gene Stratton-Porter fans will probably derive much enjoyment from the film, which follows the original story plot. The narrative moves at a leisurely pace and much footage has been allotted to picturesque and entirely beautiful natural settings. Some of the photography is very lovely.

"Clothes Make the Woman" is a Hollywood motion-picture story with its plot thread extending back to the tumultuous days of the Russian revolution. A young officer of the Reds comes to Hollywood and makes a considerable name for himself as a picture star.

For one of his most important starring vehicles is selected his own life story and his romance during the Bolshevik days with a Russian princess. Strangely enough she is now in Hollywood and plays a part in this picture. His devotion to her is renewed.

"TERROR" SYNCHRONIZED

A directorial plum has been given Roy Del Ruth by Warner Brothers. The former is to direct "The Terror," an unusual stage play, which will be produced to synchronize with Vitaphone throughout. May McAvoy is to head an all-star cast.

J. J. JEFFRIES BOXES BROTHER

If you're looking for pep, with a capital "P," and a few fancy punches thrown in for good measure, you'll find them all neatly wrapped, packed and labeled in the new bill that opened yesterday at the Hillstreet Theater.

It happened to be no less a person than James J. Jeffries, former world's heavyweight champion, who furnished the aforementioned punch to the program.

Jeffries, with his brother Jack, demonstrated various types of pugilistic attack and staged a two-round boxing match in addition. A few words of comment on the art and benefit of boxing concluded his sketch.

Jeffries's act was the climax of an excellent bill, which started off with a bang in a sketch presented by F. Delovis, the cleverest juggler to appear at the vaudeville house in some time. There seemed to be nothing impossible to this chap, who did everything from balancing a rubber ball on the end of a stick to whirling miniature barber poles on his nose.

"Paper Creations," an elaborate revue staged by Lesire LaMont, ranked next, perhaps, in popularity honors. The humble crepe paper made silks and satins hide their heads in shame in the gowns and costumes worn by LaMont, as well as by a fast-stepping, well-drilled chorus.

Novel, to say the least, was "The Beauty Doctor," presented by the Lorin Raker Company. It was one of those intimate affairs in which the participants, scattered through the audience, conversed across the heads of the bewildered onlookers.

Summers and Hunt in a risque skit entitled, "After the Ball," and Herma Juan Reyes, concert violinist and pianist, conclude the vaudeville offering.

"Under the Black Eagle," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production featuring the police dog Flash, was the screen attraction. This story of the great war offered the dog ample opportunity for some real stunts. Marceline Day and Ralph Forbes appeared in the cast.

VIVA! LUPE VELEZ! Wonder Girl

TONITE IS MEXICAN NITE

A monster personal tribute from the Mexican dictators of Los Angeles to Lupe, heroine of "The Gaucho" whose personal appearances are thrilling capacity audiences.

"Reminiscent of Raquel Meller. Exquisite Lupe with the orchids, the scarlet lips and the twinkling feet," says Elmer Davis.

One of the greatest stage personalities to be found anywhere, a great artist and a great actress. Put Lupe in the Ziegfeld Follies, Earl Carroll's "Vanities," or give her a home stage and you cannot go wrong, as Raquel Meller (think of paging Mr. Davis) and Mae Murray Meller, who can't, in my honest opinion, hold a candle to Lupe. I'll guarantee that Lupe Velez would be the attraction of the year. Don't miss Lupe if you want to experience the authentic fall for companies recognition of a great artist. Gil Boag—THE NEWS

The Mexico Whaling Company's fleet will start shifting its base tomorrow from Magdalena Bay to the Coronado Islands, according to Capt. M. Kihl, superintendent of the expedition. He came in on the Norwegian killer Cabral, which will undergo repairs to her boiler tubes at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Corporation. Capt. Kihl said his fleet is effecting a big coup after a disastrous early season, by doubling its production within the last two months. More than 14,700 barrels of whale oil have been recovered and the fleet is expected to operate another month. The killers then will tie up here for the summer, while the mother ship Esperanza will return to Norway with its oil and come back with a new crew in the fall.

Capt. Cliff Curtis, master of the Lassco steamer Diamond Head, was taken to a harbor hospital yesterday, said to be suffering from appendicitis. It is understood the ship will be taken out Wednesday by William H. Turnquist, first officer on the liner City of Honolulu, and former first officer on the Mongolia.

TWO HERMITS UNEARTHED

One Discovered When Railway Crew Uncovered His Home in the Ground Last Fall; Second Once Beau Brummel of Butte, Mont.

BUTTE, May 27. (Exclusive)—Late last fall county officials removed from a cave in the old slag dumps on South Montana street an aged hermit who had lived in his primitive shelter for nearly a quarter of a century. Workmen constructing a new railroad right of way had uncovered the cave and had destroyed the sheltering banks about it, so that the occupant would have perished when winter set in. The old man was moved to more suitable quarters and it was thought that Silver Bow county's cave-dwelling population was completely accounted for.

Now, however, a second cave man has been found in another section of the dumps, living in a bare cavern furnished with a metal cot and a chair. A rug hung across the opening and a dog and a cat shared the cramped quarters. The man was taken to the County Jail for examination by officials from the Sheriff's office, and it was found that several years ago he was known as one of the best-dressed men in Butte. He refused to tell what circumstances had brought him to his present state of squalor, and he resisted all efforts to induce him to bathe and change his filthy garments.

It is thought his mind is affected and the County Commissioners will hold an inquiry as to his sanity.

CHUCKLES from LIFE

Precepts for Patriots

No matter what your race or birthplace, proclaim long and loudly that you are "American to the core"—this shows that you have learned the language, at any rate.

If the value of something foreign is being discussed, do not argue the matter; dispose of it with a name—if it is Italian, call it "Wop;" if French, "Frog;" if German, "Boche;" if English, "Limey."

Do not wax sentimental over your home town; this is provincial—speak in generalities, such as "the greatest nation on earth," "America for the Americans," etc.

If you are present at an international contest in which an American is beaten, insist at once that the contest has been "framed." Axiom: an American can never be beaten fairly.

Maintain stoutly that America is superior to every other nation on earth in everything imaginable. If forced to modify this, say "in everything worth while."

Show your love for your country by your contempt for everything foreign—this is what has made the Germans so popular. A. P. S.

BY JACK FARRELL

NEW YORK, May 27.—Strange as it may seem, there is only one world's title fight on this week's New York boxing calendar, but the traffic at local clubs will be heavy, nevertheless. Something doing every night, appears to be the slogan of the local promoters, and although they dropped a few shekels last week, trying to live up to this slogan, they are prepared to go for a little more this week.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN.

The light-heavyweight championship fight between Tommy Loughran and Pete Lazo, former ruler of the welterweight realm on Wednesday night at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, is the big spot of the week. This is one of the fights which precipitated a merry rumpus be-

COMEDIAN POLOISTS WIN CLASH

Pedley's Riders Bow to Superior Mounts in Tilt at Uplifters' Ranch

BY FRANK ROCHE

There is an old saying among horsemen that fast horses make good jockeys and evidently this holds true in polo to a great extent. At any rate, it rang true yesterday at the Uplifters' Club, where young Eric Pedley, the west coast's brightest polo star, and his Uplifters' riders were forced to bow to the powerfully mounted Comedian four by a 9-to-5 margin in a game that was really won by the mounts of the Comedians. The Comedians, named that because Will Rogers is their captain, were simply too speedy for the Pedley team, and Eric and his riders were up against a losing proposition from the start. They never had a chance after the fourth chukker as the Comedian ponies outstripped the Uplifter mounts at every turn.

P.C.

ROACH IN GAME

Young Pedley and his team-mates Gordon Hackley, Dr. Harry Wilson and Clair Brunson, gave their very best in the game and although they made it hard for the Comedians at times, the result was never in doubt. The Comedians playing, without their captain, Will Rogers, who was replaced by Hal Roach, young movie magnate, showed a fine brand of mallet work and with their superior horseflesh made a runaway of the contest in the last four chukkers.

Hal Roach, in particular, made a fine showing in yesterday's game. Roach playing his first game in many months, showed that he has lost none of his skill and daring. He supplied the fans with a real thrill in the sixth chukker, when he took a spill from his pony in a riding duel with Pedley. It looked like a real serious fall from the stands. Roach did a somersault in the air and landed in a sitting position. He simply shook his head a little, called for another mount and resumed the game while the fans gave him a big hand.

DAVE EVANS QUALIFIES FOR HOOSIER CLASSIC

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) May 27. (AP)—The field of cars eligible to start in the annual 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Wednesday, was increased to twenty-four today, when five drivers piloted their mounts over the ten-mile test route at better than ninety miles an hour.

Leon Duray

It was a day devoid of thrills, as compared with yesterday when Leon Duray and Cliff Woodbury both shattered the one-lap and ten-mile record, and Peter De Paolo was injured when his car turned over.

Jimmy Gleason, Philadelphia, got the most speed out of his car today—117.70 miles an hour.

Dave Evans, Los Angeles; Billy Arnold, Chicago; Russel Snoberger, Philadelphia, and Peter Kreis, Knoxville, Tenn., were the other drivers to qualify their cars today. Nineteen met the requirements yesterday.

Nine other cars will have another chance tomorrow to make the grade, among them De Paolo's car, which was not so badly battered as at first believed. Wilbur Shaw, Indianapolis driver who finished fourth in the race here in 1927, has been offered the mount.

Miss Cunha Breaks 400 Meters' Record in Tilt at San Clemente

SAN CLEMENTE, May 27. (Exclusive) — Sensational swimming performances by Cecily Cunha, the Pacific Coast's leading woman contender for the next American Olympic team, and by Johnny Weismuller, the world's fastest human fish, featured the pre-Olympic water carnival, which opened the new San Clemente Beach Club plunge here today. Miss Cunha, all but wrote her own ticket on the liner which will take the American athletes to Holland next July, when she set a new Pacific Coast record for 400 meters' distance. The San Clemente star covered the distance within several seconds of the world's record, when she turned in a 6m. 4s. performance for the 400 meters.

Weismuller, who was swimming against time in a 100-yard affair, would have broken his own world's record, according to aquatic experts present, if he had not taken three false starts. Johnny swam the 100 in 52s. flat after climbing back on the start three times.

The opening of the San Clemente plunge proved to be a gala occasion. More than 1500 aquatic fans made the journey here from Los Angeles to watch the opening ceremonies. Besides the performances of Miss Cunha and Weismuller the large crowd was treated to exhibitions by Carol Fletcher, Olympic diving star; Duke Kahanamoku, famous Hawaiian merman; Mickey Riley, Dutch Smith and Farid Samika.

Harold Plossell and Weston Kimball, Hollywood Athletic Club swimmers, failed to break their own records in the 200-meter free style and 100-yard backstroke events.

RUNNERS AT END OF RAINBOW TO SEEK PYLE'S POT OF GOLD

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—C. C. Pyle's transcontinental footracers have reached the end of the rainbow, but whether the expected pot of gold will be their reward remains to be seen.

C.C. PYLE

One hundred and ninety-nine runners and walkers from nearly every State of the Union as well as from various foreign nations took up the chase for Pyle's $48,500 prize money at Los Angeles on March 4. Eighty-four days and 3422.3 miles later, the end came in Madison Square Garden here last night. The original field of 199 had shrunk to fifty-five through the operation of the well-known theory of the survival of the fittest. The hardships of the cross-country jaunt—mile after mile of monotonous jogging—had taken care of the rest and put them out of the running.

The trek done, Andrew Payne, 21-year-old Claremore (Okla.) youth, awaits the $25,000 Pyle promised to the man who led

KANSAS CITY, May 27. (AP)—With victory in the semifinal Davis Cup round assured by virtue of three wins Friday and Saturday, the United States tennis stars overwhelmed China in the two concluding singles matches here this afternoon on the Rockhill Tennis Club courts.

John Hennessey of Indianapolis, who vanquished Gordon Lum Friday, defeated Paul Kongin straight sets, 6-1, 6-0, 6-1, and George Lot, victor over Kong Friday, won from Lum, 6-3, 6-2, 6-0.

The United States next will meet the winner of the Japan-Canada series for the right to play the winner of the European zone.

CHERUBS RALLY IN FIFTH TO WIN OUT IN NIGHTCAP

Plitt Lets Sheiks Down With Five Hits in Opener; Both Scores, 4-3; Krugs Nab Series, 6 to 1

BY BOB RAY

Marty Krug's ascending Angels handed Oscar Vitt's slumping Stars a double dose of defeat yesterday at Wrigley Field to carry off the series, six games out of seven, and climb past the faltering Sheiks into third place. Both scores were 4 to 3, with Norm Plitt pitching five-hit ball to turn in the opening win and the Angels staging a three-run rally in the fifth inning to come from behind and pull the nightcap out of the fire.

A crowd of 18,000 fans turned out for the occasion and saw the Angels pull themselves right up into the pennant race, four games behind the league-leading Senators and two games behind Nick Williams's San Francisco Seals.

NORMAN PLITT

By winning the twin bill the Angels made good Marty Krug's boast of last week when he said that the civil-war series.

In the first game Plitt was in great form and had but one bad inning, the seventh, when the Stars bunched four of their five hits off him for two runs. Johnny Kerr accounted for the other tally in the third when he went all the way to third on Schulmerich's muff and then stole home.

Dick McCabe, who started on the mound for Hollywood, was hit hard in his six-inning stay and the Cherubs got off to a lead that the Stars were unable to overcome.

HELEN WILLS, HUNTER ENTER TENNIS FINALS

AUTEUIL (France) May 27. (AP) Miss Helen Wills and Francis T. Hunter, the American pair, defeated Miss Esna Boyd and J. B. Hawkes of Australia, to reach the final round of the mixed doubles in the French hard-court championship today. The scores were 6-3, 7-5.

Mrs. Molla Mallory, No. 2 in the American ranking, won her first round singles match against Mme. Le Conte of France, 6-0, 6-2.

Sydney Wood, 16-year-old American star, defeated Paul Barrelet 17-year-old French junior champion, in the first round of the men's singles, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5, 10-8.

Miss Penelope Anderson advanced to the third round in the women's singles by default of Susanne Deve No. 1 in the French ranking.

The first championship of the tournament went to England, Eileen Bennett and Mrs. Watson defeating Mlle. Deve and Mme. La Furie, 6-0, 6-2, in the finals of the women's doubles.

Browning and Lutze Wrestle in Lou Daro's Show at Olympic Tonight

WINNER TO GET GO WITH LEWIS

Rival Heavyweight Grapplers Set for Match

Browning Slight Favorite to Capture Struggle

Pete Sauer and Jack Roller in Special Event

Two of the outstanding young wrestlers in the heavyweight division will clash in the feature event of Lou Daro's mat show at the Olympic tonight for the right to meet Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world's champion, here June 13.

NICK LUTZE.

They are Nick Lutze and Jim Browning who will wrestle for the best two out of three falls to a finish in what is expected to develop into the most sensational mat bout seen at the Olympic in many months. More than 7500 spectators are expected to be on hand when these two step into the ring.

Two months ago Browning and Lutze met for the first time in a two-hour match. The bout ended in a draw, but the match was spectacular enough to keep the fans on their feet throughout. The two wrestlers were given a ten-minute ovation when they left the ring.

PICK BROWNING

Browning is favored to beat his lighter opponent if the match goes to three hours or more. Although Lutze has the strength and stamina to absorb and give plenty of punishment, Browning a 220-pounder, is being picked to wear Lutze down with headlocks, headscissors and wristlocks.

The big Kansan proved his ability with headlocks the first time he wrestled Lutze when he threw the Chicago grappler to the mat sixteen times with a pair of headlocks. The punishment took much of the pep out of Lutze and a few minutes later he fell an easy victim to another head hold.

The crotch-slam and the flying mare as well as the reverse jackknife scissors will be the three holds Lutze will use on Browning tonight in his efforts to get another match with Lewis. Most of the 5800 fans present at the title match that night, as well as Sandow, declare Lewis won on a fluke. Lutze proved stronger than either the champion or his manager had believed him to be.

NOT FINISH BOUT

This latter is seen as the reason for Sandow's recent attempt to have a two-hour time limit placed on the June 13 match. He is perfectly willing that his champion should wrestle either Lutze or Browning but not in a finish bout. Too much may happen in a no-time limit affair, especially with a title at stake against either one of tonight's main-eventers, is the way Sandow looks at it, it is believed. This question is expected to be settled within a few days.

Pete Sauer, former favorite here and another great young wrestler, tackles Jack Roller in the special event, while Dr. P. A. Mullikin meets Tex Wright in the opener.

COMEDIANS WIN POLO SKIRMISH

pony, "Katie." Wilson was not hurt and also played throughout the game.

Pedley's riders set a fast pace in the first section of the game in the hope that they could roll up a big score before their ponies tired but the Comedians matched strides with them and held them even at half-time. From that time on the Comedians' mounts began to show their class and with the fine playing of Jim Colt at No. 3 and Roach at No. 2, the winners rolled up goal after goal for a victory.

To Jim Colt went the high-point honors of the tilt. Colt, on splendid ponies, showed to advantage at every department of the game. He even outplayed the great Pedley, at times. Colt rang up four goals with his mallet. Hal Roach got two, Charley Wrightman, the same number, and Howland Paddock at back got one. That accounts for the scoring of the Comedians.

Pedley led the scoring on his side with two goals. The rest of his team-mates obtained one apiece. Yesterday's defeat was the third straight game that Pedley and his riders have dropped since the opening of the summer polo season. Erle has not been getting any too much of the breaks but he undoubtedly will make up for his setbacks as the season wears on. Snowy Baker refereed the game, which was witnessed by a large turnout of fans inside the park and by a tremendous crowd that hung all over the hills overlooking the field.

ANDERSON, WILLIS READY

Battlers Go to the Post Tomorrow Night at Olympic on Practically Even Terms

Joe Anderson and Jack Willis will clash Tuesday night at the Olympic on practically equal terms. Willis is fighting better now than he ever did before while Anderson has been idle for a few months due to bad hands.

The Kentuckian has put in the hardest week of training of his life trying to fight himself back into the condition he reached when he gave Leo Lomski such a bitter battle.

JOE ANDERSON

The winner of the Olympic match will box Rene De Vos for Promoter Jack Doyle some time in June, according to the present schedule of affairs. De Vos was originally slated to meet Bert Collins.

The Mexican ran into some tough luck recently and is at present serving out a six-months' suspension. He will open a campaign in Mexico Wednesday when he meets Walcott Langford in an afternoon show.

De Vos comes with the best recommendation he could possibly have unless he held the middleweight title now belonging to Mickey Walker. His victory over George Courtney established his caliber.

IN GOOD SHAPE

Johnny Forbes, who has been in charge of Anderson's training here, has him in good condition.

And Anderson, who has never been considered a great puncher, says he expects to outdug the smashing right hand of Willis.

"I'll slug with Willis even if he knocks me out," says the warm-blooded Kentuckian. "I'm either going to establish myself as a big card in Los Angeles or go home.

"Willis got the first shot at Mickey Walker and I want the next one. But when I fight Walker I want his title to be up. Kentucky needs a champion of some kind and I could use it all right."

Willis has his heart set on bigger and better things, too. He expects to go east with Tim McGrath some time this year and wants to make a sensational entry.

He took the Walker fight, hoping he could land one of his haymakers, but was unable to do so. Then he boxed Mike McTigue for practically nothing trying for the same thing.

RAMIES FAVORED

Pico Ramies is choice over Richie Mack in the semi-wind-up. Mack is a new face in Los Angeles. He defeated Babe Herman up north his last fight, so may upset the dope on the Wilmington southpaw.

In his recent fights Ramies has looked like another Lew Tendler. He defeated Mike Watters his last bout and took Pedro Amador before that. Amador has shown his class by winning twice in eastern competition.

Eddie Anderson, who may be featured at the Olympic soon, arrived here yesterday with Langford. Joe Glaser, their manager, is due today from Chicago.

It is possible that Sal may be Anderson's opposition when he starts.

Solons Split With Acorns

SACRAMENTO, May 27. (AP)—Oakland and Sacramento divided today's twin bill, the Solons winning the morning tilt at Stockton, 4 to 2, and knotting the series, and the Oaks taking the final one, 9 to 2. Rohwer's long hit broke a tie in the ninth inning of the first game to decide the issue. Kallio, who had won his last seven starts, started for the Sacs but lasted only to the fourth frame. The Oaks pounded Keefe and Winsel just as hard. The scores:

GEORGE SISLER JOINS BRAVES

course, the former University of Michigan star's big contract had been absorbed by the Boston management.

Sisler, one of the game's most versatile players, was waived out of the American League recently and it is generally believed the Braves got him for the interleague waiver price of $7500.

The deal will land two former rival St. Louis managements side by side in the Boston infield, Hornsby having piloted the Cardinals during most of the years Sisler managed the Browns.

Seattle Fans Have Big Day

SEATTLE, May 27. (AP)—It was a big day in Seattle today. The Seattle baseball team won its first series, its first double-header, and its longest string of victories this season. The Indians captured four in a row.

Seattle defeated Portland, 5 to 1, and 8 to 6, in an intermittent rain.

Gomer Wilson, Seattle southpaw, held the Beavers to six scattered hits in the opener, while his teammates slugged out a victory in the nightcap. Keesey of Portland and Neis of the Indians, hit home runs in the first contest. Scores:

Missions Win Series From Seal Outfit

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27. (AP)—San Francisco and the Missions divided a double-header here today, the Bells winning, 13 to 8, in the morning, and the Seals 9 to 2, in the afternoon. The Missions took the series, four games to three.

Ernie Nevers, former Stanford University football star, helped to attract a crowd in the second game. He struck out Mishkin, and allowed neither hits nor runs, but retired after two innings, as he evidently was in poor shape. The Great Mails was batted out of the box in the morning contest, but returned in the afternoon, and held the Missions to one hit in the seven innings he worked. The scores:

Gorchakoff to Go East Soon

Occidental's second invasion of the Eastern turf courts will take place soon with the scheduled departure of Capt. Ben Gorchakoff for the national intercollegiate tennis championships at Philadelphia. All arrangements have been completed and the Tiger racketeer will leave this city next Monday via the Southern Pacific on the Sunset Limited. Occidental is only an entrant in the singles this year. The Oxy star is expecting to remain East until the close of the national open men's singles at Forest Hills, N. J., September 17.

GIANTS WIN

NEW YORK, May 27. (AP)—The Giants nosed out the Phillies in both games today, 5 to 4, and 2 to 1. The first engagement went eleven innings, with the Giants coming from behind in their final chance at bat to pull out the victory. Don Hurst's wild throw on Cohen's grounder permitted Terry to score the winning run in the ninth inning of the nightcap after he had walked and advanced on Jackson's sacrifice. Virgil Barnes outpitched Hub Pruett in the second clash.

Ott's single scoring Roush, broke up the first game in Larry Benton's favor after the Giant ace had gone through a long battle with Ray Benge. Benton won his eighth victory in ten starts, all of which were complete games. Scores:

KRUGS NAB TWIN BILL AND CLIMB INTO THIRD PLACE

in two of the Angels' four runs off McCabe with a home run and a single. Tolson also contributed a sacrifice fly in the second game to put Gale Staley over the rubber with the winning run.

Dick Bonnelly and Wilbur Peters were the starting slabsters in the nightcap but both failed to finish. Bonnelly faltered and was replaced by Phil Mulcahy during the Angels' winning rally in the fifth, while Peters gave way to let Wally Hood bat for him in the same round. Clyde Barfoot finished the chucking chores for the Cherubs and blanked the Stars in both rounds to assure the victory, which was credited to Peters.

The Stars outhit the Seraphs 8 to 6 in the afterpiece but the Krugmen bunched theirs in two innings to make them good for one more run.

Peters was scored on only in the second, but the Stars made all three runs in that round and it looked for a while as though they'd made enough to win the game.

BOROJA RAPS SINGLE

With one away in that round Tony Boroja rapped a single to center to start the rally. Peters fanned Heath, but Julie Wera poled a double off the top of the left-field wall to drive Boroja over the plate. Agnew was purposely walked, but Bonnelly ruined Krug's strategy by lambasting a double down the left-field line, Wera and Agnew scoring.

The Angels got one of those runs back in the home half of the second when Carl Dittmar walked, stole second and came home on "Skeet" Bigbee's single to right center. Hannah skied to Carlyle, but Peters singled infield to make it look like a real rally. Bigbee, however, wandered too far off second and was picked off, Agnew to Lee. Staley lofted to Carlyle for the third out.

Hollywood got three hits in the fifth inning, but wasn't able to cash them in for a run because of loose base running. Bonnelly started the round with a single, but was immediately picked off first, Sandberg to Tolson. Lee and Kerr hit successive singles to start the excitement over again. Lee tried to steal third while Peters was holding the ball, but was caught between second and third and run down, Peters to Jones to Dittmar to Jones to Staley to Peters to Staley to Peters. Kerr went to second during the lengthy rundown. Carlyle walked, but Roth popped to Tolson for the third out.

BURKETT STARTS RALLY

Krug sent in Burkett to bat for Sandberg in the Angel fifth and Walter delivered with a single to left center. Wally Hood, who is out of the game with a bad thumb, worked Bonnelly for a walk and in came Mulcahy to the mound. Staley sacrificed and all hands were safe when Sam Agnew failed to pick up the ball. Bobby Jones came through in the pinch with a long drive to the bleacher wall, Burkett and Hood scoring and Staley streaking to third. The Angel runners, thinking Roth might catch the ball, were jammed up on the paths and Jones could venture no farther than first on his hit, which ordinarily would have been a double. Mulcahy fanned Berger, but Tolson hoisted a sacrifice fly to Roth that brought Staley home with the winning run.

Barfoot blanked the Stars in the sixth and seventh, but Dud Lee gave him a scare in the seventh when he doubled after two were out. However, Bobby Jones tossed out Kerr and the contest was over.

The Angels began the scoring in the second inning of the opener, bunching four safe swats off Dick McCabe's offerings to put over a pair of markers. Schulmerich started the excitement by rapping a one-base shot to right, but Dittmar forced him at second. Bigbee bounced one to center for a single and Dittmar rambled to third. Truck Hannah followed with a hit to left and Dittmar scored and Bigbee pulled up at second. Plitt helped along his own cause by ramming a single to right that scored Bigbee. Roth bobbled Plitt's hit and Hannah went to third and Plitt to second on the error. However, McCabe retired Staley and Jones on pop-ups to Lee to prevent any further scoring in the inning.

Hollywood picked up a gift run in the third, when, after two were out, Schulmerich dropped Kerr's long drive for a three-base error. While Plitt was winding up Kerr broke for the plate and slid in under Hannah for a clean steal of home.

Tolson promptly got that run back for the Cherubs in the home half of the third, when he clouted one of McCabe's tosses over the left center-field wall for his ninth circuit clout of the season.

The Angels got their fourth and winning run in the fifth, when Bobby Jones led off with a triple down the left-field line and scored on Tolson's line single to right.

Hollywood made its big gesture in the seventh, when four of the five hits made off Plitt were bunched and two runs scored. It was tough on Plitt, for Bassler's single, which scored the first run of the round, was an easy bounder that looked as though it were going to be an easy out until it took one of those crazy hops over Staley's head and went out in right field. There were two out at the time and but for that bad bounce Plitt would have retired the Stars without a run.

Roth skied to Berger for the first out in the seventh, but Carlyle slashed one to right for the second hit of the game off Plitt. Hannah got under Heath's high foul for the second out and then Wera singled to center, sending Carlyle to third. It was here that Bassler got in his bad-hop single, Carlyle scoring and Wera rambling to third. McNulty, batting for McCabe, singled over second and Wera tallied. Staley knocked McNulty's drive down in back of second but too late to make a play. Staley then saved the game for Los Angeles by making a sensational stop of Lee's drive back on the grass and tossing the Hollywood shortstop out at first. It looked like a cinch hit and a tie score, but Staley went back on the grass, knocked it down and got off a throw to Tolson that made the putout by a fraction.

Fullerton pitched the seventh and eighth for the Stars and blanked the Angels, but his work went for naught with Plitt retiring the Hollywooders in order in their last two times at bat. Score:

Langford Knocks Home Run for Indian Team

Ted Lyons Wins Hurling Duel From Vangilder

Solons Break Losing Streak to Trim Macks

CLEVELAND, May 27. (AP)—St. Louis defeated Cleveland, 10 to 8, today in the final game of the series giving them an even break during their stand here. It was a free-hitting game in which both Uhle and Blaeholder were pounded hard.

The Browns scored four runs in the second and Cleveland tied the count in the third inning, when Langford hit a home run with two men on. St. Louis then regained the lead and held it until the eighth when Cleveland tied it again. The visitors then scored the winning runs, an error by J. Sewell, paving the way.

Lind and Hodapp made three hits each for the Indians while O'Neil made three for St. Louis and drove in four runs. The score:

ALOHA PLANNED FOR SATURDAY

Six Crack Craft to Start in Hawaii Dash

Mariner's Famous Mark May Go by Boards

Rohl Backs Pandora to Win from Fleet

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Impatient as a string of thoroughbred ponies before the barrier, six crack racing yachts, every one flying the burgee of a Southern California Yacht Club, will be sent across the line off Newport Sunday at 12 o'clock, noon, with 2240 nautical miles of Pacific between them and Diamond Head, where the 1928 Honolulu race will officially end.

Corinthian and squarehead crews have been selected, stores are being put aboard, and all that remains now is the big get-together gathering at the Newport Harbor Yacht Club Saturday evening and the final inspection Sunday morning, before the yachts hoist canvas for the long jaunt.

PREDICTS RECORD

At a skippers' dinner held at the Los Angeles Athletic Club Friday, Staff Admiral Albert Soiland of the Pacific Coast Yachting Association, who has sailed two Honolulu races, as skipper of the schooner Viking IV in 1923 and as a member of the schooner Mariner's Corinthian crew in 1926, prognosticated a new record. The present record is held by the Mariner when she was driven by L. A. Norris in 1923. Norris pushed his crack schooner across in eleven days, fourteen hours, and forty-six minutes. In 1926 Don Lee's Invader had a very fast passage, making her landfall in twelve days, two hours and forty-eight minutes.

It is Dr. Soiland's belief that Newport will give the yachts an advantage over Santa Barbara and San Pedro, where the two previous races were started. By sailing from Newport, the yachts are more likely to pass the channel islands by nightfall and be out in the open sea with a good brisk wind. The start is extremely important in a record breaking run, as many valuable hours have been lost by yachts being becalmed before getting many miles off shore.

H. R. Rohl, skipper of the pretty yawl Pandora, had wagered $1000, so the story goes, that his craft will beat the fleet. The Pandora has beautiful lines, having been designed by Anker, the famous European designer. The Pandora's time allowance has not been figured yet, because exact measurements have not been taken. She will, however, have an allowance of over two days.

TEVA FAVORED

If we had any money, which we have not, it would go right on the nose of Clem Stose's yawl Teva, which will fly the San Diego Yacht Club pennant for the second time in the trans-Pacific race. The Teva is not a new boat by many years, but she was fast enough two years ago to give both the Invader, Mariner and Poinsettia a great race. With a handicap of three days, seven hours and fifty-two seconds over the Talayha, the Teva is going to be doubly hard to beat even in the crack company she is traveling with. The Talayha, by the way, will fly the Santa Barbara Yacht Club pennant in the race.

Charles Reynolds's Wetona, another Newport entry, is out to trim the Pandora. Both ships rate within a few hours of each other. The Wetona is a trim ship, and is a dark horse to beat the fleet.

Junior Olympic Games Finals Next Saturday

With the eyes of the youthful athletes from all over Southern California turned on the Junior Olympic finals to be staged at Moore Athletic Field, University of California at Los Angeles next Saturday, winners of the Los Angeles county finals last Saturday will have some real competition even to stay near the top, let alone win.

The fact is, according to the dope pouring into the Junior Olympic headquarters, that there are plenty of boys in the outside counties who already have piled up scores better than the best of Los Angeles county boys and they are still improving. There will be nine other counties sending entries to next Saturday's meet. These include San Luis Obispo, Kern, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Imperial, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino.

As to what the local talent may expect to go up against, let it be noted that San Bernardino county, for instance, has a senior champion, one Mike Pina, who piled up 601 points in his elimination contest. Johnny Falcon, high man here last Saturday, rolled up only 577 points, and Charles Macon trailed him with 550 points. San Bernardino also has a junior contestant, Rex Heap, whose total registered 604 points. Orange county boasts two seniors with more than 500 points each. Riverside has a half-dozen who will easily count on around 500 points, some of them going higher.

Kern county, home of the San Joaquin Valley, where the spaces are really open and the sun gets hot, put 3500 contestants in the field from which to select their champions. The records have been kept more or less secret up in that county, but it is understood that it is not because they are anything to be ashamed of. On the contrary, one booster for the county said it was to prevent the boys in the other counties from being scared out.

Saturday's meet is going to bring in some of the ablest boy athletes ever turned loose and it is going to be a case of nip and tuck, whoever wins. The point is that any of the boys who feel the least bit uncertain on any of their performances will do well to get down to brass tacks during the next few days and put the final polish on whatever ability they have.

Seraph, Star Series Notes

Johnny Kerr turned in a couple of sensational catches yesterday, once robbing Berger of a Texas Leaguer by making a long run out in center, but his best play came in the eighth inning of the opener. Dittmar had singled when Bigbee lined one toward center that looked like a sure hit. However, Johnny made a back-handed catch of the drive and then tagged Dittmar for a double play.

Bobby Reith likewise robbed Bigbee of a hit in the sixth inning of the second game, he also made a running, back-hand spear of Reese's drive that appeared labeled for at least a double.

Tolson and Staley made a couple of great stops for the Angels and both times Dowd Lee was the victim. In the seventh inning of the opener Staley went back on the grass, knocked down Lee's sizzling drive and then threw Dud out at first on a close play. That sensational bit of work by Staley stopped the Stars' rally and saved the game for the Angels.

The Stars have won but two games of their last two series, which explains their fall from first place.

By taking six out of seven from Hollywood the Angels experienced their first big week of the season. All the other Angel series resulted in 4-to-3 decisions one way or the other.

The Stars hope to get going this week in their eight-game series with the leading Sacramento Senators. If the Solons can take the series from the Solons, the race will be plenty tight.

Marty Krug's athletes have a golden opportunity to gain on the pack in the next three weeks, for they meet Seattle, Portland and then Seattle again in twenty-two games. The Indians and Beavers are not going at all well and the Angels ought to gain a lot of ground.

Lupe Velez, Mexican screen star, presented a cup to Managers Krug and Vitt before yesterday's double-header. The cup was donated by Douglas Fairbanks to be presented to the Angel or Star player voted most valuable to his team this season.

Swim is Won by Summers

ALAMEDA, May 27. (AP)—Byron Summers of Alameda, early tonight won the fourteen-mile swim around Alameda Island, completing the marathon in nine hours, far in the lead of a field that originally comprised forty entries.

Summers won the marathon last year in seve hours fifty-five minutes. Adverse winds and tides delayed the swimmers today.

The girl who battled longest with the adverse tide was Lorena Davidson of Long Beach. She gave up after being in the water nearly three hours. Other women entries were: Doris Jackson of Los Angeles; Lelia Fourrier of Colton and Lola S. Thomas of Long Beach.

Neer Humbled in Tennis Tilt at Del Monte

DEL MONTE, May 27. (AP)—The annual Hotel Del Monte tennis championships were concluded here this afternoon following a day marked by more than the usual number of upsets. In spite of counter attractions, in the shape of dog shows, whippet races, and golf tournaments, hundreds witnessed the exciting semifinal and final matches, and were treated to some of the finest exhibitions of tennis ever seen on Del Monte's historic courts.

Kurt Berndt of San Francisco won the singles championship from Phil Neer, 1926 Del Monte titleholder, winning in straight sets, 6-2, 11-9. Berndt outserved and outgeneraled the former Stanford star all the way.

It was a brilliant match, but was outshone in interest by the keenly contested semifinals in which Berndt finally defeated Al Duff, the Pasadena dark horse, 4-6, 6-3, 7-5, while Neer was disposing of John Wheatley, another former Cardinal net luminary, 6-6, 3-6, 7-5.

Mrs. Anna McCune Harper of Oakland won the women's singles from Midge Gladman of Los Angeles, United States junior champion, 8-6, 10-12, 7-5.

EL SEGUNDO VICTORIOUS

STAUBER AND REED TURN IN PERFECT TRAP COUNT

A high fog and a head wind made shooting at the Los Angeles Gun Club traps anything but easy yesterday but A. J. Stauber and Lou Reed were in grand form and broke the program of 100 registered targets straight. J. E. Hatch was the runner-up with ninety-nine out of the century. E. V. Minock and Don Morrison broke 98 each. William Reid and Mrs. Groat accounted for 97 each. Mrs. Knight and L. B. Marsh smashed 95x100. H. W. Armstrong and R. F. Wilson were close up with 94 each. George Hamilton of Two Rivers, Wis., and Fred Moody snuffed out 93, and were closely followed by Warman and Nordenholt, Goodrich, Kost and Daniels broke 90 each.

In the 50 target handicap Minock from 23 yards, Morrison from 22, and Mrs. Groat from 20 were high with 46 each. Minock won in the shoot-off. Nordenholt and Moody were second with 45 each, the latter winning in the shoot-off. Minock was high in the doubles with 46x50. Sanchez was the runner-up.

A. J. Stauber won the Fred Kimble trophy. The other trophy winners were Marsh, Minock, Mrs. Groat, Moody, Mrs. Hill and Johnson.

Next Sunday will be No. 99 Elks' day.

A letter from the Amateur Trapshooters' Association disclosed the fact that A. J. Stauber of Los Angeles has the highest average so far this season of any trap-shooter in the entire country.

Last-Minute News From Petroleum Fields and Marts of Trade

NEW OIL SITE AT POTRERO PICKED

Associated Plans to Drill Voorhies Lease

Run of Field Will be Shown by Operation

Test May Start Activity in Neighborhood

The general inquiry as to where the next well will be drilled at Potrero was answered Saturday with the making of preparations by the Associated Oil Company, for a new well on its five-acre Voorhies lease, a little less than half a mile south and east of the Associated's Cypress No. 2. Trucks were hauling material to the new location, and it is reported that drilling will start as soon as the derrick can be built and rigged up.

It is expected that Associated will go ahead steadily with the drilling of the Voorhies No. 1. If it cores oil sand higher up than the sand was found in the Cypress No. 2 the well should serve as an indicator to determine how far south and east the field runs.

Getty, Wilshire and California Eastern hold a bunch of town lots off to the south of the Voorhies property and if this well should show up in a satisfactory manner it is believed that a lively drilling campaign on the small holdings in that neighborhood would result.

The Voorhies lease was the only tract in the field, which the operators were unable to line up in a program for the extension of drilling requirements. As a result, it is entirely possible that the field as a whole will be generally developed within the next six months, because of the offset condition which it brings about.

The Associated holds by lease all the acreage surrounding the Voorhies lease, and the completion of a producer on that property would require the drilling of at least three offset wells, which in turn would involve adjoining acreage in an offsetting campaign.

Associated expects to have a pipe line into the Potrero field by the end of this week. The line is now under construction from the Cypress No. 2 to the Associated's main trunk line in the Athens field. The oil will be transported through this line to the Watson refinery. The line is being constructed of six and one-eighth-inch pipe, and will be about five miles long. A pumping station is being built to boost oil through the pipe line from Cypress No. 2 tanks.

Cypress No. 2 is making about 750 barrels per day of 47.5 deg. gravity oil. Cypress No. 1 is still standing idle, and probably will not be given another test, inasmuch as it is understood that the Associated plans to use it as a source of gas for its Potrero drilling campaign.

CYPRESS WELL AT POTRERO IS BIG GASOLINE PRODUCER

Reports from the Potrero district yesterday indicated that the Associated Oil Company hauled 300 barrels of casinghead gasoline away from its Cypress No. 2 well during the day. It is asserted that the well is good for about 200 barrels of this gasoline each day.

The exact oil output of the Cypress No. 2 is not known, but it is believed to be in the neighborhood of 750 barrels per day, with a wet gas yield of something like 1,500,000 cubic feet a day.

The prevailing impression among oil operators who are watching developments at Potrero is that the Cypress No. 2 gas is yielding casinghead gasoline at the rate of more than five gallons to the 1000 cubic feet. This is an unusually high yield, but is within the range of possibilities, it is asserted, because the crude oil from the well tests better than 47 degrees gravity, and that is only sixteen degrees below the legal test for pure gasoline in Los Angeles.

CREIGHTON OPTIMISTIC ON WENDEN

Results of Exploratory Work on Copper Estate Reported Gratifying

Ned Creighton of Phoenix, president of the Wenden Copper Mining Company, engaged in the development of large mineral holdings in the Cunningham Pass section of Yuma county, Arizona, who was in Los Angeles yesterday, expressed himself as being well pleased with results of exploratory work in mine development.

"Since the last report to stockholders," Mr. Creighton said, "development work has been confined to the 700 and 1000-foot levels of the Barkdoll shaft. This work was done to determine the geological relation of the area in which this shaft is located, to the area exposed through the Ormsby shaft. For all practical purposes this work is now completed, and there now remains the completion of the work uniting the two shafts by underground connection."

In the performance of this work, Mr. Creighton reports, the existence of three ore-bearing veins has been established and exposed, the three ore measures paralleling the dike which traverses the property its entire length. These veins, it is claimed, vary in width from five to twenty feet, each containing shoots, or lenses, of ore of commercial value.

The company has reached a basis in mine development believed to justify the construction of reduction works, and it has been decided to install a 200-ton daily capacity mill, in addition to which a new power plant is to be erected. The financial statement of the company, just issued, indicates it is on a sound financial basis. Company stock is listed on the New York Curb.

SHOWINGS REPORTED

Richfield's Midway No. 7 Makes Find at 1300 Feet

TAFT, May 27. (Exclusive)—In the Midway field the Richfield Oil Company has had some oil showing in its No. 7 well on Sec. 6, 32-23, the depth being about 1300 feet. Preparations are being made to deepen the No. 6 well on the same section, the casing having been set at 949 feet.

The Electric Petroleum Company has drilled out its No. 1 well on Sec. 34, 30-23, in the Midway and is testing at 2220 feet.

OPERATIONS AT SEACLIFF TOLD

Development Going Ahead at Muscle Rock

While the Miley Oil Company is drilling its Miley No. 1 as a deep test in an oil sand at about 4800 feet, in the Seaclift field, operators are driving ahead with their development program up around the Muscle Rock curve, perhaps 1500 to 2000 feet west of the original Seacliff development. Miley is said to have fifty feet of saturated oil sand at the present depth, and it is asserted that if another fifty feet can be cored a production test will shortly be made.

Near Muscle Rock the General Petroleum Corporation is drilling in its Oland No. 1 and putting up the rig for a second well there. Its operating subsidiary, the Bankline Oil Company, is hauling rig material to a lease near-by, and the Wilshire Oil Company is drilling ahead steadily in its Hickey No. 1.

Now comes the Elmer Oil Company, a comparatively new outfit, of which Gilbert Reesemayer, Hollywood capitalist, is said to be the moving spirit. The Elmer has leased 320 acres of the old Dunahee ranch, up on the bluff above the curve in the State highway at Muscle Rock, and is hauling in material for the rig of its No. 1 well.

This well will be drilled about 1500 feet back from mean high tide, 150 feet north, and 150 feet east from the center of the southwest quarter of Sec. 6, 3-24. Just south of this lease the Shell Company holds an eighty-acre lease.

The Elmer outfit's prospects are believed to be fairly good for the reason that in the drilling of a well to supply water for drilling, seventeen feet of tar sand was cored, beginning at 240 feet. Considerable gas was found in the water well.

There were no exciting developments in the original Seacliff area during the week, and it is believed that for the next few weeks most of the new activity in the district will center around Muscle Rock.

OIL GROUP BUYS LARGE ACREAGE

BAKERSFIELD, May 27.—New activity in development of the Semitropic district, believed by experts to embrace one of the greatest potential oil and gas fields in the West, is disclosed by sale of 4000 acres in that area to a syndicate of San Francisco capitalists, by Miller & Lux. The tract cost the syndicate $200,000, according to Elmer B. Stone, sales manager for Miller & Lux. The San Francisco buyers of the 4000-acre tract plan to prospect for oil and gas in the immediate future.

Members of the purchasing syndicate are Henry E. Monroe, Griffith Henshaw, Harry H. Magee, Frank Sykes and R. L. Rader.

During the last thirty days, the Miller & Lux estate has sold more than 40,000 acres in this county, due almost entirely to activity of the large oil companies. The land is mostly potential oil properties and lies north of Wasco Road.

The property just purchased by the San Francisco men is situated in one block, near the townsite of Semitropic, and south of Tulare Lake.

Drilling in the district, by the Millham Exploration Company recently has developed gas wells with a producing capacity between 20,000,000 and 40,000,000 cubic feet per day. Wildcatting is being conducted on an extensive basis in the area.

NEW WIRING TO CONNECT FIELDS

General Petroleum Moves to Cut Expenses

TAFT, May 27. (Exclusive)—Plans have been completed by the General Petroleum Corporation for rewiring and tying together the Boston Pacific and Balboa Oil Company properties beyond the Buena Vista hills, north of Taft. The properties were recently acquired by the company.

The contract which calls for the outlay of the setting of poles, rewiring and installation of transformers on these properties, was awarded to the United Electric Company in Taft, and will cost about $35,000.

The recent acquisition of these properties gives the company two full sections of oil-producing territory in that immediate vicinity. Embraced in the area are many producing wells which are at present operated by an antiquated system of electric power. It is with a view to reducing operating expenses to the minimum that the new work is being done.

When the work is completed the company will have one of the finest electrical systems in the field and will own its own lines, wiring and transformers. All equipment installed will be owned by the oil company, and it will be accorded the P-5 wholesale rate of the San Joaquin Light and Power Corporation.

H. J. Anderson of the United Electric Company is now on his way to Spokane, where he will negotiate for the purchase of ten carloads of poles, most of which will be used in the contract work for the company. It is estimated that the shipment will total 1000 poles.

FINANCIAL CONDITION: The consolidated balance sheet of Lane Bryant, Inc., and subsidiaries, as of April 30, 1928, prepared by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery, after giving effect to the present financing and other transactions mentioned therein, shows total net assets of $2,909,147.76, equivalent to $193 per share of 7% Preferred Stock to be presently outstanding; current assets of $2,800,506.38 against current liabilities of $1,056,568.71, cash alone exceeding total liabilities.

COMMON STOCK PURCHASE WARRANTS: Each certificate for Preferred Stock of the present 7% dividend series shall bear a warrant (non-detachable except in the case of prior redemption) entitling the holder to subscribe on or before May 31, 1933, for one share of Common Stock at $45 per share for each share of Preferred Stock, subject to adjustment of the subscription price as provided in the Certificate of Incorporation, as amended.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: Part of the proceeds of the sale of this 7% Preferred Stock will be used to reimburse the treasury for the redemption of the $951,200 par value of old 8% Preferred Stock at $110 per share plus accrued dividend on June 5, 1928. The balance will be used to provide additional working capital for the Company's rapidly growing business.

MANAGEMENT AND FUTURE: The present management of Lane Bryant, Inc., which owns a majority of the Common Stock, will continue to direct the affairs of the Company,

The statements contained above are obtained from sources which we believe reliable, but in no event are such statements to be regarded as representations by us.

Legal Proceedings are subject to the approval of Messrs. Chadbourne, Hunt, Jaeckel & Brown, New York, for the Bankers, and Messrs. Spire & Feinbier, New York, for the Company. Audits by Messrs. Lybrand, Ross Bros. & Montgomery.

Price $107.50 per share and accrued dividend

A limited amount of Common Stock is also being offered by us at $40 per share

We offer the above Stock "when, as and if issued and received by us," subject to allotment or prior sale, and subject to the approval of counsel. It is expected that delivery will be made on or about June 5, 1928, in the form of temporary certificates or interim receipts.

LOS ANGELES-FIRST NATIONAL TRUST & SAVINGS BANK, Trustee
EXEMPT FROM PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXES IN CALIFORNIA IN OPINION OF COUNSEL
Application has been made to the Superintendent of Banks to have these bonds certified as a legal investment for California Savings Banks and these bonds are offered subject to this certification.

Reference is made to a letter from the President of the Wilshire-Shatto, Inc., which is hereby summarized as follows:

SECURITY: These bonds will be secured by a closed first mortgage on land and building owned in fee on the southwest corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Shatto Place, Los Angeles, having a frontage of 154 feet on Wilshire Boulevard and 150 feet on Shatto Place. The property is improved with an imposing two-story store and office building of brick and plaster construction with tile roof.

The building, which was completed about three years ago, is of unusually pleasing appearance, as indicated by the select character of its tenants. Among present occupants are the Rolls Royce Company of America; Seaboard National Bank; H. T. Lockwood, Inc., one of the city's leading interior decorators; Leavitt Cine Picture Co., distributors of Cine Kodaks; Weaver Jackson Co., beauty salon; Marlack, florist; and Averills, ladies' furnishings.

The building enjoys 87% occupancy at the present time.

LOCATION: Property is located in the heart of the near-in Wilshire District, only 175 feet east of the corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Vermont Avenue, one of the chief arterial intersections of Los Angeles and one block west of the site recently purchased by Bullocks, Inc., at the corner of Wilshire Boulevard and Westmoreland Place. Wilshire Boulevard, running through the best residential portions of Los Angeles to Beverly Hills and the beaches, is rapidly taking a dominant place as Los Angeles' fashionable shopping thoroughfare. Excellent transportation facilities are afforded the property by the Los Angeles Motor Bus Co. line on Wilshire Boulevard and the Los Angeles Railway street car service on West Seventh Street, West Sixth Street and Vermont Avenue.

APPRAISALS: Ground and building securing this issue have been appraised by Charles G. Andrews & Co. at $613,000. Of this amount, $500,500, or over 1.4 times the amount of this issue, represents the value placed upon the land, and $112,500, the improvements, after giving consideration to ample depreciation. Based on this conservative appraisal, these bonds constitute approximately a 57% loan.

EARNINGS: On the basis of present rentals, annual net earnings of the property are over $40,000, after deduction of all charges, including taxes. The building is 87% rented. Increases in rentals under existing leases prior to December 31, 1930, amount to $5700 per annum. Improvements now assured on contiguous property will justify, in our opinion, a material increase in rentals at the expiration of existing leases. The trust indenture will provide for the payment to the Trustee on the first day of each month of 1/12 of annual interest charges and 1/12 of the principal due at the next serial maturity date.

MANAGEMENT: The Company will be owned and managed by a strong group of representative Los Angeles business men. The following constitute the officers and directors: William M. Garland, President; F. W. Braun, Vice-President; Earle C. Anthony, Director; T. P. Daly, Secretary.

INSURANCE AND TITLE: The trust indenture securing these bonds will provide that the corporation shall maintain at all times insurance up to the full insurable value of the mortgaged property against loss or damage by fire. The Title Guarantee & Trust Company of Los Angeles will issue a policy of title insurance on the property for the full amount of the bonds.

LEGALITY: These bonds are offered for delivery when, as, and if issued and received by us and subject to the approving legal opinion of Messrs. Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, Attorneys at Law, Los Angeles, California, and subject to the issuance of a permit by the Corporation Commissioner of the State of California.

AREA EXTENDED AT SIGNAL HILL

Operators Drilling Beyond Producing Field

Total Completions for Week Set at Fourteen

Union Oil Leads Output With Large New Well

Operators at Signal Hill are beginning to turn their attention to possible extension of the proven area. Several wells are being put down beyond present producing territory. Among these is the Biltmore Petroleum Company's well southeast of the present producing field, which is going down on a seven-acre lease. This project appears to be in line with the general trend of the field.

The Union Oil Company carried away the palm for highest individual production last week with the completion of its Long Beach Community No. 16, having an initial output of 3000 barrels per day of clean oil. The oil is about 30 deg. gravity. The well is the largest that has been completed at Signal Hill for the past six weeks.

Production at Signal Hill leveled off last week, and the total output Friday was approximately the same as it was a week earlier, although the average for the week was considerably higher, as compared with the average for the previous week. The total output at the end of last week was approximately 200,000 barrels, the average for the week being about 191,000 barrels.

Fourteen new wells were completed during the week, with a combined production of approximately 7000 barrels per day. This new output increased the yield for the deep zone only 3000 barrels, because of the decline in the older wells. Deep zone output was estimated at about 131,000 barrels, against 138,000 barrels for the week previous.

HOLLY GETS LEASE

Two Tracts in Temblor Hills District Taken Over

McKITTRICK, May 27. (Exclusive)—In the Temblor Hills district on Sec. 1, 29-20 the Holly Development Company has acquired approximately 225 acres of the E. S Shaw permit and in addition has taken over the forty-acre tract on which Hastain & Perman drilled a well two years ago.

On the same section the Hall-Baker Company has taken over 550 acres of the E. S. Shaw permit and eighty acres of a tract formerly held by Hastain & Perman.

Pacific Eastern Expects to Pick up Sand Soon at Fruitvale

FRUITVALE, May 27. (Exclusive) The Pacific Eastern Production Company expects to find a body of oil sand in its No. 3 well at Fruitvale, on Sec. 21, 29-27, before many days. Recently thin streaks of oil sand were picked up.

The Superior Oil Company has materials on the ground for a well in the Fruitvale district.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY

Qualitative analysis will be given in this department of The Times to correspondents on ores and minerals free of charge. Make each sample of an ounce or so in weight. Be sure to write a letter stating what tests are desired and give the approximate locality from which samples were taken. Do not pulverize the specimens. Give your name and address on paper wrapped with samples.

Three Samples

CASTAIC, May 11.—Question: Please analyze the three samples. They are all from a lode; rock in place, and I believe they contain minerals of commercial value. Each from a different ledge. K.

Answer: Sample No. 1 is altered rock of the garnetyte type; zinc and arnsenic found in low percentages. No. 2 is on the order of No. 1 with some pistachio—green epidote in microscopic forms, mica and micaceous iron (hematite.) No. 3 is lime carbonite mostly, containing more or less strontium, zinc, sercite (microscopical orthoclase,) known also as potash mica; epidote and garnet.

Silica and Silicate

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—Q.: This rock was found in Riverside county. When taken to a blacksmith shop and melted with an acetylene torch it produced a substance resembling porcelain with a beautiful glazed surface. It would probably be used for tiling-bricks. D.

A.: The sample carries quite a high percentage of silica mixed with aluminum silicate and it is streaked with iron oxides.

Sedimentary

LOS ANGELES, May 11.—Q.: Under separate wrap you will receive a sample of clay taken from what seems to have been an ancient lake bed in the Mohave desert north of Victorville. It has marked abrasive qualities quite free from visible scratches when used after the sand has been settled and removed. Does it carry potash? S.

A.: The specimen carries no available (water soluble) potash. It reacts for lime and some soda; it is partly hydrous aluminum and magnesium silicate with a little gypsite (impure gypsum.) It probable represents substances of doubtful use in any of the industries referred to by you. Want of space would not permit the publication of your good letter in full, and the results given on the small sample submitted by no means stand for the deposit as a whole. Specimens from such beds vary greatly in analysis.

A Kansas Specimen

SAN GABRIEL, May 12.—Q.: This sample of volcanic ash was found in a large outcrop of same in Western Kansas. Kindly inform me if it has a commercial value and what information you can regarding same and oblige. H.E.C.

A.: The sample runs high in impure silica. It is of coarse grain and not high-grade volcanic ash of chalk-like nature. It is probably representative of very doubtful commercial values.

Partly Altered Rhyolite

SANTA ANA, May 12.—Q.: I am inclosing with this a sample of rock found near Mina, Nev., in near proximity to a lava flow. Has it any value as a nonmetallic clay or any other value? B.

Iron Peroxides

UPLAND, May 13. Q.: Under separate cover please find some heavy black mineral I found in a quartz vein near Big Pine. It assays about $4 in gold; no silver. What is it? K.

A.: It is a mixture of hematite (micaceous iron) with limonite and a low percentage of zinc is present. The gangue matter is porphyritic rock.

Quartz Conglomerate

CONGRESS JUNCTION (Ariz.) May 1. Q.: Under separate cover find a piece of rock from a big body near here. Would like to know if it contains any minerals of value. I do not know what it is. S.

A.: The grayish sample is quartz, containing granular micaceous iron (hematite) and other hematite. The pebbles occurring in the rock are limonite (hydrous iron peroxide.) Free gold absent.

Of Doubtful Value

SANTA ANA, May 16.—Q.: Would like to know what the dark-colored mineral is in this gravel. Found several feet below the surface in San Luis Obispo county. Thank you. L. R. K.

A.: The dark color of the siliceous pebbles consists of limonite (hydrous iron peroxide.) The mixture carries traces of graphite and manganese as coating. The quartzite rock specimen carries some black mica (biotite) with microscopical hornblende.

Two Samples

LOS ANGELES, May 15. Q.: Please make analyses of the two rocks and inform me of the results. Taken from the San Bernardino Mountains northeast of San Bernardino. Will you kindly state what kind of iron No. 2 contains? M.

A.: No. 1 is a brownish, siliceous rock carrying limonite, and magnesium—aluminum silicate. It reacts slightly for zinc. No. 2 also carries limonite (hydrous iron peroxide,) and the yellow-colored mixture is limonite and not carnotite (double vanadate of potassium and uranium.) Some of the greenish and yellow mixture is granular epidote. The traces of yellow mica (microscopical) in the mixture is known as cat gold.

Crystalline Limestone

LOS ANGELES, May 17.—Q.: Found the sample in Imperial county. Does it contain anything of commercial value? Where would there be a market for it? C.

A.: You might offer samples—if of like grade as the specimen now being reported on—to sugar refineries.

Cinnabar Absent

HIGHLAND, May 18.—Q.: The two samples are from the San Bernardino Mountains. Is the red mineral in sample No. 1 cinnabar? Kindly classify. H.

A.: The bright-red color in both samples is hematite (Indian war point variety.) The matter which stains the fingers when rubbed is graphite schist. There is more or less limonite also in No. 2.

A. A. Jones, President of Prudential Refining Corporation, has summarized his letter to the Bankers as follows:

BUSINESS AND PROPERTIES: Prudential Refining Corporation, originally organized under the laws of Delaware in 1914, as Prudential Oil Corporation, is engaged in refining petroleum and marketing various petroleum products. The plant, located on deepwater at Baltimore Harbor in the Curtis Bay district of the City of Baltimore, will be thoroughly modernized out of the proceeds of the present financing, and upon completion of improvements will constitute a most modern refinery with a daily capacity of 10,000 barrels of crude oil. In addition to 399 tank cars, the Corporation owns in fee approximately 150 acres of land and has storage facilities for approximately 1,750,000 barrels of crude oil and refined products. The Corporation has ample railroad facilities, being served by the Baltimore & Ohio, Western Maryland and Pennsylvania railroads. The plant also has adequate dockage equipped to unload crude oil direct from tankers into storage, and for the loading of refined products.

SECURITY: These Bonds will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct Closed First Mortgage on all the Corporation's fixed properties and equipment (in the United States) now owned. The land has been recently appraised by Messrs. Wm. Martien & Company at $1,500,000, and by Messrs. Baldwin & Frick at $1,560,000.

It should be noted that after the completion of the proposed purchase by the City of Baltimore of property for an airport, there will be practically no large units of land available on deepwater at Baltimore Harbor.

Equipment and plants now owned, including proposed improvements, exclusive of land, have been recently appraised by T. T. Gray, Esq., Consulting Petroleum Technologist, of Newark, N. J., at $6,720,000.

Upon completion of the present financing, the balance sheet as prepared by W. E. Freeman, Certified Public Accountant of New York, shows net quick assets of $1,470,241.

The lower appraisal for land, the above appraisal of the plant, together with net quick assets, show net tangible assets equivalent to more than $4,000 for each $1,000 Bond.

EARNINGS: For the 12 years ended December 31, 1927, earnings of Prudential Oil Corporation before depreciation and taxes averaged $1,003,329 per annum. Earnings for this period were as follows:

1918	569,582	1922	1,235,802	1926	74,916 loss

The unsatisfactory earnings from 1923 to 1925 inclusive and the losses in 1926 and 1927 were due to general conditions in the oil industry, with the resultant delay in authorizing expenditures for enlarged and more modern equipment. Based on the report of T. T. Gray, Esq., Consulting Petroleum Technologist, the management of Prudential Refining Corporation believes that upon complete modernization of the refinery, earnings will be materially increased.

The Stockholders have agreed to purchase 10,000 shares of Convertible Cumulative $7 Preferred Stock and 5,000 shares of Common Stock for a total of $950,000.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The present financing, which includes the above mentioned purchase of 10,000 shares of Convertible Cumulative $7 Preferred Stock and 5,000 shares of Common Stock, will provide funds for complete modernization of the refinery and other corporate purposes.

SINKING FUND: There will be an annual Sinking Fund of 20% of the net earnings of the Corporation after depreciation and preferred dividends, with a minimum of $100,000. The minimum sinking fund will retire approximately 10% of the Bonds before maturity.

THE DIRECTORS OF THE CORPORATION WILL BE:

NICHOLAS F. BRADY, President, New York Edison Company.
C. PREVOST BOYCE, Member of firm, Stein Bros. & Boyce.
WALTER P. CHRYSLER, Chairman of Board, Chrysler Corporation.
GEORGE W. DAVISON, President, Central Union Trust Co. of New York.
WILLIAM V. GRIFFIN, President, Brady Security & Realty Corp.
J. HORACE HARDING, Chairman of Board, American Express Co.
J. O. JENSEN, President, Prudential Refining Corporation.
GILES W. MEAD, Vice-President and Director, Union Carbide & Carbon Corporation.
ELTON PARKS, Member of firm, Dominick & Dominick.
HENRY SANDERSON, Director, Fifth Avenue Coach Company.
JULIAN S. STEIN, Member of firm, Stein Bros. & Boyce.

Application will be made in due course to list these Bonds and the Preferred and Common Stocks of the Corporation on the Baltimore Stock Exchange.

These Bonds are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel, Messrs. Platt, Fiske & Taylor of New York for the Corporation, and Messrs. Venable, Baetjer & Howard of Baltimore for the Bankers. It is expected that delivery will be made in the form of either permanent or temporary Bonds on or about June 15, 1928.

Sinking Fund Secured Gold Bonds

6% Series Due June 1, 1947

Price 94½ and Interest, Yielding Over 6½ Per Cent

Annual Sinking Fund payments commencing April 10, 1929 calculated to retire this entire series at or before maturity to be applied to the call of bonds by lot at 100 and interest.

The following information is taken from official sources:

The German Savings Banks and Clearing Association (the Central Association) is an organization for facilitating municipal banking and to assist in the development of credit and saving institutions of municipalities and other governmental subdivisions of Germany. The Association comprises fourteen District Associations and four Provincial banks owned, respectively, by the Provinces of Rhineland, Westphalia and the two subdivisions of the Province of Hessen-Nassau. The cities and towns which are members of the District Associations and the three Provinces embrace more than half the population of Germany and as country districts generally are also included, it is estimated that the total membership embraces a population of over 56,000,000, or approximately 90% of the entire population of Germany.

In the opinion of counsel, these Bonds will be the direct obligations of the Association and as such will be in ultimate effect the joint and several obligations of approximately 2,500 cities, towns and municipal districts which comprise the membership of the District Associations as well as of the Provinces of Rhineland and Westphalia and the two subdivisions of the Province of Hessen-Nassau. The member municipalities, in practically all cases, own their own gas, water, electrical and other public works.

In addition, the Bonds of 6% Series due 1947 will be specifically secured by pledge with the Trustee of an equal principal amount of bonds issued or guaranteed by municipalities located throughout Germany. The pledged bonds will correspond in interest rate, sinking fund and maturity to the Bonds of this issue. Interest and sinking fund on the pledged bonds will be payable in dollars and will provide the funds necessary to satisfy the interest and sinking fund requirements of the Bonds of this issue.

According to Government authorization the proceeds of this loan must be used only for electric properties, water works and other revenue producing public works. Furthermore it must be established that there is a public need for the work contemplated and that the income will be sufficient to provide the interest and amortization requirements of the loan.

We recommend these bonds for investment and shall be pleased to send a circular describing the issue in detail.

PLATICAS DE LOS LUNES

I

Para ejercicio de dictado, lectura en voz alta, y traducción al idioma inglés, damos, a continuación, algunas muestras de cartas, ya que el género epistolar, sobre todo comercial, es algo que nunca sale sobrando aprenderlo a conciencia.

Respuesta Desfavorable

Muy señor mío:

Me es muy sensible no poder contestarle favorablemente con respecto a lo que desea Vd. saber de la casa de Ruiz Hermanos. Si los intereses de Vd. y la confianza que me manifiesta no me hicieseu hablar, callaría con gusto, porque no me agrada murmurar de nadie.

Los negocios de esta casa son un problema para mucha gente. El tren que hay en ella es muy grande, y parece imposible que sea tan sólido como brillante. Puede ser que me engañe, pero prefiero dar a Vd. rumores mal fundados a empeñarle por una falsa delicadeza en empresas que tal vez resultarían enteramente en perjuicio suyo.

Lo que apoya mis sospechas es que algunos pagos suyos se han retardado, y que ha entrado una desconfianza entre los acreedores. Por eso creo que lo mejor sería evitar relaciones con esta casa.

Le hago estos informes bajo la mayor reserva, y confiando en que se valdrá de ellos con la mayor discreción, me repito suyo afmo. s. s.

Murmurar de (to gossip about.)
Puede ser (it is possible.)
Engañarse (to be mistaken, to be deceived.)
Empeñar a uno en algo (to lead one into something.)
Resultar en perjuicio de alguien (to result in a loss to somebody.)
Algunos pagos suyos se han retardado (they have been behind with some of their payments.)
Valerse de (to use, to avail oneself of.)

II

Muy señores míos:

Recibí su atenta fecha 13 de septiembre, y según las instrucciones que en ella recibo, he tratado la compra de un X de cinco asientos con su agente en ésta, pero he de decir a Vds. que no me he decidido a confirmarle el pedido, por creer que este agente me fija un precio demasiado elevado. Yo tengo a la vista un periódico americano en el cual figura el precio de 360 dólares por un coche X Touring, y el señor Peñafiores me pide por este coche 560 dólares puesto con embalaje en Nueva York. Este precio me parece exagerado, porque yo creo que el trasporte desde la fábrica hasta Nueva York y el valor de la caja de embalaje, no costará todo ello más que 80 a 100 dólares como máximo, pero el señor Peñafiores me carga 200 dólares, lo cual creo injustificado.

Yo tengo necesidad de comprar un coche como éste, pero no creo que debo pagar ningún exceso sobre el precio que publica la casa X. Vds. me dirán lo que debo hacer en este caso.

Vocabulario necesario para estos ejercicios:

Tratar una compra con un agente (to negotiate the purchase of something with an agent.)
Haber de (must.)
Decidirse a (to decide.)
Tener a la vista (to have at hand, before one.)
Todo ello (in all.)
Tener la necesidad de (to have to, need to.)

Tradúzcanse al español, las siguientes frases, que en la próxima lección se darán e neste idioma:

(1.) I shall have to buy a five-passenger car.
(2.) They must pay for the packing.
(3.) We are about to negotiate the purchase of several cars with your agent.
(4.) We have decided to buy the cars at the price you quote.
(5.) They have our price list at hand.
(6.) The price of the car appears in an American newspaper.

MARRIAGE AGE HELD TOO LOW

Writer Says Girls Should Be Twenty-four

Mentally Immature Before That, He Avers

Custom Held "Ridiculous State of Affairs"

LONDON, May 27. (Exclusive)—E. Arnot Robertson, novelist, believes that the age of 18 is too young for a girl to marry and declares that while England is focusing attention upon the child marriages of India the nation should study "the ridiculous state of affairs at hand."

He says: "Certainly we do not marry our girls when they are actually children, but sociologists tell us that the development of a 12-year-old eastern-bred girl, living in a tropical climate, is equivalent to that of a girl of 16 or 17 in the the West.

"And at 18 or 19, with the full approval of their parents, numbers of girls make the choice which is supposed to decide the whole course of their lives, encouraged by public opinion which sentimentalizes over a young bride.

OPINIONS NOT ASKED

"Not only are these nice young things not legally of age; they are not even considered of an age when their opinion on any matter of importance would be thought worth listening to for a moment.

"And yet they are expected to discern among the youths who dance with them and take them motoring the ones who will settle down into the most suitable companions for the very different women they themselves will become in ten or twenty years.

"Society, which aids and abets their absurdly immature decisions with wedding presents and tears at the ceremony, now holds up its hands in horror at the number of such marriages which come to grief every year.

"Roughly, I should say that for the majority around 24 is the age when a girl is likely to have acquired enough experience, not so much of the world as of herself, to know her own mind, if she is ever going to do so.

INDIANS TO QUIT WHITE MAN'S GAME

Zuni Runners Kept From Racing by Superstition Caused by Deaths

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) May 27. (Exclusive)—Chimoney, Lutci and Leekahtee will run no more in the white man's races. Fleet runners though they are, Indian tribal superstition has outdistanced them.

Chimoney was the winner of last year's Long Beach marathon and while he was away from home his infant daughter died. This spring when he was competing in the marathon held at Phoenix his wife died. The Indians accept these personal tragedies of Chimoney as signs that the Great Spirit does not wish the Zuni Indians to run any more for white men. Efforts of Mike Kirk, their trainer, to persuade them differently have proved futile, according to word received here from Kirk.

Many persons familiar with the Indians and their beliefs and customs feel that even had the Indians not withdrawn from this year's Long Beach marathon they would never have entered the Olympics, as their desert-bred dread of water would have kept them from making the overseas trip.

MONROVIA CHURCH FORTY YEARS OLD

MONROVIA, May 27. — Members of the First Presbyterian Church congregation celebrated the fortieth anniversary of the local church today with special services.

The church was organized with twenty-eight members in 1888, with Rev. J. A. Gordon as the first pastor. The congregation today totals 726, according to Rev. J. W. Haman.

Thirteen ministers have served the church and the congregation was first housed in a store building on Myrtle avenue. The first church building was erected at Myrtle and Lime avenue in 1898, and the imposing new structure on Foothill Boulevard which is the present home of the church, was dedicated March 18, 1923.

CHICKEN DINNER FOR CLUBWOMEN

San Antonio to Spend $1325 on Broilers for Biennial Convention

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) May 27. (Exclusive)—A total of $1325 will be paid for broilers at the rate of 53 cents each in order to provide the 5000 delegates to the biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs with barbecued chicken at the "play-day" luncheon in Koehler Park on June 1.

This price, according to announcement from the office of the local arrangement committee for the convention, represents the cheapest bid on fowls and dressing of at least $60 over the next cheapest offer.

Announcement of the chicken barbecue caused a flurry in the chicken market in near-by towns when it became known that effort was being made to get the fowls.

Booklet Boosts Southern City

SAN DIEGO, May 27.—Following many months of intensive research and investigation, a general industrial report on San Diego has been compiled in booklet form by the Chamber of Commerce under supervision of Thomas F. Boesar, industrial development manager. Containing twenty-eight pages, the report gives definite information of all varieties on San Diego's industrial advantages. Copies are available for mailing to eastern business concerns considering locating here.

Opening with a preface on "Industrial San Diego," the booklet discusses raw materials, labor supply, wage rates, labor, power, fuel, water supplies, transportation, harbor facilities, building costs, markets, taxes, climatic conditions, weather data and aviation.

Y CLEARED IN POT DECISION

Court Move Next Step for Union Station

Will File Mandate Writ Plea at Early Date

Says Cites Full Meaning of Federal Ruling

Attorney Stephens, who has returned from Washington and carefully studied the complete text of the Interstate Commerce Commission decision in the Plaza union station case, said yesterday that the commission's decision was more of a victory for the railroads than was indicated last night by telegraphic summaries of the decision.

The City Attorney said that the commission's decision clears the way for a final Supreme Court decision affirming the right of public authorities to order the railroads to construct the union station in the interest of public necessity and convenience. The next step will be for the city to apply to the court for the writ of mandate directing the commission to issue the cease and desist order against the railroads. This will be filed soon, Stephens stated.

"The complete text of the Interstate Commerce Commission's unanimous decision," said Stephens, "shows that the commission has instructed the railroads to withdraw depot orders to the Santa Fe, confirming the California Railroad Commission's union depot decision."

RAIL BOARD ORDER

It will be recalled that the California Railroad Commission's last week's order contained the provision that the order meet with the approval of and be confirmed by the Interstate Commerce Commission. This approval was given recently by the Federal Commission. Three of the commissioners went further and held that the commission is correct that the Railroad Commission itself has the power to issue the order to the railroads, requiring the railroads to build the Plaza district union depot.

The railroads are expected to appeal to the courts against the enforcement of the California Railroad Commission's order as now approved and confirmed by the Federal commission. So as to attack the ruling from both sides at the same time, the city probably will go to the courts for an order upholding the Interstate Commerce Commission and will resist the appeal of the railroads and battle for the Railroad Commission's right to compel the railroads to make improvements such as the union depot in the interest of the public convenience and necessity.

STATEMENT OF VICTORY

"I am confident that the people are not against the railroads," Stephens continued. "The city has been asking for this union depot for years and only two years ago it was rejected in a special election, the voters there opposing the union depot and so rejected the railroads' proposed plan for joint use of the Santa Fe depot with rail lines linked up into the depot by means of a subway.

"The people want a modern, adequate union railroad depot adjoining the Civic Center and have said so. They have said they do not want the railroads' substitute plan. The railroads would ask nothing more than that the city get out of the way and quit, let the roads have their own way and leave us to get along with the dangerous railroad grade crossings, the death traffic on Alameda street and the inadequate Arcade depot. With a mandate of the people, after ten years' battling with the railroads over the union depot, I should be derelict in my duty if I did not keep on fighting."

The recent Interstate Commerce Commission decision is just another step, another necessary step that will ultimately attaining the object that Los Angeles must and will have."

Saturday the State commission affirmed its decision ordering the action and denied the railroads' petition for a rehearing of the case.

MAN GIVEN CLEMENCY

Ralph R. French, sailor on the Pennsylvania, was not at all sure that he was going to sail with the fleet. French was arrested by police officers while sitting in a car with two other men and three girls, one of whom was intoxicated. The girl was more than 18 years of age, although the other girls were not, and so Judge Ballard imposed a fine of $50 and allowed him to join his vessel.

Local Girl Makes Stage Hit in East

Dorothy Whitmore

After playing the prima donna role of George M. Cohan's show, "The Merry Malones," which ran for seven months in New York, Dorothy Whitmore is to return to her Los Angeles home. She is due to arrive here June 2.

EX-POLICE LEADER AT VENICE DIES

T. H. Griffin Also Was Representative of District Attorney in Bay Region

Solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. at St. Thomas's Church, Ocean Park, for Thomas H. Griffin, 60 years of age, former Police Chief of Venice and for several years a representative of th District Attorney's office.

Mr. Griffin died Saturday afternoon, following an illness of six months. He leaves his widow, Anna. The family home is at 50 Wavecrest avenue, Venice.

He was born in Carlisle, Ky. For a number of years he was connected with the United States Secret Service. Later he was Chief of Detectives in Pittsburgh. He first visited Southern California in 1916, returning again in 1918, when he became Chief of Police at Venice. Since 1919 he has represented the District Attorney in the Bay region.

Almond Lands Investors Will Get Money Back

As the result of a decision handed down by United States District Judge McCormick, a full accounting, and an agreement that investors will be repaid was ordered in the suit of Mark Wymond, representing numerous investors against the Associated Almond Growers of Paso Robles. The suit was filed in May, 1924, asserting that the association sold scores of investors ten-acre tracts on asserted misrepresentations that the land was highly adapted to the growing of almonds. It was asserted by the government, and reiterated by Judge McCormick, that the land in most instances was wholly unfit for almond growing.

The court also held that the plaintiffs are entitled to damages and vendees' liens upon the land and on the money paid in under contract. The defendants are represented in the action by Fred D. Jackson and promoters associated with him.

FIVE TO GET ADMIRAL FLAG

Quartet of Captains Serving With Battle Fleet Here Expected to Receive Grade Promotion

Of the five rear-admirals to be appointed next month at Washington by the Naval Selection Board four now are captains serving here with the battle fleet, according to authoritative information received in fleet circles yesterday.

The five captains expected to be elevated to flag rank when the selection board convenes on June 4 are Capt. Wat Tyler Cluverius, now commanding the U.S.S. West Virginia; Capt. Arthur Jay Hepburn, now chief-of-staff to Vice-Admiral William V. Pratt, commanding the battleship divisions of the battle fleet; Capt. Albert Ware Marshall, commanding the aircraft carrier Lexington; Capt. Harry Ervin Yarnell, commanding the aircraft carrier Saratoga, and Capt. Thomas Tingey Craven, now in the office of naval operations and formerly here in command of the U.S.S. Maryland.

The selection board this year will be comprised entirely of officers formerly holding flag commands with the fleet in the Pacific. Admiral Charles F. Hughes, now chief of naval operations and formerly commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, will be president; the other members being Admiral Henry A. Wiley, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet; Rear-Admiral Samuel S. Robison, now superintendent of the U.S. Naval Academy and former commander-in-chief of the battle fleet; Rear-Admiral Thomas Washington, Rear-Admiral William C. Cole, Rear-Admiral Charles B. McVay, Jr., Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, Rear-Admiral Julian L. Latimer, and Rear-Admiral Joel R. P. Pringle, Commander Emmanuel A. Lofquist will be recorder.

The fleet flagship Texas, bringing Admiral Wiley and his staff back from the exercises at Hawaii, will arrive at San Francisco this morning. Admiral Wiley will proceed overland to Washington immediately, and the Texas will return to San Pedro on June 6.

BISHOP BACKS SCHOOL BONDS

Cantwell Sends Indorsement to Mrs. Dorsey

Calls It Unfair to Penalize Future of Youth

Pupils to Debate Subject in Oratory Classes

Indorsement of the $29,400,000 school bond issue to be voted on at a special election June 5 has been given by Rt. Rev. John J. Cantwell, Catholic bishop of the Diocese of Los Angeles and San Diego, according to announcement yesterday.

In a letter to Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of schools, Bishop Cantwell said:

"It is absolutely necessary that our educational facilities in a great community should keep pace with the growth of our population and that the young men and women of the future should not be penalized in their careers because they lacked educational opportunities in the days of their youth.

HOPES FOR SUPPORT

"I earnestly hope that in the coming election the school bonds will meet with generous support, bearing in mind always, that public money must be prudently and conscientiously expended."

Other indorsements received by the Board of Education in the last week from prominent citizens and influential organizations have stressed the imperative need for new buildings and equipment in the city's educational system.

With the intensive campaign to insure passage of the bond issue starting into its final week thousands of children throughout the city are planning promotional activities in co-operation with parent-teacher associations, to aid in getting out a huge vote in favor of the measure.

SUBJECT OF DEBATE

Reasons why the bonds should carry will be set forth before service clubs by high-school students of oratorical classes. They will show that 4000 children are now attending classes on half-time in tents, basements, shacks, and other insanitary structures.

Mrs. Dorsey in recent talks before local organizations has asserted that the number of half-time pupils will be increased to more than 20,000 next year if the bonds are defeated.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR SPORTSMAN

Tuckett Funeral to Be Conducted This Morning From Bresee Mortuary

Funeral services for George J. Tuckett, well-known Mason and sportsman, who died Friday, last, at his home, 606 Hillcrest Road, Beverly Hills, will be conducted this morning at 10:30 o'clock from Bresee Brothers' mortuary.

Mr. Tuckett was a member of a well-known Hamilton (Ont.) family that has for three generations engaged in the tobacco business. He was 47 years of age, a member of the Shrine and of the Tuna Club. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Nina B. Tuckett, and a sister, Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser of Hamilton, Ont.

Judge to Decide Fire Damage to Avocado Trees

Whether Herman C. Smith and others will be held liable for the loss by fire of 130 avocado trees on the property of Mary E. Moore at Whittier will be decided some time this week by Judge Russill.

A suit asking $8000 damages brought by Mrs. Moore was tried last week before Judge Russill and submitted.

The plaintiff asserts Smith ordered some brush burned on his property; that the fire got out of control of his workmen and spread to her property, destroying her orchard of valuable bearing avocado trees.

HUNDREDS SEE GROUND BROKEN

Home for Aged to Get New Dormitory

Ceremonies Conducted at Palms
Mrs. Duke Gregory turns first spadeful of earth for King's Daughters' Home for Aged building.

GROUND was broken yesterday for the new eighteen-room dormitory to be erected at the King's Daughters' Home for the Aged at 10548 Regent street in Palms. Mrs. Duke Gregory, State president, turned the first spadeful of earth and the principal address was delivered by Wayne Harvey, president of the Palms Chamber of Commerce. The ceremony was witnessed by several hundred friends of the institution, many of whom gave brief talks.

The present quarters of the home, according to Mrs. Gregory, long ago were outgrown and increasing demands made it necessary to provide more space for sleeping quarters. It is planned later to build additional wings and an administration building, officers said.

The home is conducted by a committee of eleven women, all officers of the order, and all of whom serve without pay. Applications for admittance come from everywhere, Mrs. Gregory said, and no worthy person is refused.

THREE DIE, ONE DYING IN TRAFFIC

Long Bench Crash Results in Truck Driver's Arrest; Woman P. E. Car Victim

Three dead and one dying was yesterday's traffic toll. Russel G. Mevins, 27 years of age, an oil worker of 143 East Sixteenth street, Long Beach, died in the hospital after being struck by a motorist. G. H. Murff, 35, marine engineer, of 326 Prospect avenue, Long Beach, injured in the same accident, is in Seaside Hospital at Long Beach and is believed fatally injured.

The two men were repairing a damaged tire when a heavy car struck them. Edgar D. Heaton, 19, of 1067 Narbone street, Lomita, declared by police to be the driver of the car, is held on a suspicion of manslaughter charge at the Wilmington station, and Edgar Henry, his companion, is detained as a material witness.

Mrs. Anna Griswold, 68 years of age, 828 Levita Terrace, was struck by a large sedan as she was crossing Glendale Boulevard at the junction of Park and Lemoyne avenues. Witness told investigating officers the car sped on so rapidly that they could not get the license number. Mrs. Griswold died a few hours later at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital from a fractured skull and internal chest injuries.

Mrs. Louise A. Resch, 1010 Toledo avenue, was killed instantly when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a Pasadena-bound Pacific Electric Railway car at Fremont avenue and Huntington Drive, South Pasadena.

The woman was riding with her husband, Joseph Resch, who was driving. Resch suffered a fractured collar bone and possible internal injuries.

According to Resch, he was on his way to Alhambra and had waited for an inbound car to pass when his machine was struck by the Pasadena car. The Resch machine was wrecked.

Rachel Lossman, 3565 South Arlington avenue, died at the Alhambra Hospital yesterday, the Coroner's office announced. She was involved in an automobile accident on the 14th inst., the office said, but as her death is probably not wholly due to injuries received, an autopsy will be performed.

Police continued their campaign against reckless drivers, arresting five men for suspicion of driving while intoxicated and one for failure to stop and render aid.

Dr. Fred Titensor of 1204 Isabel street, Glendale, was arrested for failure to stop and render aid after a car registered to him had crashed into an automobile driven by E. L. Musser of 1874 Hillhurst Drive as

Aide Named in Jewish Drive

Irving H. Hellman, State chairman of the United Jewish Appeal to raise $200,000 for the relief and reconstruction of numerous national and international Jewish causes, announced yesterday that Dr. Maurice Smith, past president of the Los Angeles B'nai B'rith Lodge, has been chosen chairman of the luncheon rallies committee.

"It is our purpose to conduct a series of luncheon rallies beginning this week to continue to the end of the campaign," said Dr. Smith. "Numerous business and professional men, who are unable to give much time away from their offices, will have the opportunity to be present at these luncheons and hear the aims of the appeal. We have arranged for a group of well-informed speakers to be present at these rallies."

More than 100 Jewish organizations in the city have pledged their aid to help raise the required quota.

Angeleno Dies While in Paris

Fred M. Seidly, a retired mining man of 1785 Sycamore avenue, died in Paris Friday night at the American Hospital from an attack of ptomaine poisoning, friends of the family were informed here last night.

The body will be cremated in Paris today and Mrs. Seidly, who was touring the world with her late husband, will return with the ashes to New York on June 8.

A son and daughter, Carl Seidly and Mrs. R. C. Bussum, both of Hollywood, will meet their mother in New York.

BOY KILLED IN PLUNGE FROM REMNANT OF ST. FRANCIS DAM

Leroy Parker, 18 years of age, 2100 Raymond avenue, was standing on a remnant of the destroyed St. Francis Dam in San Francisquito Canyon yesterday afternoon when a chum who had gone to the dam site with him, found a snake on the hillside fifty feet away, picked it up on a stick and threw it at him Leroy, in an effort to avoid being hit by the snake, lost his balance and toppled to the boulder-strewn canyon floor, thirty feet beneath. He died at the San Fernando Hospital a few hours later.

Leroy's father, W. R. Parker, who had driven the two young men and another son, Willis, from Los Angeles to the San Francisquito Canyon to view the havoc of the flood, was standing on the dam remnant ten feet from his son, but could not save him.

When they reached Leroy he was still conscious and while it was evident that some ribs had been broken, Mr. Parker did not think the accident would prove fatal. They helped the young man to the automobile and hastened south to the San Fernando Hospital. Leroy's condition rapidly became acute due to internal injuries and death followed shortly after.

THREE JAILED IN 'BOMB' WAR

Police Deal Blow to Union Fight on Theaters

Ill-Smelling Chemicals Use Blamed on Leaders

Asserted "Bottle Planter" Faces Arson Charge

Efforts of union cinema projection operators to browbeat nonunion operators into subjection to their demands and to force theater owners out of business who do not employ union members were given a severe blow late Saturday when Joseph Burbridge, 21 years of age, 210 Willow Trail, Laurel Canyon, was captured by police a few moments after he "planed" a bottle containing a foul smelling chemical in the Alhambra Theater at 721 South Hill street.

Burbridge, when taken to the City Jail, where he was booked on suspicion of arson, confessed, according to Detective Lieutenants Lanier and Richardson, that he had taken part in the "bombing" of numerous other theaters during the last two weeks. He asserted, police said, that he had done so at the instigation of "higher ups" in the union who had ordered the outrages in their attempt to coerce operators and theater owners to accede to union demands.

IMPLICATES OTHERS

Burbridge implicated two other operators in the recent planting of stink bombs in nonunion theaters, according to detectives and, as the result of his asserted admissions, Edward Keller, 31 years of age, of 1143 Formosa avenue, and Sidney Burton, 31, of 1525 Castle Place were booked at the City Jail on suspicion of arson. They admitted, the detectives reported, that they knew Burbridge, but denied they had taken part in the "bombings."

It was but a few moments after the chemical exploded in the theater, driving patrons into the street, that Burbridge was apprehended by detectives as he sought to flee from the theater.

In the last two weeks six theaters have been the scene of such outrages. Several persons have been painfully burned, property has been seriously damaged and scores of theater-goers have been forced from the places of amusement by the "bombs."

As the result of the numerous complaints Chief of Police Davis detailed special squads to make a drive against the union men perpetrating the crimes.

WILL ROUND ALL UP

"Such actions, endangering the life and property of citizens, will not be tolerated here," declared the Chief in making the assignment, "and it is certainly my intention to round up such radicals and place them where they can be given the full punishment demanded by the law."

Guest at Hotel Injured in Fall From His Room

A man believed to be William Norton, 40 years of age, of Reseda, was found lying on the roof of the Rosslyn Hotel annex yesterday, apparently having fallen from his room on the tenth floor of the hotel in attempt to open a window, police reported. The man was removed to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where it was reported by Police Surgeon Saverien that he suffered internal injuries. His condition is critical.

According to hotel employees, the man registered Saturday. The first room assigned to him was turned down because there were not enough windows and so the guest was given another room on the tenth floor. It is believed that while raising the window the man lost his balance and fell four stories.

Theater Pair Plan to Wed

Miss Ann McKay, who has played many roles under Morosco and is now leading lady of "Take My Advice," playing in San Francisco, is to marry Emerson Treacy, actor, who recently appeared at the El Capitan Theater in "Pigs."

Announcement of their engagement was made yesterday at a luncheon given by Miss McKay's mother in Hollywood. The ceremony will be performed in the chapel of Loyola College on June 12, next.

PERU'S BEST DANCER HERE FOR FINISHING

Miss Laura de la Puente Ganoza

Peru's most promising artist of the dance, Miss Laura de la Puente Ganoza, arrived yesterday on the Grace liner Cuzco to complete her education in the art at Los Angeles.

Miss Ganoza is 18 years of age. She has appeared in interpretive numbers before the President of Peru, and it is said that he insisted her genius should be given full opportunity for expression by tutoring under masters.

She is said not only to be adept in the classical field but in the native Peruvian dances and the Spanish as well. Her father is Henri de la Puente Ganoza, mine owner and upholder of one of the oldest, most distinguished names in Peru. The family will establish a home here for two years.

HEARING ON CEMETERY ZONING SET

City Planning Commission Gives Lot Owners More Time to Protest

The City Planning Commission is sending postcard notices to more than 2000 lot owners in Hollywood Cemetery advising them that at 2:30 p.m. on July 26 at the City Hall the commission will hold a public hearing on the application of the Hollywood Cemetery Association for business zoning of the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage of the cemetery between Gower street and Van Ness avenue.

The continuance of the hearing until July 26 was given by the commission as it believes there has been insufficient notification time given of the hearing scheduled for last Thursday. Many postcard notices of last week's meeting sent out by the commission to cemetery-lot owners were returned on account of incorrect addresses. The commission used the most up-to-date list procurable of cemetery-lot owners.

The business zoning of the Santa Monica Boulevard frontage was opposed vigorously last year by many cemetery lot owners, and at the hearing last week several score of lot owners were present prepared again to oppose the granting of the application.

JUDGE EXPECTED HOME

Superior Judge Collier is expected back today from Phoenix, Ariz., where he went to be the principal speaker at a high-school graduation exercise held last Friday night.

AIR RATE REGULATION DUE

Rapid Progress of Aviation on Coast Expected to Bring State Control of Plane Lines Soon

Aviation is making rapid progress in California, and from all present indications airplanes are destined to take an important place among the common carriers in this State, according to survey of aerial transportation made public yesterday by the transportation division of the State Railroad Commission.

The survey was made by Transportation Engineer Hunter and Assistant Transportation Engineer Shone, a qualified aviator, who state that as this new field of transportation is developed some State body undoubtedly will be called upon to administer proper State regulations and establish equitable and nondiscriminatory rates.

The prediction was made on the ground that New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania have already found it necessary to make rules governing the licensing of pilots, registration of aircraft, limitations of loads, flying altitudes, landing in public places and the establishment of airports to insure public safety and public convenience in the use of airplanes.

Such a step probably must be taken in California soon if the present rapid development of air lines is continued, according to the report.

The report reveals that there are seven commercial air lines operating on ten routes on schedule time and providing aerial service both between points in California and between California and other States, and many additional companies are also planning to use airplanes as common carriers of passengers, frieght, express and mail. According to the report, there are twenty-one municipal airports, thirty-one commercial landing fields, one airport operated by a county government, and four Federal airplane fields in this State, a total of fifty-seven.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

IT HAS been a long time since anyone has seized the popular imagination like this little Mexican girl, Lupe Velez.

She flirts with us over the radio; and we like it.

A CHARMING PEOPLE

And I mention the alluring Lupe for two reasons; she is an agreeable topic of conversation, and she is symptomatic.

The next thing that is going to happen to this country will be a tremendous vogue for everything Spanish. Rather Mexican than Spanish.

The Mexicans are an interesting, colorful and charming people. They have the easy graceful dignity of the Spanish—with a streak of the mystery and danger of the Indian. You feel there is considerable tiger cat behind Lupe's smoldering eyes.

THE SPANISH LANGUAGE

In California, we are learning jealously to guard our Spanish traditions and romance. But we ought to know more about the language.

There is about as much reason for California children to learn French as Choctaw Indian; but they ought to take Spanish in the grammar schools.

"ALICE IN WONDERLAND"

Dr. A. S. Rosenbach is coming home from England with $2,000,000 worth of rare books and manuscripts in his suit case, one of which is the manuscript of "Alice in Wonderland," for which he paid $77,000.

It was written by a professor of mathematics for a little girl. But no doubt, none of the adventures of Alice seemed as miraculous to the little girl as did the sale of this manuscript at auction—a fortune dumped into her lap . . . after she had grown up and was in need of money.

Were Lewis Carroll now alive it would doubtless be more of a miracle to him than to anyone else. In most cases, genius does it by accident. His life work consisted of some heavy volumes on the theory of mathematics.

"Alice" was just tossed off to please a child.

Just so, Anita Loos was so discouraged over "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" that she had to be persuaded to send it to a publisher. Mrs. Helen Hunt Jackson thought she had ruined "Ramona" by too much pro-Indian propaganda.

ROCKET-SHOOTING AUTOS

A German has invented a new kind of automobile which works by shooting skyrockets out of the back end.

When this new type of car becomes popular, the traffic on Broadway at 5 p.m. will acquire a new charm of excitement. Forty million motor cars dodging each other's skyrockets.

CONGRESS KICKS UP

The revolt of Congress against President Coolidge's vetoes very strongly suggests the last day of school—when all the fresh little boys feel the vacation spirit coming on.

With all the boys jumping the reservation, the President no doubt congratulates himself on his good judgment in that he did not choose to.

Congress has behaved about as long as possible. Whoever else in the White House for the next four years will not lack for exercise. So far as the home folks go, Congress seems to be due to run amuck; while, abroad, our international relations will be an aching tooth.

Young Gunman Suspect in Shooting of Two Officers Captured

TRACKED INTO ISOLATED BARN

Colored Youth Reported to Have Confessed

Gun Play Takes Place in Girl Kidnaping

Prisoner Believed Involved in Robberies Also

Tracked by police to an isolated barn near Fifty-fourth and Fortuna streets, Uoole Robison, colored, of 1926½ East Fourteenth street, was arrested early yesterday morning and lodged in the County Jail on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, attempted murder and grand theft.

Robison, who told officers he is 18 years of age, was the object of a man hunt for two days after he had shot and seriously injured Motorcycle Officer Andrews and less seriously wounded Capt. Smith, both of the Compton Police Department. The shooting occurred Thursday night, when the officers stopped Robison, Erwin Williams and two Mexican girls after they had sped through the Compton business district.

CONFESSION REPORTED

Taken to the Sheriff's office immediately after his arrest, Robison is said to have admitted the shooting of the two officers and the theft of the automobile in which he was riding. The car is the property of R. Wagner, a real-estate dealer of 4609 South Vermont avenue, and was stolen from the Ambassador.

The officers also are seeking to identify Robison with a series of hold-ups in outlying districts by two negroes. He is said to fit the description of one of the highwaymen.

Complaints charging the three felony counts will be issued today by the District Attorney's office, it was said. In case Motorcycle Officer Andrews, reported yesterday to be improving at Los Campanasas Hospital in Compton, dies, a murder charge will be laid against Robison.

The negro gunman was found hidden in the barn by Detective Lieutenants Kimbrough and Broady and Patrolman Scott, all colored officers, after an all-night search. He surrendered without a struggle.

WOMEN RELEASED

Saturday, Compton police released the two Mexican women, Julia Mesa, 948 Birch street, and Maria Torres Dominguez, 5537 Bandera street, when it was learned they had been forced into the stolen car by the two negroes at the point of a revolver. Williams is still held, but definite charges have not been laid against him.

The officers were shot by Robison when the speeding car was run into the curb on South Wilmington street in Compton after a stirring chase. The officers were attracted to the car and its occupants by the efforts of the women to escape and the great speed of the machine.

When the officers drew up to the car, Robison jumped from the seat and fired at them, one bullet striking Andrews in the chest.

Robison then escaped in the darkness. Police are seeking the gun used by Robison and which he threw away as he fled from the scene.

Stage Pair to be Greeted Today

Several stage and screen players of Los Angeles will join this morning in a reception at the Arcade Station for Eddie Buzzell and Ona Munson, musical comedy players, who are coming to Hollywood to make their debut in motion pictures. They have been placed under contract by Sam Sax, president of Gotham Productions, and will make their initial screen appearance in "The Head of the Family," based on the George Randolph Chester Saturday Evening Post story.

DANCERS ARRIVE FROM CANAL ZONE

Home on Vacation

THE atmosphere of Panama's night life was brought into port this week-end on the liner Mongolia, with the arrival of four entertainers from Kelly's Ritz cabaret.

The dancers are Los Angeles girls, home for vacations after six months in Panama City. They are Irene McKinney, Irene Howard, Lucille Beverly and Jean Le Burno.

Miss McKinney said the mechanical wonders of the canal overshadow, in her mind, the colorful and changing scene of tourists and seafarers at the Cross Roads of the World.

Hotel Promoter Switches Plea and Trial Ends

Trial of M. Lippner, charged with eleven counts of violating the Corporate Securities Act and one of grand theft in connection with the promotion of the Bear Valley Hotel, Inc., came to a sudden conclusion in Judge Schmidt's court when Lippner entered a plea of guilty to three of the counts.

Lippner is asserted to have disposed of stock in the hotel project contrary to law and otherwise than under provisions of a permit issued him by the State Corporation Commissioner's office. His trial had reached the half-way mark when counsel advised the court Lippner wished to enter a plea of guilty to three of the counts.

Lippner filed an application for probation which will be heard this week.

LLOYD OIL DEAL ACTION UP TO COURT

Buyers of Station Say Income Not as Promised and Ask Money Back

Judge R. Morgan Galbreth has under advisement decision in the case wherein Keith M. Lloyd, well-known athlete is the defendant.

The action was brought by James P. Jackson and E. W. Campbell who seek cancellation of the lease of the Keith Lloyd Super Service Station which they purchased from Lloyd.

Jackson and Campbell assert that when Lloyd sold them the station last October he represented to them he was selling them the lease and the equipment at a bargain.

In their testimony they asserted they paid $5000 for the lease and the equipment; $3366 for a stock of tires and auto supplies and $1000 for two months' rent at the rate of $500 per month.

The plaintiffs ask $8368, plus interest, and the privilege of turning back the establishment to the defendants.

They assert that the station, located at 1156 Vine street, is not paying a net return of $1000 a month which the defendants, they assert, said it was paying.

Keith Lloyd is a Los Angeles Athletic Club sprinter. He started sprinting for the University of Nebraska four years ago and was known as the best spurt man in the Middle West.

Sister of Actress Soon to Marry

Mrs. Athole S. Ward, sister of Norma Shearer, film actress, and Howard W. Hawks, director, have filed their notice of intention to marry at the County Clerk's office, it became known yesterday. They did not announce the date for the ceremony.

It is expected the couple will be married early next week, however. In filing the notice Mrs. Ward gave her age as 27 years and address as 2004 North Vine street, while Hawks said he is 31 and lives at 814 Benedict Canyon Drive, Beverly Hills. They announced their engagement last February. Hawks is under contract at the Fox studio.

Fatty Arbuckle Says He Again Faces Divorce

Probability of a divorce between Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, one-time screen comedian, and his actress-wife, Doris Deane, whom he married three years ago, loomed yesterday as Arbuckle admitted they are living apart—he at a Hollywood hotel and she at their Beverly Hills home.

The rotund comedian recently returned from a vaudeville tour of the East. When he returned to Hollywood the Arbuckle family "just didn't get along happily," he said, and he moved to a hotel.

Minta Durfee, Arbuckle's first wife, divorced him in 1934.

NEW ALARM SYSTEM TO AID SHERIFF

Teletype Will Provide Quick Reports on Crime to Substations

Installation of a teletype system between the Sheriff's office and all substations is planned by Sheriff Traeger in his campaign against crime in Los Angeles county, it was revealed yesterday.

The system will enable officers at the Sheriff's central office to spread an alarm of any major crime to all substations in Los Angeles county within four minutes, including complete descriptions of the criminals, license numbers of automobiles used, and other information necessary in the pursuit of criminals.

According to Sheriff Traeger, the instruments are automatic and print the message sent on machines at the receiving end. The operator at the central office will be required to punch a tape which when fed into the transmitting machine will send the message to all stations simultaneously in the same manner as now employed by the police department.

The constantly increasing population of Los Angeles county and the consequent increase of crime has made this step necessary to compete with criminals, Sheriff Traeger said.

In the past it has been necessary for deputy sheriffs to make individual calls to all substations when spreading an alarm of a major crime or disaster. This frequently requires twenty minutes. The saving of approximately fifteen minutes time in spreading this information under the teletype system will result in the capture of many criminals, the Sheriff believes.

MORMONS GATHER FOR DEDICATION

Huntington Park Temple Services Attract Crowd; Salt Lake City Man Speaks

With hundreds unable to gain admittance to the auditorium at Huntington Park, where the services were held, the new tabernacle erected by the Los Angeles Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints was dedicated yesterday.

The edifice, which cost $135,000, is of Spanish design and includes a recreation center which is to serve as a gathering-place for religious activities. The auditorium has a seating capacity of 1000 persons and a stage is provided which will accommodate a choir of nearly 200 singers. The new structure is located at Zoe and Middleton streets.

The principal speaker at the dedication ceremonies was Orson F. Whitney of Salt Lake City, known as the "philosopher-poet of the twelve apostles." Music was provided by a chorus of 200 voices, under the direction of William Sault.

The Los Angeles Stake has a membership of 5000 and is one of the three largest in California.

Two Half Orphans Arrive on Ship From Panama

Two Central American youngsters, Felix Levey, 10 years of age, and his sister, Sara, 8, came from Panama alone on the Mongolia this week-end. They speak no English and are en route to San Francisco to join their father, an importer, following the death of their mother.

Other passengers arriving included Mrs. Wallace Dillon, wife of Lieut. Dillon, navy aviator with the battle fleet; His Reverence Jose Maitzegu, Bishop of Colon, en route here for an extended vacation, and Mrs. Marie Duque wife of the Vice-President of Panama.

EARLY HEARING ASKED BY LEWIS

He and Berman to Surrender in Court Today

Pair Accused of Fraud in Oil Company Deals

Forty-one Julian Defendants Appear Tomorrow

Demanding an immediate trial in Federal Court on charges of conspiracy to use the mails to defraud, S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, and Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, known as Lewis's right-hand man in the management of the defunct company, will surrender to United States Commissioner Head today at 10 a.m., they announced yesterday.

Denying that they made an attempt to evade the service of the warrants of arrest, the two principals of the Julian failure yesterday declared they informed Federal inspectors immediately after the hearing if they were wanted on a Federal charge they would appear this morning, acknowledge service and post bond in the sum of $25,000. All arrangements for the required bond were completed yesterday, and at the formal appearance Rex B. Goodcell, attorney for Berman, and Lewis, acting as his own attorney, will request the earliest date possible for a hearing before the Federal Court.

NOT BASED ON TRIAL

The complaint against Lewis and Berman is not based on the recent Julian trial in which both were acquitted on two counts of conspiracy by a jury in the court of Superior Judge Doran. It concerns a specific instance in which the two promoters are asserted to have used the mails to swindle M. A. Boesch of Burlington, Iowa, out of $24,000 in connection with the operations of the Lewis Oil Company, a Delaware corporation. It is charged that Lewis was the head of the company, and that the public lost large sums of money in the management.

The prosecution is based on a letter written by Lewis and Berman from Los Angeles to Burlington on May 5, 1926. The case has been under investigation by postal authorities and U. S. Atty. McNabb and Assistants Peterson and Armstrong for some weeks. The Federal officials decline to discuss the case, but it is understood that filing of the complaints awaited the outcome of the Superior Court trial here.

DEFENDANTS CALLED

Forty-one remaining defendants in the Julian oil cases, all prominent in the business life of Los Angeles, charged with conspiracy to commit usury in exacting exorbitant interest in loans to the Julian company, and two bankers charged with conspiracy to violate the State banking laws, will appear before Judge Doran tomorrow at 10 a.m. The two bankers were scheduled to appear for trial on July 19, while the remainder were to be in court in September.

Judge Doran has made no explanation of his action in requiring the appearance tomorrow. Keyes declines to comment on the action of Judge Doran, and declares he has no inkling of the reason for the appearances tomorrow.

AIRPORTS ON TAPIS TODAY FOR COUNCIL

Question of Leasing Up; Contract Options Hint Hopes of Bond Issue

The City Council is scheduled to consider today the report of its Finance Committee recommending the leasing for ten years for municipal-airport purposes of the Mines Field of 640 acres and the Van Nuys Field of 380 acres.

The Mines Field is located between Inglewood and El Segundo; the Van Nuys Field in the San Fernando Valley, the site being bounded by Roscoe street, Balboa avenue, Saticoy street and White Oak avenue. The lease agreements recommended by the Finance Committee include options to purchase the sites.

This would indicate that a municipal-airport bond issue may be submitted again, probably next year. The members of the committee believe that if the fields are leased, developed and put in use their success will insure the approval of the bond issue the next time it is submitted.

The Mines site was one of the three fields proposed to be purchased under the $6,000,000 airport bond issue which failed to carry on the 1st inst. The Van Nuys site is a substitute for the Seamon field in the San Fernando Valley, which was the second of the three sites then proposed. The Vail Field on Telegraph Road, the third site named in the bond issue proposal, was not mentioned in the Finance Committee report.

The proposed rental of the Mines site is $96,000 the first year and $124,800 each year for the remaining nine years of the lease. The annual rental of the Van Nuys site is $79,920. The purchase price of the Mines site ranges from $1,920,000 the first year to $2,240,000 the third year. The purchase price of the Van Nuys site is $1,332,000 during the option period.

H. J. Heffron, president of the Bach Airport Company, declared the establishment of the Van Nuys Airport will result in the construction of manufacturing plants which will represent an investment of from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000.

L. L. St. John, president of the Hollywood Group Corporation, said that in event the city does not lease the Van Nuys site the owners of the property will go ahead and develop it.

RECORD MADE BY AIR EXPRESS

Trip From Bay City Takes 2 Hours, 50 Minutes

Fastest Time Ever Recorded for This Run

Daily Service Each Way Now Operating

The Los Angeles-San Francisco aerial passenger route, established Saturday by Western Air Express, Inc., yesterday assumed the role of a regularly established transportation system, but the day saw the establishing of one aerial record.

The plane from San Francisco, due under schedule to reach here at 1:30 o'clock, settled down at Vail Field at 1:20, after having made the flight from the Bay City to Los Angeles in two hours and fifty minutes. It is the fastest time ever made by a passenger airplane operating between the two cities.

The northbound plane left Vail Field promptly at 10:30 o'clock and arrived at San Francisco at 1:30 p.m. One of the more interesting passengers was Mme. Louise Malstrom, of Hotel Rosslyn, who has made trips in every known means of transportation, including a 500-mile trek in Alaska on a dog sled.

HUNDREDS AT FIELD

On the plane that arrived from San Francisco were several Los Angeles residents who had made the trip to the northern city when the service was inaugurated the day before. The passenger list included John D. Gage, J. B. Ransom, W. D. Longyear, Miss Gwendolyn Longyear, A. E. Adams, Gus A. Walker, George Hart, H. B. Banta, Miss H. Jacques, Dr. R. H. Young, R. V. Payne and J. F. Vordermark.

Hundreds of people assembled at Vail Field to watch the take-off of the northbound plane at 10:30 a.m. and other hundreds were present to witness the arrival of the plane from San Francisco on its record-making trip. It was piloted by Capt. Norman E. Potter.

CONDITIONS PERFECT

"The flying conditions were perfect," said Capt. Potter, "and I am confident all the passengers enjoyed the trip. My log shows that we made the flight in two hours and fifty minutes, and we spent at least ten minutes making a complimentary circle over the Oakland airport."

Maj. C. C. Moseley, in charge of operations for Western Air Express, said that from now on the service will be maintained regularly with a plane leaving Vail Field for San Francisco at 10:30 every morning and a similar plane leaving Mills Field, San Francisco, for Los Angeles at the same moment. The schedule calls for the flight between the two cities to be made in three hours and the pilots predict this flying time may be cut fifteen or twenty minutes.

TWO SCHOOL TUNNELS TO BE STARTED

Construction of Subways Will Complete Program Paid Out of Bond Issue

Practically completing the city's program for installing pedestrian subways under major traffic arteries near public schools, two new school tunnels are to be constructed in the near future. The Board of Public Works will open bids Thursday.

One of the new tunnels will be located at Vine street and Barton avenue, and the other at Venice Boulevard and Seventh avenue. Construction of the fortieth and last tunnel obtainable from available funds, planned for Huntington Drive and El Serreno, is being delayed pending the construction of storm drains.

Forty tunnels were made possible through the passage of the $350,000 pedestrian subway bond issue, sponsored in 1925 by the Traffic Commission. Los Angeles, in voting these bonds, has taken leadership in protecting its school-children, no other city having contemplated carrying through such a program.

According to City Engineer Shaw, there are now on file forty-five requests from parent-teacher associations and improvement groups for additional tunnels, and the Board of Education has likewise submitted a list of locations.

Los Angeles is declared by the Traffic Commission to have saved money by building these tunnels, through the elimination of police officers, who would otherwise be assigned to protect school-children at these points. The cost of the forty officers, working half-time on school crossings, would be $48,000 a year, while the interest on the bonds amounts to only approximately $15,750 a year, it is pointed out. Tunnels also provide positive safety, without interrupting motor vehicle and street-car traffic.

Beauty Parade to be Feature of Music Show

A parade of scores of prize-beauty candidates was announced yesterday by E. H. Uhl, president of the Western Music Trades Association, as one of the attractions at the International Music Pageant and Exposition, June 18 to 30, at the Ambassador Auditorium.

Girls, participating in the event, he said, will be contestants in the "California Joan of Art" contest, now being conducted by the association. Music dealers of Los Angeles are seeking a young woman of pleasing personal address, whom they expect to send on a world tour, talking in foreign countries on Los Angeles music and art culture.

The parade, it was said, will proceed past the board of judges, who will decide which girl goes on the important errand.

YOUNG COMPOSER'S PRIZE SONG SOLD

Miss Anita Wright

Music Honors Taken by Girl

Miss Anita Wright, 18-year-old daughter of Mrs. Arthur Wright, 2433 South Flower street, has taken first in song composition at the annual concert of the theory of music classes of Mills College, where she will take her degree in music and French with the graduating class next month. She was graduated from Marlborough School four years ago when but 14. Publishing rights to the prize song, called "The Young May Moon," have been purchased by a San Francisco music house.

Miss Wright was elected to the Mills Honor Society, a much-coveted recognition of high scholastic standing, last month. After her graduation she will go abroad to continue her study of music, Mrs. Wright said yesterday. Her father, the late Arthur Wright, an attorney, was a vice-president of the Southern California Telephone Company.

CATHOLICS OF MEXICO TO PARADE

Feast of Corpus Christi to be Celebrated With Grand Processional

Los Angeles is to witness the greatest celebration of the feast of Corpus Christi to be held anywhere in America this year.

Ten thousand Mexican Catholics, led by two bishops of their race, as well as monsignori and priests, will escort the consecrated host through the streets of the Belvedere section from the Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe to that of Nuestra Senora de la Soledad—Our Lady of Solitude—where the ceremonies will conclude. The celebration will take place Sunday, June 10.

All religious societies among the Mexican people will take part, bearing their banners and distinctive badges, Men, women, boys and girls will march in sections, singing hymns and repeating prayers as the procession slowly winds its way from 4123 Fisher street to Soledad Church at 4549 Brooklyn avenue.

The Blessed Sacrament, borne under the traditional canopy, will be accompanied by Bishop Manrique of Huesupma, Mex., and Bishop Manuel Zacidia of Tepic. At intervals along the route benediction will be pronounced over the kneeling throngs, and the ceremony will culminate with the final adoration of the host and benediction at Soledad Church.

CEMETERIES LIABLE FOR STREET FEES

Judge Holds Old Statute Does Not Exempt from City Assessments

This is the ruling of Judge Gould in the case wherein the defendants, the American Security Company, endeavored to invoke the Rural Cemeteries Act of 1859 to keep from paying the assessments on street improvements near Forest Lawn Cemetery. The action was begun by A. E. Vaughan.

Answering the assertions of Vaughan, the defendant company brought forth the old act, contending that under the act the cemetery property is not compelled to pay for the street assessment, being exempt under the law. The company asserted the property received no benefits from the assessments, therefore should not be made to pay.

Judge Gould held that the act does not apply in this case, also that the company has failed to go before the City Council with a complaint. He awarded Vaughan a judgment in the sum of $1437.83.

STUDENTS TO STUDY DAM DISASTER AREA

Twenty-three miles of the St. Francis Dam flood area will be followed and studied by University of Southern California geology and petroleum engineering students tomorrow when they will spend the entire day on an excursion investigating rock formations, fault lines, fossils and the various contacts between different formations of geologic time. Prof. Allen E. Sedgwick, head of the geology department at the Trojan university and recently chairman of the District Attorney's commission appointed to investigate the dam collapse, is in charge of the trip which will be taken by 175 students.

MANHATTAN SMITHY

Walking through West Sixty-seventh street from Central Park on a recent afternoon, I was surprised to hear the clang of an anvil. Inasmuch as this block is largely filled with the studios of painters, sculptors and illustrators, my curiosity was aroused by the smithy sounds. Hidden between two buildings I came upon a blacksmith shop and halted in the doorway to watch the shoeshoers at their work. The horses that are brought to the shop are those from the riding academies and private stables near by. The boss blacksmith told me that he and his leather-aproned aids were kept more busy than in the days when Dobin was supreme upon the streets. Horseback riding, he said, is increasing in popularity and the horse population of the neighborhood is steadily increasing.—[Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Today's Bible Text

Blessed be the Lord God of Israel from everlasting to everlasting: and let all the people say, Amen. Praise ye the Lord. Psalm cvi:48.

THE OVERHEAD

Any time they take a vote in this county the returns show the Angels hovering 'round.

THE PEEKERS

By November the smelling committee of the Senate will be able to figure up what each vote cost and what it was worth.

KEEP 'EM STRAIGHT

The barber says that Congress ought to pass an act forbidding people from breaking the laws. Seems rather harsh, but maybe it would be all right.

ON THE LINKS

There must be a number of classy golfers in the country. It seems that there are nearly 1100 entries in the national championship. Walter Hagen and Bobby Jones will not play it off without competition.

ANOTHER NAPOLEON

When a man can buy a piece of land for $50,000 and then turn around and mortgage the property for a cash loan of $100,000 he really ought to go into Wall street and show the boys how to do business.

OLD HEIDELBERG

A hotel keeper at Heidelberg is reported as saying that 90 per cent of the American tourists visiting his town do not drink beer. Even Mr. Volstead might question this figure. What in heck do the Americans go to Heidelberg for?

NOT GUILTY

When it comes to jury service our women do not seem to have their convictions with them. At least the juries made up mainly of skirts do not like to find the defendant guilty. A few more women of stern conviction would expedite justice.

THE BIG MONEY

Under the terms of a long lease a Broadway lot is now bringing more in annual rental than was paid for the lot some twenty-odd years ago. The men and women with foresight to invest their money in the de luxe business section don't have to worry over their meals.

THE TOP NOTCHER

If Col. Lindbergh is to direct the activities of the new transcontinental air mail service it will start with eclat. The public will take a wholesome and deep interest from the outset. Likewise the job is in keeping with the lone eagle's determination to make aviation his career.

THE PARACHUTE HABIT

Now that they can make parachutes that will ease and stay the fall of an entire plane and its passengers further safety is accorded to the air game. Americans are likely to get the parachute habit. A thousand years from now angels may be drawn with parachutes instead of wings. The trouble is that right now some thoughtless bozo will step off Mt. Baldy with nothing much in hand but an umbrella.

PASSING THE BUCK

The Attorney-General of the United States emphatically declares that the farm relief bill as passed by Congress is unconstitutional. For more than one reason the law would not stand the test of the courts. Accordingly, the President vetoes it. The solons think it clever if they can make a goat of the executive. They pass the farm relief bill and then get out from under. The circumstance that the law may not be worth the paper it is written on worries them not.

NEED THE MONEY

They are trying to work out a plan whereby a part of the State revenue from motor licenses or gasoline tax could be used for the benefit of the victims of hit-and-run autoists. It might at least help to bury them, but will the politicians consent to any diversion of the funds? They already have the money spent before they get it. Those who got bumped by a vanishing motorist are in hard luck, indeed. It may yet be advisable to provide a death penalty for evaders.

THE POWER OF BEAUTY

In a recent address to the American Federation of Arts President Coolidge struck an exceptionally high note in a plea for the infusion of more art and beauty into national life. He took for his text a theme that might well command the attention of all looking for a still better America, and he summed up his subject in the following eloquent words:

> If we could surround ourselves with forms of beauty, the evil things of life would tend to disappear and our moral standards would be raised. Through our contact with the beautiful we see more of the truth and are brought into closer contact with the infinite.

The President points out how philanthropy, in the shape of art galleries and museums, has given the people access to the best in form and color; how science and invention are banishing drudgery and drabness; how industry and commerce are employing artistry to beautify the things in everyday use; how general prosperity, high wages and reasonable hours of labor supply the means and the time to cultivate the artistic spirit for all who are willing to reach out and possess it.

But the climax of his address was reached in connecting a taste for the beautiful with the establishment of a higher moral standard. Not art for art's sake, as has so often been preached before; not beautiful things merely for an appeal to esthetic tastes; not musems and galleries to stir a passing wonder or while away an unoccupied hour; but a cultivation of forms of beauty, so interise and so widespread, that the evil things of life will disappear before them.

Such an approach to the ideals of religion by the path of beauty is something of a departure from the old conception of the broad and narrow highway. Yet if beauty can widen the difficult trail so that greater numbers may tread it more easily, why not employ it to clear the thorns and brambles that only hamper the journey along the road to heaven? Cleanliness is akin to godliness—this has been long an accepted truth. It is equally true that beautiful surroundings are closely related to moral standards.

In America today an opportunity presents itself to elevate our thoughts and ideals by possessing ourselves of the many beautiful things placed within our reach, a blessing denied in the days when the only advance was along the steep and narrow road. We have been granted a new and powerful agency for good in the democratizing of beauty; by art and science, by philanthropy and the diffusion of wealth, brought directly into the lives of the people.

As President Coolidge pointed out, if we realize the power of translating this art into conduct, we may by it raise our living standards, see more of truth and come closer to infinity. Ruskin was a prophet of the true and beautiful; the President has carried the idea a step farther to the beautiful and moral.

"MY DAD"

When the Supervisor of Schools in Belleville, N. J., asked 682 wholesome boys who they would rather be if not themselves, 363 said Lindbergh; 110 Coolidge; and then the ballot shrank down through Ford, Edison, Al Smith, Pershing, Gene Tunney, Rockefeller, Jack Dempsey Babe Ruth, and finally ended in "My Dad," who got two lonesome votes. But at least he did get two.

With the poetry of Mother's Day dying away a memory, dad wonders sometimes why he has never inspired more zeal. He realizes that it is difficult to preach on his past. He knows the difficulty of singing about driving a truck or jumping a counter from daylight till dark. However, this does not poultice the hurt he feels.

He knows he is not much of a necessity around the house until pay day comes. And that is of such short duration because of the brevity of his roll of long green. Even paying for the gasoline and blowouts is soon forgotten.

As an abiding attraction he feels he cannot compete with mother who doles out the pie and bread and jelly. He laments that he cannot be around to kiss the bumps and make them well—he has to devote himself to taking them.

He is ashamed to bring his weary feet home at night and his grimy hands and clothes. He is sorry he is too tired to play ball or go to the function. He shrinks farther into the corner when his boy says he will not be caught in the same trap.

Dad feels it when his tracks lead to the shop six and sometimes seven days in the week and realizes his footprints on the sands of time are not peculiarly alluring. He knows there is more noise in the grandstands over the tracks Babe Ruth makes around the bases.

But when dad does make good in his job and leaves his troubles behind the gate, "For Employees Only," and is honored by his family and loved by his son, he is not wholly wanting in recompense. Bringing home the bacon may not be as spectacular as flying across the ocean, and being head of the family lacking some of the glamour of being President of the nation; but when he does inspire his boy to want to be like him, he has arrived, and is a huge success as a dad.

ONE-THIRD INCOMPLETE

In approving the code of ethics adopted by the California State Bar, the Supreme Court has held back for further consideration a rule which would require an attorney to notify the court if he learns that his client has testified falsely or has attempted to perpetrate any fraud in connection with a suit. No doubt some such rule will ultimately be adopted and this rule is merely passed over pending critical analysis of its phrasing. But it was the only rule in the list that even hinted that any lawyer has a duty to the public.

The rules cover the subjects of a lawyer's relations with his client and of a lawyer's relations with other lawyers. But the third subject, what is or should be required of a lawyer as officer of the court, and under his oath to protect and defend the constitution and the laws, is not yet touched upon.

This phase is obviously the most important and it seems in order to point out that it was the phase which the public had most in mind when it approved the self-governing bar bill.

The standards of the bar are not to be raised by considering law as a business. They are to be raised by considering it as a vocation entailing public responsibility and giving opportunity for public service, and in which legitimate profits are not to be despised but are to be considered incidental to more worth-while rewards.

THE NEW CALENDAR

The women's clubs of the country are expected to inspire much of the demand for the adoption of a new calendar. The one favored was presented to the League of Nations by Moses B. Cotsworth, an English expert and is said to have been preferred above 180 other suggestions and entries. Possibly there is no frantic urge for a new calendar. The banker and the installment man know all about the one we have. At the same time there is good argument in favor of a change.

The big idea is to have a year with thirteen months, which is also the basis of the Eastman plan. This ought to make a hit with the landlord. If he has another month's rent coming to him every year he should at least be able to pay his taxes without mortgaging the place. But by the same token the man who is paid by the month would also rise up and call the new year blessed.

There would be thirteen months of twenty-eight days each. The first day of every month would always be Sunday and the days of the month would always be the same. There would be a Friday the 13th in thirteen months of the year. All the legal holidays would be fixed on Monday—as far as possible, and thereby give the citizen a double-header. The new month, Sol, would be placed between June and July. The three hundred and sixty-fifth day would be inserted between Saturday, December 28, and Sunday, January 1. Leap year day would fall between June 28 and the first of the new month, Sol.

The new calendar would be a great help to the memory. All meetings, pay days and monthly affairs would fall on the same date and day. The pawnbroker and the banker would have an easy time computing interest and the average merchant would have a turnover thirteen times a year instead of twelve. It is figured by the sharps that the change would result in the release of an approximately extra billion dollars for the year. Let the citizen take out his pencil and figure the thing out for himself.

The women's clubs will know at once why they want another month in the year.

THE YES-MAN

The other day President Coolidge notified Congress that he had vetoed eight bills passed by that august body. To please constituents and to carry favor to voters in certain blocs, Congressmen give their approval to many bills, and put it up to the man in the White House to say, "No!" for them. Gov. Fuller of Massachusetts says that the principal service he has contributed to his commonwealth the past four years has been to say "No."

No matter what is proposed, the yes-man favors it. In politics, in religion, or at the social function, he never irritates by opposition. He "yeses" every proposition that arises. It is the peculiar weakness of the politician. He is pleasant company, for you are certain of having your own way. You may be even bored for excitement, but he never furnishes it.

However, the yes-man doe not make a good bank president; for that official must give the negative to many a loan. He does not become great as a movie producer; for what he refuses has as much to do with success as any other element. He makes a poor editor; for the waste basket as well as the column in the paper determines his value. He makes a dangerous parent; for the yes-man in the home rears a band of hoodlums. He makes a poor President; for that dignitary must rescue his country from the vagaries of weaklings and cranks.

Great leadership requires the no-man as frequently as the yes-man. If a car was meant to go and never stop, it would be made all wheels and no brakes. If it were meant to stop and never go, it would be all brakes and no wheels. Being valuable for both going and stopping, it has four wheels and as many brakes.

The man who eternally says "Yes" is headed for disaster. The man who always says "No" is not headed at all. The truly great are both positive and negative upon occasion. On the other hand the one may be a destroyer and the other an obstructor. One may be a bore and the other a nuisance.

A JINGO HYMN

As reflecting the intensity of the sentiment against war now ruling the British heart the action of the Brighton church choir in refusing to sing Kipling's "Hymn Before Action" is significant. This song was assigned to the choir along with other choirs in a competitive musical festival, but was not deemed by the dissenting singers to be fit for the purpoee, their spokesman saying that the words might be appropriate enough for use "by savages bent on slaughter," but that they were "unfit to be sung by a choir in a Christian church."

The hymn represents the earth as "full of anger" and the seas as "dark with wrath," and calls upon "Jehovah of the Thunders" to aid in putting down the enemy. It pleads for divine protection from "revenge that knows no rein," such protection being for the "true foemen" as represented by British warriors.

There is jingoism of the super-militant kind to be found in many of Kipling's poems. He is fond of lauding Tommy Atkins. Gen. Roberts received his unstinted praise. He wrote hot stuff of the lyrical sort during the World War. But in his "Recessional" he revealed a chastened spirit, as for example in these lines:

"The tumult and the shouting dies,
The captains and the kings depart;
Still stands thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart."

If those who had the selection of the hymn to be sung at the Brighton festival had wanted something to express the peace spirit why did they not choose the "Recessional"?

THE BRIDGE GAME

One of the country's famed bridge experts, who makes a lot of money by giving instruction or writing about the game, admits that he doesn't like to play it. He says that it invites too much argument and disseminates discord in the home. This confession is rather surprising, as bridge is the pet diversion of polite society. If post mortems are dispensed with there isn't much chance for a fight.

LEE SIDE O' LA

By Lee Shippey

THEY ride the same Gardner Junction car night after night. He is—or was—one of those men who persistently cross their knees and slide forward in their street car seats, either poking one knee into the back of the passenger ahead or swinging both feet sideways into the aisle, so that the foot on the floor trips passers while the elevated one is wiped clean by their skirts or trousers. And she looks like an enlarged edition of Ida M. Tarbell—kind and generous and calm, but not the person to turn aside or shrink from duty.

Three nights in a row she bumped a knee against the aisle-hog's elevated foot, leaving the car with a broad smear of dust on her skirt. And she was perfectly pleasant about it. But the fourth evening, as she came urbanely but swiftly down the aisle, she sighted for the foot on the floor, and accidentally stepped squarely on it—with her heel. The next evening she did the same thing, and the evening following was again unable to avoid the outstretched foot. Each time she politely murmured, "Oh, excuse me," and there was not a hint that the accident was intentional. But there are many people who are thick-skinned enough in the head who are extremely sensitive in the feet—and now there is at least one less aisle-hog in the city.

Resolution Broken

Often we have sworn that never, under any circumstances, will we launch a drive for funds.

But we have just read that in Mesopotamia a suit of armor 3500 years old has been dug up—still in pretty good condition.

Rally round, fathers. Let's raise a fund of $1,000,000,000 to send all the manufacturers of boys' clothes in America to Mesopotamia to study that suit and plan an adaptation of it for American needs.

All dads who wish to contribute to this noble cause are invited to send their checks to G. R. Q., Wallingford, care Lee-side, and they will always have a handsomely embossed receipt to show for them.

P.S.: Please make all checks payable to "Cash," as we may find it convenient to cash most of them at our corner grocery.

A Morning Eye-Opener

At last we have a standard for comparison. It is a well-established fact that hogs delight in eating live rattlesnakes, and apparently suffer no ill-effects from their bites. Now, in Quincy, Ill., a sheriff is being sued because captured bootleg which he poured out carelessly killed five hogs.

Impatience of Youth

Leeside: A young couple out here in Van Nuys have decided not to order a popular new flivver, but to have a baby. They can't afford both, so chose the one on which they could get quickest delivery.—G. W. J.

A Staid Midwestern Party

Dear Lee: People who don't know, especially in the virtuous Middle West, are fond of talking of "wild Hollywood parties." But, as the milch goat said to the cow, there are udders. I've attended a good many parties in Hollywood, but none like the one described in the following clipping from a Leavenworth (Kan.) paper:

A Leavenworth hostess received last week, following a party she had given, an abject apology from one of her guests, regretting exceedingly his deplorable conduct and humbly craving her pardon for the breach of etiquette in doing the following things, which should not happen at a well-conducted gathering:
Striking hostess with bottle.
Boisterous singing.
Excessive screaming.
Extreme inebriation.
Excessive destruction of furniture.
Complete loss of equilibrium.
Throwing glasses.
Indiscreet petting.
Removing garments.
Organizing cut-throat crap games.
Incessant laughter.
Breaking up bridge game.
Objectionable snoring.
Phoning uninvited guests.
Refusing to go home.

SLEEPING SICKNESS

BY CHARLES COKE WOODS

An apparently insignificant scratch on the foot of a great man's son cost the lad his life. It was more than a match for the greatest surgical and medical skill. In sleeping sickness the victim strangely sleeps his life away. He is oblivious to the ordinary awareness of wakefulness. But do we not know it to be a practical fact that each of these maladies has its analogue in the mental and moral spheres?

A certain spiritual and moral apathy amounting to stupidity seems to have stricken millions of mankind. Ordinary sanity believes everywhere that what a man sows in his field he shall reap. The harvests are like the sowings and they are of the same quality as the seed sown. But thousands who would not think of questioning these simple and familiar sequences seem totally blind to the fact that the same law holds in human life, in conduct, and in character.

Nevertheless, the handwriting of destiny today is as legible as it was on the wall at Belshazzar's feast. Times have changed, but the laws of destiny have not. Darkness is as dark as it ever was and the light is as light. The truth is as true as ever and the lie runs with unfailing certainty sooner or later into the tangled net of disappointment and despair. We do not need to be religious fanatics to recall what Anne of Austria said to Richelieu: "My Lord Cardinal, God does not pay at the end of every week, but at the end he pays." It is the moral sleeping sickness that fails to see it. Alas, that the spell of this sickness has fallen wide on our country and our world.

Strange that our multitudinous discoveries of remedies for physical ills should have blinded us to our uncured psychic ills. Our discoveries have not healed certain ailments of the discoverers. There is a deep in man that calls for something deeper than telescopes, electrons, cosmic rays, and scientific curiosities. This is the plaint of the first article in Harper's of last February. That thoughtful author raises a timely question in his title which asks, "Is Science a Blind Alley?" He is strong in his appreciations of science and its amazing discoveries and ministries, but reminds us of the deeper needs unsatisfied and the deeper hungers unfed. The deepest needs of man call for science, but they also call for science-plus. There is something in us that will not consent to our deepest dreams all ending in the dust.

Yet this psychic blood poisoning and sleeping sickness would blot from life the last vestige of spiritual vision. The secret of all perished and perishing nations and peoples is given in one luminous sentence from the book of Proverbs. It reads, "Where there is no vision the people perish." We have never paid our prophets and poets for their inspirational and visional contributions to the lives of nations. They have been the antidote for national blood poisoning and sleeping sickness in every century. No nation has been saved by gold or glory. Too much material possession may starve a nation's soul. Exterior causes have never killed a nation. Not until the great interior is ravaged does any people die.

The creative poet and the seer have preceded every people's climax of greatness. There was never any great national arrival without the trumpetings of the singers. The Hebrews had their Miriam, their Isaiah and their David. The Romans had their Virgil and the Greeks their Homer. That no songless nation ever came to world supremacy is worth thinking about for a long time. Vision and vitality are the cardinal qualities of the great creative poets. These also are the qualities of the great nations. Those British statesmen who created the poet laureateship were far-seeing seers. Tennyson's messages filtered down into the minds of England's rank-and-file with more inspirational power than the words of the Queen. Our own New England poets, Whittier, Holmes, Longfellow, Lowell, Bryant and Emerson, created a literature and a civilization. And their inspirations and ideals in the minds and hearts of Americans did more than our guns to keep us on the map of the world.

A good dose of idealism is the best possible antidote for an overdose of materialism. Hushed music is a harbinger of hushed hearts. Does the blood-poison of literary sensuality threaten to hush our songs and our souls? Has not a strange sleeping sickness fallen upon us? Why are we not awake to the necessity of respect for law? Why are we asleep to the necessity of decent marriage? Why this lethargy toward the need of spiritual education in righteousness?

We are more in need of idealism than of ideas. We have so many ideas now we don't know what to do with them. But in business, in society, in marriage, in education, in politics, in matters of world peace, and even in religion, we are short on idealism. Alice Cooper, one of California's distinguished educators, begins her latest volume, "Poems of Youth," with a striking utterance by Don Marquis. He notes Tigris, Babylon and forgotten empires that dreamed or sinned. Then he starts in as if to name their names, their legends, their conquests and their gods and summarizes with dramatic swiftness thus:

"Their names were—Ask oblivion! They had no poet, and they died." Then the same with regard to their legends, their conquests, their gods. "They had no poet, and they died." It is not fancy, but fact. That is a lesson to which we need to unstop our ears these noisy days. We need to take warning from the dust heaps of the ancient empires which, when they lost their vision, stumbled into the chasm. "They had no poet, and they died." Even a nation may be deaf and dumb and blind.

PARIS POLICE

BY EVELYN McDOWELL

At last the Paris police have taken up the matter of controlling pedestrians crossing the streets, which has been practiced so long in Los Angeles. And, as was the case in California, the liberty-loving pedestrians of Paris are not taking any too kindly to being regulated.

A number of days of grace were allowed after the ordinance technically went into effect, and traffic officers were usually kind and long-suffering while they tried to educate us to the new ways. But now Monsieur or Madame Pieton, who attempts to hop, skip and jump, as of yore, between swiftly rushing taxis and clumsy autobusses, is pursued as well by the shrill whistle of the traffic officer. When the time seems propitious and a sufficient number of impatient pedestrians have gathered at a corner, the officer holds up his white club, halts the stream of autos, and permits the footmen to pass. It always reminds me of the Israelites crossing the Red Sea.

The war really must be over. What makes me think so? Well, the Prefect of Police of Berlin has been paying a friendly visit to the Paris Prefect of Police and studying the handling of traffic and other problems, as well as giving pointers as to the way certain things are managed in Berlin. He praised the successful effort which the Paris Prefect has been making in recent weeks to purge the city of "undesirables," and the fact that candidates for election are provided with movable billboards on which to post the advertisements setting forth their platforms and their qualifications for the office to which they aspire. "In Berlin," he said, "candidates do not hesitate to stick their posters even on public monuments." He expressed the special desire for completing a liaison between the police departments of the two cities for the purpose of dealing with international criminals.

The two-legged billboards, about three or four feet square, with which Paris streets are now adorned are a characteristic feature of French political campaigns. Each boarding is numbered, and the number is registered at the Prefecture of Police in the name of the candidate to whom it is assigned. Any person using a board not thus reserved for him is liable to punishment. Paper of every hue is fed to the printing presses to come forth as electoral posters to cover these boards, and one recognizes the candidate's political affiliations almost at a glance from the color of his poster. It doesn't require an unusually keen intellect to surmise that the man who delights in fiery red is a Communist, for example, or that he who backs his appeal with the tri-color is a member of the Nationalist party. These advertisements attract crowds of readers all day long. The artful ones among the candidates keep the electors interested by giving them something new to read every week or so. This method saves much campaign oratory.

The Paris Prefecture of Police has recently issued regulations requiring all foreigners to apply for cards of identity within forty-eight hours after their arrival in France. While this rule has been technically in force for some time, no penalty has been exacted heretofore if application for a card was made within two months after arrival. Now the rule is to be strictly enforced. Also, a foreigner must have his card properly stamped at the commissariat of his district before changing his residence, and before leaving France. There is no charge for these registrations, but a failure to comply with the rules is liable to cause trouble to a foreigner arriving at a new place of residence or returning to France.

GARDEN OF EDEN

Where was the garden of early Biblical times, in which Adam came into being? In Asia, perhaps, in the center of which there might have been at one time a garden of natural splendor now erased from earth by earthquakes and climatic changes. Human remains thought to date back 500,000 years have been found in Java, once a part of Asia, according to geologists. Mongolia has yielded implements of a period 50,000 years in the past. Geologists, Egyptologists, archeologists and anthropologists are all seeking the cradle of the human race described in the Bible. One reason why it is so hard to find is that the garden in which it rocked has apparently become a desert.

NEED A WHALE POND

The Bronx Zoo recently added to its exhibits a large number of Galapagos turtles—believed to be nearing extinction. The American bison is preserved in reservations that constitute living museums for the big cattle that used to roam the plains by the thousand. There are many similar examples of the preservation of rare species. But what of the whale? Fast cruising steamships with explosive harpoons are reducing the whale population of the seven seas at such a rate that betimes there will be but few left. And where is there a pond big enough to preserve a school of the sea-going mammals?

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

AFTERTHOUGHT

I saw a woman in the jail where sad-eyed people languish; I saw her weep, I heard her wail, remorse was hers, and anguish. She thought her husband spoiled her fun in unseemly fashion; and so she got herself a gun, and shot him in a passion. He's lying on a couch of pain, his sufferings distressing; and if he'll ever rise again the surgeons are guessing. She leans against the prison wall in hopeless melancholy; she finds she loves him after all, in spite of all his folly. She thinks, while tears run down her face, of how he once adored her; his heart was in the proper place, although he sometimes bored her. She knows she often tried to please, a manly kindness filled him; had she remembered things like these be-fore she went and drilled him? But in her anger she forgot whatever worth he boasted; she got a gun and fired a shot, and to the jail she coasted. It's likely she'll be doomed to spend long years in dismal durance; her life is spoiled until its end that is her one assurance. Our legions are in trouble dire, with every day that passes, because they yield to vengeful ire, hatred's lethal gasses. We'll punish some one who offends, who has aroused our dudgeon, we'll lie in ambush where he wends and soak him with a bludgeon. And when we see him lying prone, his ruined hat beside him, we say we'd give our bottom bone if we could but recall him. We then recall his charm, and charm, our hearts are stirred, and chilly, and we could curse the stalwart arm that smote and knocked him silly. But afterthought will not avail to quell remorse's riot, when we are seated in the jail, with shaved prunes as a diet.

MOLASSES JUG AN ANCIENT SYMBOL

Long ago a housewife, in trade with a grocer's clerk, bought a "can" of molasses. The clerk roused the dormant mind of the thrifty wife of the household, made inquiries as to the size of what was once known as a "gallon" and found, as he suspected, that it is vanishing; the can does not hold it and the gallon does not regard it, even though it is a mere cook and not a sailor, so it appears, now comes in cans, like peas or tomatoes and, we fear, though we have not the heart to ask, in pint cans rather than in quarts, and it is known as "dark" or "light."

We tremble for the future of the republic, despite its increasing wealth. We are not surprised at the growth of intolerance, at the general laxity of morals or the mildness of the winter. What do these things signify as compared with the fact that molasses now appears in tins, as if it were varnish?

Sixty, yes, no more than fifty years ago, molasses was a recognised staple in country grocery stores and was to be found in every cellar or pantry in the countryside, for without it how could gingerbread be made, and a home without gingerbread was absolutely unthinkable.

It did not appear in tins. It came to the grocery store in a hogshead and to the farmhouse in an earthen jug consecrated and set apart for that purpose and for no other. Generally a corncob served as a cork, though that was not essential, and the jug made frequent trips to and from the store.

In winter filling it was a task for a sedate and meditative clerk, for it was not for nothing that the simile, "slower than molasses in January" originated and when, after a three-mile trip in wagon or sleigh it was only a trifle more fluid than asphalt. But its uses in the household were varied and essential, and outside the feature of cooking the children were able to dispose of a great deal of it on slices of bread.

The stores found the demand for the near-empty hogsheads was in excess of the supply, for each hogshead contained several pounds of coarse cane sugar for which the children were even more keen than for the liquid.

There were two distinct types of molasses, New Orleans, fairly thin, and almost amber in color, and Porto Rico, which was heavy and dark. Now molasses is taking its place with percussion caps and stage coaches.

OLIVER CROMWELL BORN A GENTLEMAN

"I was by birth a gentleman, living neither in any considerable height nor yet in obscurity." Of such stuff, in his own words, was Oliver Cromwell.

This man, who was to display the greatest military genius of his age, send his King to the scaffold, and rule despotically in his place, was an ordinary gentleman farmer from the eastern countries. His family was by no means obscure nor poor, and his uncle several times entertained King James I at his great house at Hirchin Brook. The boy Oliver was present and there is a legend that he engaged the young Prince in fisticuffs, and worsted him. Whatever the truth of the story, Cromwell was by birth and upbringing of stock that had always been loyal to the reigning sovereign, and who had no reason to fear any man.

Remembering the ruthless manner in which he pursued the King to his death, the ghastly massacres of Drogheda and Wexford, where he had every living soul in the garrison put to the sword, one is appalled at the apparent hypocrisy of it all. But in justice to the man, two things must be remembered. The authorised version of the Bible had just been published and was the textbook upon which everybody modeled his language. From that point it is a very little distance to travel to associate God with every act of daily life, more especially to a mind already distorted by childhood dreams and religious brainstorms, such as Cromwell possessed.

The slaughter committed in the name of the Almighty to us is appalling, but to Cromwell's contemporaries, as well as to the man himself, it was only the manifestation of God's will. It is essential to realise this, however repugnant it may be to our minds today, to enable us to view the astonishing military and statesmanlike achievements of this farmer in a fair light.—[Personality Magazine.

The old wise man who wrote "Know thyself," should have added "And know others as you know thyself."—[Ed Howe's Monthly.

Home Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Eleanore Emily Reschke, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. George E. A. Reschke, 1759 North Wilcox avenue, to Carl Bunton Campbell was solemnized the 17th inst., the ceremony taking place at the home of the bride's parents and the father of the bride officiating in the presence of immediate relatives and a few intimate friends only.

The dainty bride was charming in a gown of white taffeta and lace, wearing her mother's wedding veil, which was held in place by sprays of orange blossoms and pearls, and she carried an arm shower of white roses, orchids and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left for their wedding trip, and will make their home here after their return.

Mrs. Campbell attended the University of Pittsburgh and is a member of the Delta Zeta Sorority. Omicron Chapter, while Mr. Campbell, son of Mrs. Aiden H. Campbell, is an alumnus of the Kansas University and is a member of Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity.

Among the guests at the wedding were Commander Frank N. Eckland, U.S.N., (retired) of Napa; Miss Dorothy Melody and Mrs. Melody of Greenfield, Mass.; Ferdinand Schumann-Heink, Count Jade de Beaufort, Commander G. Shornsheimer, U.S.N. (retired) and Capt. Fritz Lyons of the German navy.

Coming Bridals

One of the interesting weddings of the week will take place Tuesday when Miss Carol Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Brown becomes the bride of Myron Higby, and her brother, Willett Brown, will marry Miss Stella Huggins, the double ceremony taking place at the Brown home in South Oxford street with Rev. Charles H. Parlour, assistant rector of St. John's, officiating.

One hundred and fifty invitations have been issued and following the ceremony there will be an informal reception and wedding supper. Bridal attendants at the ceremonies will include Mrs. Wesley Meredith Heine, elder daughter of the Browns, who will be the matron of honor, while Miss Lois Ingraham and Miss Ben Nohtcote, will be the bridesmaids. Mr. Heine will serve as best man and his small son, Donald Meredith Heine, will be the ring bearer.

SOUND AUCTION BRIDGE

by Wilbur C. Whitehead
The World's Greatest Authority...

Each day is published a complete hand presented by Mr. Whitehead. These hands may be played with cards by one, two, three or four players. Fill out a sheet of your own and compare it tomorrow with Mr. Whitehead's play. Do this each day and carefully read Mr. Whitehead's explanations, and you will find that your knowledge of the game will progress rapidly. Compare your bidding and play with that of your friends—the comparison may be illuminating.

HAND NO. 163

South is the dealer. What is the proper bidding and play?

Record the bids that each player should make, assuming that he does not see any of the other hands.

These hands must not be bid or played "Double Dummy," i.e., as though all four hands were exposed.

NOTE—In recording the Auction, or the play, use "S" for Spades, "H" for Hearts, "D" for Diamonds, and "C" for Clubs. Use "N.T." for No Trumps, "DBL" for double, "REDBL" for redouble.

Mr. Whitehead will answer questions concerning your Bridge problems. Write to him care of this paper, inclosing self-addressed stamped envelope.

THE BIDDING

Final Bid: 1 N.T. Played by East.

Salient Points of the Bidding

(Copyright, 1927, Reynolds Syndicate, Inc.)

Salient Points of the Play

Trick 2. With the Heart lead coming up to him, Declarer can count eight positive tricks, one short of game. The only cards that can possibly take an additional trick are the Jack of Spades and the Jack of Diamonds. A possible trick with one of these cards may be obtained only by dropping or killing a higher honor in one of the adversaries' hands. Such eventuality is normally remote. East's only hope for the ninth trick lies in forcing discards that might lead to the unguarding of an honor held in one or other of these suits.

Trick 6. The Club suit exhausted and no illuminating discards having been made, Declarer puts South in with a Heart to force North to further discarding. South's opening with the 3 of Hearts showed four of the suit originally held, and hence three in North's hand, of which one has been played and one discarded. North, therefore, as Hearts are played, must make two more discards.

Trick 9. North's discard of the 10 of Diamonds, evidently forced, and his previous discards of the 3 and 7 of Spades, clearly indicate the original holding of a long Spade suit and of one or both of the outstanding high Diamond honors. South concludes that a Diamond lead through Dummy's Ace would be preferable to a Spade lead, especially as North, by his discards of Spades in natural order, has made no call for the Spade lead.

Trick 10. Declarer, placing North with the King of Diamonds alone, leads another Diamond from Dummy and establishes the Jack in Declarer's hand, giving him the trick needed for game.

Sisters Have Dresses Alike in Material and Style

By Florence La Ganke

"Three little girls in blue" was the song most often on the lips of the father of the Lacey girls. True, their mother seldom dressed them in blue, but they were usually in dresses which bore a most sisterly resemblance. For the hot days just before the last of school they wore dresses of handkerchief linen with trimming of print material. Each girl had a dress and coat. The dresses were sleeveless. The print was appliqued around the hem. The large scallops of he edge gave a feeling of grace. In the littlest girl the coat was made almost to the bottom of the skirt. This gave better proportion than if it had been of the same length as those of her bigger sisters.

For little afternoon dresses Mrs. Lacey purchased lawn in washable and fast colors. Instead of purchasing it all of the same colors she chose a dainty green, a pale yellow and a pink which was as fragile as the inside of a sea shell.

The dresses were made alike with scalloped finish for skirt and cape-like berths. The bow of ribbon was the only other trimming. The girls looked cool. In addition to that, they looked well dressed. That impression was created by the similiarity and simplicity of their clothes. Trust Mrs. Lacey to see to that.

Mrs. Lacey had read Nancy Page's leaflet on Child Care. Don't you want to write to Nancy Page, care of this paper, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope, asking for her leaflet on "Child Care?"

PRUNE CORNBREAD

Soak one-half pound of prunes overnight in cold water, in the morning drain, and steam them over boiling water until they are plump but not soft. Cool, remove the stones and cut in quarters. Mix and sift together two cups of flour, one cup of cornmeal, six teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, and one-fourth of a cupful of sugar, add the prunes, stir in one and one-fourth cupfuls of milk and two well-beaten eggs, pour into a shallow, well-oiled pan, bake from twenty to thirty minutes, at 400 deg.

PEANUT BISQUE

Remove the brown husks from two cupfuls of peanuts, run through the fine knife of the meat grinder, place in a saucepan, add one quart of milk or chicken stock, and simmer slowly until the peanuts are tender. Rub all through a sieve into a clean saucepan, add two tablespoonfuls of beef juice, or enough pink coloring to tint and a seasoning of salt and paprika. Reheat and serve with toasted peanut crackers.

CORN CREOLE

Place in a saucepan two tablespoonfuls of butter, heat and add four tablespoonfuls of finely chopped onion, stir and cook until the onion is clear, add two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until lightly browned, stir in two cupfuls of peeled and chopped tomatoes, half a teaspoonful of salt, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of mace, and two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, stir and cook five minutes, add one chopped pimiento, two cupfuls of cooked corn, canned or fresh, and two-thirds of a cupful of chopped cooked ham, boil up once, and pour over thick slices of bread that have been fried a nice brown in hot butter.

CUCUMBER MOLD

One cucumber, one-half cupful of vinegar, one and a fourth cupfuls of boiling water, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one-third of a cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of gelatine, one-half a cupful of cold water, two tablespoonfuls of chopped green pepper, peel the cucumber and chop fine, season with salt and pepper, pour on the vinegar, which has been warmed and let stand for thirty minutes. Drain off the liquid and add to the boiling water, add the lemon juice and sugar, pour this on the gelatine which has been soaked for a few minutes in the cold water. Add green coloring, when cool, strain through a cloth onto the chopped cucumber, add chopped green peppers, and place in wet molds to chill. Unmold on salad plates which have been garnished with lettuce in crisp cress leaves and serve with mayonnaise dressing.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

by Dr Frank McCoy
author of "Ten Years Yoot to Ninety"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

AN ELEMENT FOR KEEPING YOUNG

Potassium is an element that relaxes the tissues of the body, making them soft and pliable, and for this reason should be of particular value to counteract the tension that so many people labor under in this age of speed madness. It increases growth, strength, longevity, and is essential to reproducing the species.

This does not mean that you should go out and eat a quantity of potash, such as is used for fertilizer, because if you did your relatives would probably have the task of selecting suitable flowers. Neither potassium nor any of the other mineral salts can be properly assimilated by the body unless they have been first prepared for our use by lower forms of organic life, particularly the plants.

You probably know that protein foods that are so essential to life because of the nitrogen they contain, leave powerful acid end-products which must be neutralized or thrown out of the body, or they would destroy it. These phosphorus, sulphuric, and uric acids are neutralized by potassium and sodium. Potassium also protects us against many of the virulent poisons of intestinal putrefaction as it is utilized by the liver for this specific purpose.

When your doctor tells you that you are suffering from acidosis, he probably means that you are lacking in potassium, sodium, calcium, and other alkaline-producing elements. The best cure for acidosis is to use the fruits and vegetables that are richest in these elements. Potassium, like nitrogen, cannot be used in its pure state by the body. It has to come to us in an organized form.

Many people who are underweight and easily exhausted are starving for potassium because it is necessary to assist in the changing of certain food products so that they can be used by our tissues. For instance, grape sugar is stored in the tissues as an animal starch called glycogen. A portion of the latter may be converted into fat. Potassium is required to bring about these important changes. It is also needed to reconvert peptones and amino acids into proteins of our muscles and blood.

Potassium as well as being one of the lightest and softest mestals is also one of the most electro-positive, and it is this latter fact that is supposed to account for its being so essential to the vigor of the brain and nervous system.

There could be no life of either plant or animal without potassium, and I am giving you a list of the foods which I recommend that are richest in this valuable element. They are: Tomatoes, turnips, celery, dandelion, rutabagas, watercress and cucumbers. Rhubarb, lettuce, sorrel, cabbage and Swiss chard are also as rich in potassium, but I do not recommend them unless the other vegetables are hard to obtain.

If you want to keep your muscles pliable, your arteries from hardening, and your glandular secretions sufficiently alkaline, eat plenty of potassium. As a preventer of many diseases, it is valuable. It is an interesting fact that plants which become infested with parasites are usually grown on soil that is deficient in this element.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: W. Y. T. writes: "I cannot drink anything cold. If I do, it gives me a cold, and a heavy feeling in my stomach which I don't get over in a week or two. What is my trouble and can you help me?"

Answer: Some stomachs are particularly sensitive to cold, and it seems to me the sensible plan for you to adopt is to use warm or only slightly cool drinks, but never cold ones. It is never a good plan for anyone to drink very cold liquids.

Q.: Butterfly asks: "When was oleomargarin first used, and what was its composition?"

A.: Oleomargarin was devised in 1870 by the French chemist, Mage-Mouries. He used beef oleo (oleo is the oil obtained from animal fat,) milk and water, churning them together and using annatto, a dye obtained from the annatto tree of Central America, to color it.

Q.: Mary J. writes: "I have been troubled with my hands sweating. Will you please publish a cure for this?"

A.: Excessive sweating of the hands is generally a sign of some nervous disorder. If you will search out the cause of your trouble you will no doubt find that your nervousness originates from dietetic errors and lack of exercise. If you will get up a good sweat every day this will help materially in throwing out irritating impurities which may be causing your nervousness. Send for my special article called "A Daily Sweat."

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

THE HABIT OF OBEDIENCE IS A GROWING ONE

Mrs. C. L.: I am printing a letter in the department today which seems to answer some of your questions. The trouble with most mothers is that they expect any hit or miss method of discipline to have immediate, magical results. The one lesson most of them have learned is that whipping doesn't help because the average child's stubbornness is only aggravated by such methods of correction (just as you described your friend's child who is almost killed and yet is afterward just as mean and disobedient as ever.)

Obedience is a habit. A parent encourages this habit by making few and only necessary demands upon the children. Love, kindness, understanding and firmness are all essential to the parent who would instill respect for authority and for herself. A child should not be expected to dash to his mother's side the moment he is called. If your wish is important and the child ignores it, go to him and see that it is carried out. By your firmness the child will understand that you had a reason for your request, and will gradually come to respect the words you address to him. If a request isn't important enough to carry out, it should not have been made in the first place. So often we make demands on our children merely to show our authority, and not because they are important to our comfort or the children's welfare. Treat the children as grown-ups. Speak good English to them. And let the older help the younger in the bath room. Your neighbors are mistaken to suggest that this is harmful.

A Mother Talks about Discipline

Mrs. T. H. W. writes: "I always read your department the first thing, and I notice so much about tempers. I have four children and they have their share of the "old Adam" in them, but you could hardly find four happier children.

"If a child is cross I find out why. I try to correct digestive disturbances through the diet and use little medicine.

"I had one child who started slapping and fighting when things didn't suit. I never for an instant let her know I thought she was 'mad,' but played a 'slapping game' with her. I started with light pats and let them grow stronger. When they became uncomfortable she was glad to stop. In a short time, she stopped slapping.

"If the oldest boy takes his sister's sand bucket, then I make him give her one of his favorite toys. In order to make them careful of each other's things. If one becomes broken, it has to be replaced by a good toy. I guard against partiality, trying to give each enough to make him happy. I do not overdress them, but choose clothes to show each off to the best advantage, so there is no room for jealousy, an emotion which sometimes mars a child's life.

People tell me they seldom see a family of four so nice looking. I attribute this to my efforts to keep them healthy, rosy-cheeked and plainly but becomingly dressed."

Mrs. Eldred has a leaflet on the "Summer Wardrobe" which tells how to dress the children sensibly and comfortably in warm weather. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope for it.

WILDCAT HUNTING

Wildcat hunting with dogs has replaced fox hunting in the favor of people of Miami, Fla., where these vicious felines are plentiful in the back-country. A recent hunt staged under the direction of Col. D. D. Young as huntmaster had a spectacular climax when the pack of twenty hounds treed the cat west of Miami, and Howard Hill, archery professional and quarter Cherokee Indian, made the kill with bow and arrow at thirty-five yards.

BEAUTY ADVICE

Remove powder and rouge with beauty oils

WHEN powder and rouge are applied to a clean skin only part remains on the surface. The rest enters the tiny pores of the face. There it accumulates and hardens with the skin's secretions, and with dirt and dust.

You must remove these tiny masses each day to prevent pores from growing larger. Dirt unremoved infects the pores and blemishes result.

Washing the surface does not cleanse the skin successfully. That's why, no matter how often you now wash your face, unless rightly done, your skin may still be muddy.

Cleanse your skin this way to keep its texture fine, its color radiantly fresh. For this purpose use Palmolive—a soap embodying the priceless beauty oils of palm and olive that penetrate and cleanse thoroughly. Adopt the following rule and practice it every morning and every night—do not fail.

First massage the balmy Palmolive lather gently into the skin. Then rinse thoroughly with warm water (not hot), then with cold, and pat with a soft towel till dry. If skin is dry, apply cold cream.

If there were more joy of expression instead of nervous and critical nagging and condemnation, there would be a greater flow of the stream of health."

PURE JOY FOUND IN SPIRIT ALONE

"The Religion of Joy" is the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Swami Dhirananda at Mt. Washington Educational Center. Excerpts from the sermon follow:

"True growth is the sublimation of our fundamental instincts. The hunger for happiness is universal. Man may exist and not live, but he cannot even exist without this hunger and its partial satisfaction. To fill this hunger in the right way is the goal of all. Selfishness, sense thrills, disregard of moral codes cannot stop this hunger. They only make it sting and hurt us more. Nor by simply dwelling on hunger, can it be relieved. Let reason and conscience be our guide and contentment be our chattel. If we have any ambition let it be for serving others in diverse ways so that they find their soul. Orthodox Christianity stressed the beauty of pain and salvation through suffering. The modern age of comforts and pleasures is gradually turning the attention of the church to the inner joy of Jesus and Christ-life. This inner joy of God, of which worldly joys are imitations, was the crown of Jesus before his cross came."

SAYS CHRIST WON FIGHT WITH SATAN

"Civil War" was the topic of a sermon preached yesterday by Rev. W. C. Isett at the Union Church of Los Angeles. He said in part:

"The Civil War in the United States was for the purpose of unifying the nation, for a nation cannot exist half slave and half free. It serves as a good example of the advent of Jesus and his leadership in winning back the kingdom of God from Satan and establishing a stable government which will be for all people. The conflict of Jesus is little understood even to this day. It was a fight against Satan for the hearts of men, and Jesus won. But having won the kingdom, He left it to us to maintain it and to extend its boundaries."

WOULD NOT CANONIZE OUR CONSTITUTION

"Shall We Scrap the Constitution?" is the subject of a sermon preached at the Hollywood Playhouse yesterday by Rev. T. C. Abel of the Hollywood Unitarian Society. Mr. Abel said in part:

"The American Constitution made possible a union of independent and mutually distrustful and jealous States, and must be admitted one of the most remarkable documents of human history. Today two destructive tendencies are working against the Constitution. The one would result in scrapping the Constitution—an act which will destroy the only bond uniting the States. The other will result in canonising the Constitution as a bit of sacred scripture and regarding it as possessed of magical powers—an act even worse than the former, since it will bring us perpetually under the domination of the dead. Those of us who believe in America and in America's future must save the Constitution from both the anarchists and the professional patriots and make it a growing, vital instrument whereby a free people may preserve their liberties and work out their destiny."

MEMORY IS CALLED MAGICAL POWER

"The Miracle of Memory" is the subject of a sermon preached yesterday by Rev. A. L. Hill at Highland Park Christian Church. Mr. Hill said in part:

"Memory is one of the most mysterious, magical powers with which our Creator has endowed us. It is of most practical value in everyday life and at the same time becomes the treasure house out of which we can call the sacred associations of other days. None of us can estimate the value of an annual Memorial Day, when we, in a special way, remember those 'whom we have loved and lost a while.' Our lives are sweetened and hallowed by this act of love. It helps us in our blind rush of present-day activities to properly evaluate that which has gone before."

NICARAGUA SITUATION EXPLAINED BY PASTOR

Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., preached at Glendale Baptist Church yesterday on "Our Marines in Nicaragua." He said in part:

"The President of the United States has the power to send our military forces wherever, in his estimation, they are needed to protect the interests of the United States. The marines are in Nicaragua for two reasons. Nicaragua, like many of her sister-nations, is subject to quick rise of temper and unwarranted revolutions, especially at election time. The President, recognizing this, invited the United States to help him maintain law and order. It seems that Nicaragua is neither wealthy enough nor strong enough in internal government to enforce the laws of its constitution by having sufficient soldiers for police duty. So, just as a child holds the hand of an elder for help in climbing a hill, Nicaragua has appealed to the United States for the helping hand of an older brother. In the second place, there are American organizations and institutions that have, upon the appeal of the Nicaraguan government, financed certain projects in that country. It is far easier and less expensive, since the Nicaraguan government has asked for the help of the United States, to prevent an uprising and destruction of property than to try to cure it after it starts."

DELEGATES OF SECOND DIVISION ON WAY EAST

Carrying with them an abundant supply of California poppies for presentation to the delegates from all parts of the United States, five representatives of the Los Angeles Unit, Second Division Association, left yesterday for St. Louis to attend the annual convention which opens there Thursday. The delegation is composed of W. T. Love, Salvador Capodice, W. A. Shermack, A. Miller and Dan Jones. The convention will last four days, closing next Sunday and the local delegates will make a bid for holding next year's session in this city.

SHE'S A CHAMPION HOUSEWIFE!

ALL her neighbors say Mrs. Arles is the neatest housekeeper in town, yet she does her work without getting tired out.

"You can make house-work easy", says Mrs. Arles, "if you do it the right way."

Cleaning the bath-tub, for instance—there's no trick at all to keeping it spic and span. Just a shake of Gold Dust, a scrub and a rub—and there's the tub, clean and sanitary.

In a jiffy, Gold Dust removes water marks and stains, leaving the porcelain smooth and shining. Gold Dust doesn't scratch.

Mrs. Arles suggests keeping a package of Gold Dust in the bath-room to encourage the latest user to leave the tub ready for the next comer.

Mrs. Arles—and CHAMPION HOUSEWIVES everywhere—know that dish-washing, too, is easier with Gold Dust and a dish mop.

RADIO ACTIVITIES

From Broadcasting Stations to Receiving Sets

TWO STATIONS INCREASE POWER

President's Address to be Broadcast

Changes in Transmitting of Naval Sets

Name Contest Under Way at KHJ Studio

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

Radio news more or less spasmodically continues to sift into the Pacific Southwest.

The week's changes from Washington include permission for KGEN, El Centro, and KWG, Stockton, to increase to 100 watts power and for KZM, of Oakland, authorization to move over to Hayward while the call letters of KFBC, San Diego, have been changed to KGB.

I notice, also that the Memorial Day exercises at the Gettysburg National Cemetery, where President Coolidge will be the speaker, is scheduled to be broadcast over WJZ and some of the eastern network stations at 2 p.m., eastern standard time, Wednesday.

Of interest, also, to those with extra good sets and patience to hunt for DX, the outdoor concerts at the Lewishon Stadium, New York, will be on the air commencing July 7 The former concerts of the Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra have always been looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

NAVAL CHANGES

Some readers of this column will perhaps be interested to know that changes have been made in wave lengths of three naval radio stations that transmit weather, hydrographic and ice reports, and time signals.

NAY, Brownsville, will now transmit weather and hydrographic information on 104 kilocycles; NAT, New Orleans, will give time, weather and hydrographic data on 113 kilocycles and NAS, Pensacola, will broadcast weather reports only on 113 kilocycles.

Other naval radio changes include the consolidation of the station at Seawall and Bar Harbor, Me. With the exception of one caretaker, the entire personnel of Seawall has been transferred over to Bar Harbor.

NOVA SCOTIA STATION

There is another bit of radio news which tells us that the hardy mariners who man the Nova Scotia fleets are now to be given entertainment via radio.

A new station has been erected at Louisburg to broadcast programs of general interest, according to W. H. Robertson, United States Consul General at Halifax.

Its programs will be twice daily on a frequency of 434.5 meters and the weather reports that were formerly given out by Halifax Lightship will be sent from the new station commencing this week.

The broadcasts will include daily reports on bait, ice conditions, fish prices and general news releases.

HOME TALKS

A week ago today Agnes White, home expert, began a series of 10 a.m. talks over KHJ, the Don Lee station, mornings except Saturday and Sunday.

In an effort to secure a distinct name for the new feature she has announced a prize contest with several merchandising prizes to the various winners.

The prizes run all the way from a vacuum cleaner and refrigerator to a crate of oranges, ginger ale, bottled water and coffee.

The contest will close a week from today and suggestions for names should be sent direct to Miss White at the station.

In case of a tie, the letter reaching the station first will win the award. The judges will use the postoffice time stamp and a receiving stamp at the studio as a basis of decision in case of ties.

HIGH SCHOOL GROUP ON RADIO

The San Diego High School Orchestra, Nino Marcelli, conducting, will broadcast its annual concert over KPSD between 7 and 8 p.m. today. There are seventy-five student musicians in the group and the orchestra, known as the senior orchestra, gives a farewell radio hour at the same time each year.

NEW ESPEE VENTURE TO AID FARMER

Department Will Tackle Agriculture Problems Along Pacific Lines

Planning constructive aid in the development of agriculture throughout territories served by its Pacific lines, the Southern Pacific Railroad today announces organization of a department of development and colonization.

R. E. KELLY

R. E. Kelly of San Francisco has been appointed manager of the department, with Edward H. Sharpe and F. Q. Fredway as assistant managers, George W. Barr as agricultural agent and Erich F. Stuewe as agricultural editor.

"It is the plan of the department," Kelly said, "to work with and through existing agencies such as the national, State and county farm bureaus, the Grange, Farmers' Union, agricultural colleges and civic organizations to promote the welfare of agriculture generally in the States served by the Pacific lines.

"We will work with such agencies and others to meet the marketing problems of the farmers, standardization of their products, aid the irrigation districts in getting a sound policy for development and constantly preach the gospel of honest representation to newcomers of the kinds of lands and their possibilities on which they will settle.

"We also will aid in the advancement of such projects along our lines as we have confidence in through editorial and photographic co-operation in the preparation of pamphlets and folders.

"At the same time we will continue in an active way the work of the bureau of news, which is a part of the department, through the offices at San Francisco and Los Angeles. This bureau, of which Fred Woodward is the editor in Los Angeles, has the principal responsibility of informing the public of railroad activities, as well as advancing the desirability of the western United States as a vacation and sight-seeing paradise, and the offering of many ideal locations for investors and for their homes."

GIRLS TO GO TO CAMP

There will be a trip to the Y.W.C.A. Camp Estelle in the San Antonio Canyon next Wednesday. All girls interested are invited to go. The party will leave the Y.W.C.A. Building at 941 South Figueroa street at 7 a.m. and go by bus to Uplands and then by mountain stage to Camp Estelle. It will be necessary to register before tomorrow. The day will be spent in hiking, swimming and horseback riding.

TRAVEL TO REACH PEAK DURING JUNE

Union Pacific Schedules Special Trains and School Closing Will Swell Total

June promises to see an unusual volume of travel, according to a statement yesterday by R. B. Robertson, assistant traffic manager of the Union Pacific system. Aside from the regular summer tourist travel on the "back-East" excursion basis, which approaches its peak during June at the closing of the public schools, there will be a number of special events.

The first of these will be the incoming special excursion from Salt Lake City and Ogden to Los Angeles, leaving Salt Lake City next Saturday. This will be followed by the eastbound excursion from Los Angeles to the same points, leaving here on June 5. These Utah excursions are being operated on the lowest round-trip excursion fares—$20—that have been offered in recent years.

Mid-June will be unusually busy. On June 14 three special trains will leave over the Union Pacific for the East. One of these will take the Southern California members, including P. R. Williams, national president, and other officers to the annual meeting of the American Institute of Banking at Philadelphia.

On June 16 the personally conducted tours of Zion National Park and the Grand Canyon get under way. A week later the first of the season's personally conducted tours to Yellowstone National Park leaves Los Angeles.

LIFE WORK AIM SHOWN BY SURVEY

University Study Reveals Collegians Have Definite Objective Before Entry

A decided majority of the young men and women entering upon a university course do so with a definite objective as to their life work if a survey of more than 3000 students at the University of California at Los Angeles can be considered representative of the modern American university. This survey, just completed by Recorder Lewis Maverick of U.C.L.A., is based upon a questionaire submitted to 3020 students in the letters and science department in November, 1927, and it bears out conclusions arrived at by Dr. Maverick from a study made a year previous.

The most significant finding from the study, according to Dr. Maverick, is that of 2990 students in the university as a whole, 2117 had made their choice of a profession or vocation before matriculating at U.C.L.A. Obviously, he points out, the senior high school is in charge of the education of young people at the time they are deciding upon a life career.

The survey reveals a remarkably large number of individuals both in the teachers' college and the college of letters and science who plan to enter the profession of teaching. Of the students concerned in the study 142 men and 1245 women are going into high-school teaching; 3 men and 483 women plan to engage in elementary teaching; 42 men and 44 women have college teaching as an objective.

There were over 10,000 exhibitors at the Leipzig Fair this year, twenty-three countries being represented.

INTEREST HOLDS IN EXHIBIT HOME

Sunday Crowds Prove New Closing Day Justified

Visitors Entertained by Pipe Organ Recital

BY VALERIE WATROUS

Crowds at the Los Angeles Times Demonstration Home in Miramar Estates, where Beverly Boulevard meets the sea, justified the extension of the closing date to June 10. Scarcely two minutes elapsed between the arrival of cars yesterday afternoon, each one bringing a friendly group eager to see this most luxuriously equipped home.

The spacious parking grounds overflowed early in the afternoon and cars were sent to the upper side of the road, packing every inch of space, even though automobile loads of happy and satisfied visitors were rolling out and down to Beverly Boulevard as others drove in.

EVERYTHING IN PLACE

Everything is to remain in the house as it now is furnished. All the fine paintings, the rich Persian antique rugs, the sumptuous and dignified hangings, the rare antiques, and the hand-wrought furniture will be held there as originally placed the day the house was opened to the public more than a month ago.

Miramar Estates will sponsor the showing in the coming two weeks and, as usual, hostesses will be in place to assist guests in obtaining such information as may be required.

Those who visited the house in the early days of May will be repaid by a second visit. Flowers and glossy-leaved plants have accepted their new environment with that ease and readiness charateristic of vegetation in Southern California. Already the gardens appear to have been established several months. The olive tree in the sea-ward garden is flourishing and its gray-green foliage is in charming contrast to the white background of the house.

CHARMING RECITALS

Yesterday the throngs of men and women wove their way through the rooms, pausing for a time to enjoy the delightful program. Miss Rouzie, official organist for the Artcraft Pipe Organ Company of Santa Monica, had arranged for the day.

Miss Rouzie will continue her charming recitals every afternoon through the coming two weeks. She has some especially interesting programs already arranged for the entertainment of guests.

To reach the Demonstration Home follow Sunset Boulevard through to its end in Beverly Hills, then turn right to Beverly Boulevard and continue on to within 1000 feet of the ocean. At this point a number of Miramar Estates signs are to be seen and the right turn up the paved road into the estates, which passes the entrance to the home, is marked clearly.

CHECK CHARGE FAILS FOR EVIDENCE LACK

PROSECUTION'S NEGLECT TO SUMMON WITNESS HELD TO BLAME

Denying the District Attorney's office request for a continuance, Superior Court Judge Fricke dismissed a charge of issuing worthless checks preferred against John Overstreet. The defendant is said to have issued worthless checks on a Kentucky bank which were returned with the notation "no funds."

Judge Fricke held that under the law the bank's notation is hearsay evidence and cannot be admitted. The court held it will be necessary for the prosecution to have a bank official give direct testimony and as no such witness was present when the case was called for trial, Judge Fricke dismissed the case on motion of Attorney M. S. Ryan, defense counsel.

Before dismissal, the District Attorney's office requested a continuance, but Judge Fricke held ample time had been allowed to prepare the case and granted the motion for dismissal.

THIEVES AND BANDITS BUSY

Nearly $7000 in Furs, Jewelry and Cash Taken in City Over Week-End

Nearly $7000 worth of furs, jewelry, silverware and cash were obtained by burglars and bandits during the past week end. Two bandits wearing coveralls and sun visors held up Neal McDougal, manager of the Piggly-Wiggly store at 6909 South Western avenue, forced him to open the store safe and got away with $210, according to police.

James A. Watkins reported two bandits entered his lunch room at 3828½ Pasadena avenue, ordered pie and coffee, and robbed him of $12.

P. Martinez of 1243 Brooklyn avenue told police he was deprived of his cap and shoes and $23 by two bandits at College and Main streets.

Using a pass key to effect entrance burglars plundered the apartment of Miss Helen Palmen at 3706 West Fourth street of furs, jewelry and silverware valued at $6525, she reported to police.

MASS SUNG IN NEW CHURCH

Bishop Cantwell Speaks at St. Andrews' Being Completed at Cost of $1,000,000

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 27.—In the same manner as the people of ancient Rome made possible through their generosity the beautiful marble columns of St. Sabina's Cathedral, Pasadena Catholics will bring rare marbles from all parts of the world to encase the lofty concrete pillars of the new St. Andrews Church building in which mass was celebrated for the first time this morning. The new spiritual shrine for Catholics in this city is a replica of St. Sabina's and is expected to cost $1,000,000.

Hundreds of children took part in the religious procession at 6 a.m. today when the Blessed Sacrament, covered by a canopy, was moved from the old Fair Oaks-avenue structure to the new church at Raymond avenue and Walnut street.

CANTWELL SPEAKS

Gathered under the high nave, with flood lights streaming from the heavy beams, a large audience heard Bishop John J. Cantwell of the Los Angeles diocese declare that the new St. Andrews Church is the pride of the diocese and a worthy reproduction of the ancient church on the banks of the Tiber.

Bishop Cantwell said that Mgr. John M. McCarthy, pastor of the parish, is deserving of great praise for his faith and energy in building the new edifice.

"It is a serious reflection on a community when it cannot house the Lord," continued the bishop.

"He is really and truly present in the Blessed Sacrament. It should then be the duty of every Catholic congregation to give to Almighty God a share of what He has given them. And when they can do it, if they find themselves walking in the way of the Lord.

"I hesitated at first to sign the papers for the building of this church, for it is not good to grow too fast. Even the angels could not build this church without your help.

LASTING BEAUTY

"Beauty is the effect of religion. It is the church alone that produces things of lasting beauty. Protestant churches, once so stiff in line, are now following the lines of classic Catholic architecture.

"In the Middle Ages, the only place where the poor could see things of beauty was in the churches. They gazed upon the columns of marble and at the altar, the table of sacrifice. Their ears were attuned to the music of the church, and from the choir they thought they were catching the echoes of choirs above."

INVALID ENDS HER LIFE WITH BULLET

Despondent because of a ten-months' illness, Miss Winifred Connors, 20 years of age, who lived with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Connors, 4653 York Boulevard, yesterday went to her bedroom and fired a bullet into her heart, police reports say. She was dead when taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital. The body was removed to the county morgue.

DOCKWEILER NAMED IN INCOME TAX LIEN

Isidore B. Dockweiler, attorney and Democratic leader, is among numerous persons mentioned in income-tax liens filed with the United States District Court. It is asserted he owes $411.47 additional income tax for the year 1924. Numerous other tax liens, running into thousands of dollars are also on file, complaints having been made by Collector of Internal Revenue Welch.

NEGRO SLAIN OVER $2 IN POKER GAME

"Bubbles" Green Instantly Killed When Argument Arises Due to Debt

A $2 gambling debt caused the death of Gene (Bubbles) Green, a negro, 35 years of age, of 3228 Hooper avenue, when he was shot and instantly killed during an altercation with John Smith, colored, 5523 Long Beach Boulevard. The shooting occurred in a poker game early yesterday morning at 1473 East Twenty-first street, according to a police report.

Green was shot through the heart by Smith, witnesses said. Following the shooting Smith fled. Officers late yesterday were unable to locate him in familiar haunts.

Five other negroes, all participating in the game or residents at the place of the shooting, were arrested and are being held as material witnesses. They gave their names as Alexander and Albert Stevenson, 953 Birch street; Mrs. Leonora Null, 1473 East Twenty-first street; Bishop E. Champion and Charles Smith.

According to information obtained by Capt. Cross of the homicide squad and Detective Lieutenants Hickey, Sanderson and Kynette, the men had broken up one gambling game earlier in the day and had then repaired to the Twenty-first-street house, where the game was resumed.

During the course of play, an argument is said to have arisen between Green and Smith over $2 owed the latter, and the shooting resulted.

Smith is well known along Central avenue, police said, and has been employed at Magnus, Inc., 860 North Main street.

Oriental Shrine Head Goes East

Ethel Rush Wallace, high priestess of Sahara Court No. 20, Ladies' Oriental Shrine of North America, left yesterday over the Southern Pacific for Toledo, where she will be delegate to the grand council June 5 to 7.

MRS. ETHEL RUSH WALLACE

On her way East, Mrs. Wallace will stop at San Antonio, Tex., as a delegate to the biennial convention of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. She expects to be away two months and will visit in South Bend, Ind., her former home, where she is a past-president of the Woman's Club. The patrol, officers and many members of the court, also a large group of friends, were at the station to see her off.

ALL-YEAR CLUB'S ADVERTISING FUND DRIVE WILL START FRIDAY

Beginning next Friday and continuing for two weeks groups of men, prominent in the industrial and business life of the city, will meet to raise funds for the nation-wide advertising campaign of the All-Year Club.

FRANK FLINT.

The drive this year will be conducted from June 1 to 15, under the direction of a committee headed by Victor Girard, who expects to complete a definite program before next Thursday for a thorough canvass of every business district in Los Angeles, according to an announcement yesterday.

ORGANIZED IN 1921

This month marks the seventh anniversary of the All-Year Club. Since the club's inception in 1921 it has attained international recognition as a result of its constructive campaigns to exploit the climatic, recreational and scenic attractions of Southern California.

Prominent business men of this section of the State, who are directors and officials of the club, are former United States Senator Flint, chairman, and Harry Chandler, G. G. Young, Dr. Frank F. Barham and Edward A. Dickson, vice-chairmen of the executvie committee. E. T. Pettigrew is treasurer of the organization and on the business executive committee are A. Frank, chairman; W. H. Harrison, and Victor Girard.

According to Senator Flint yesterday the club in 1927 invested $500,000 in leading magazines and newspapers of the country with the result that more than 60,000 direct inquiries for information about Southern California were received from all over the world. Millions of inquiries have come to the club since it began its initial activities seven years ago.

CLUB WORK PRAISED

John Cuddy, managing director of Californians, Inc., of San Francisco, an organization whose activities are similar to those of the All-Year Club, said yesterday after a visit here:

"Los Angeles is a great city. Its future challenges imagination. By judicious advertising it holds national attention and draws the elements needed for its growth. Its future is assured by the abiding vision and progressive spirit of its citizens and institutions.

"The wonderful work of the All-Year Club should not be curtailed. If such a thing should happen it would believe the people of Los Angeles had lost faith in their city."

HINDU TEACHER STRIKES CAMP

Krishnamurti Prepares to Leave for Holland

Final Meeting in Ojai Draws Large Crowds

Dutch Conference Will Be Held in August

OJAI, May 27. (Exclusive)—With the camp-fire meeting tonight, the international congress of the Order of the Star, conducted here for the first time in America, entered the annals of the past. Krishnamurti, the young Hindu teacher, who has presided over the conferences held in the quiet of the Ojai hills for the past week, was preparing tonight for his departure within the next few days for Holland, where he is to preside over a Star conference in August.

This afternoon, visitors, many from a great distance, thronged the camp grounds eager to see or hear the young teacher and visit the scene of the unique gathering.

REVOLT DISCUSSED

At the morning meeting Dr. J. J. Van der Leeuw of Rotterdam, Holland, addressed the delegates, and then Krishnamurti spoke briefly on what he calls "intelligent revolts and divine discontent," saying that he was glad that some disagree with him, proving that they were doing their own thinking. Krishnamurti said, in part:

"Truth is permanent, everlasting. It has no beginning and no end. It is changeless and immobile. You will find it only in the kingdom of happiness. If you would understand, if you would see that vision you must obey the voice within each one of you. You must obey that voice absolutely and completely, but you must take care that that voice is the real voice that has become purified and ennobled through great experiences, great sorrows, great pains and great pleasures.

VOICE HAS POWER

"That voice will have such power, such dominion over you, that you can but obey its command, and then you will enter that garden, into the kingdom of happiness.

"When once you have seen the vision within you need not be held down by anything on earth, but you are at the source of eternal happiness, and once you have walked in that garden you will have the authority to bring others to it. You then will not only be able to receive, but will have the power to give."

BEACH CLUB RELIEF PLAN SUGGESTED

Edgewater Members Have Till Tomorrow to Raise Sum for Preferred Claims

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, May 27. (Exclusive)—A final plan whereby members of the Edgewater Club may save the club at a Sheriff's sale scheduled for Tuesday was outlined at a meeting of about 125 members of the club this afternoon. There are $660,000 preferred claims and $300,000 unpreferred claims against the organization.

The plan as outlined is for the members to subscribe the $660,000 to care for the preferred claims, the Winters Concession Company, holders of $415,000 of the unpreferred claims, agreeing to take over half interest in the club for their share. This would make the members subscribing to the $660,000 participating owners in the club together with the Winters Concession Company.

The members have until Tuesday to raise the money. A local bank is said to be prepared to make loans to individual members who will sign notes for amounts to be applied to save the club from the auctioneer's hammer.

In the meantime, rumors here indicate that if the membership fails to rally, there will be spirited bidding for the club property. Among the interests said to be in the field for the property are the Los Angeles Athletic Club and William Wrigley interests.

BOY DESPERADO FINDS IT "EASY"

Fifteen-Year-Old Bandit's Views Aired

Contempt for Lenient Law Shown in Talk

Confident Youth Will Avert Harsh Punishment

"It's easy."

That was the answer of Jackie O'Neil, captured "boy bandit," in reply to the question of puzzled police yesterday as to how Jackie, 15 years of age, was capable of holding up three telegraph offices and more than a dozen oil stations during the two weeks that he eluded the scores of police officers searching for him.

Night after night, operating in stolen automobiles and wielding an automatic pistol, Jackie rambled about the city "spotting" the places that were being "staked" by police and holding up those that were not. Squads of experienced detectives searched for him. So boldly did Jackie operate that he was not considered merely as a juvenile, but as a hardened criminal. His victims repeated their reports that he conducted the robberies with no sign of nervousness and in the manner of an old and experienced bandit.

JACK O'NEIL

Jackie was not unknown. He had been arrested last November after he and a Mexican youth had held up eight oil stations in one evening. Jackie got out. His companion was sent to Ione. Then again, Jackie was picked up on suspicion of burglary and he got out again because of his extreme youth. But the police had obtained his picture. And this picture was identified by all of the boy's recent victims.

Taught by experience in recent years that the majority of slayings of officers are done by youthful bandits, either through the nervousness of the amateur or through melodramatic bravado to "shoot it out," the officers searching for Jackie were up against a more difficult problem than if they had a "two-timer" as the object of the manhunt. They were, according to the orders of Chief of Detectives Cline, to capture the boy before he could make any attempt to resist.

TAKEN UNAWARES

And this is just what happened. Jackie, dressed in the same blue sweater, blue dungarees and cap that he wore when robbing his victims, was sauntering along Main near Third street Saturday afternoon. Officers Kuivanen and Morton of the police vagrancy squad recognized him. Quietly and swiftly they stepped up to him. Surprised, Jackie, according to the officers, made a grab for the .38-caliber automatic he had tucked in his belt. Kuivanen grasped his hand, disarmed him, and Morton snapped on the handcuffs. There was no more fuss and Jackie, with a smile, unhesitatingly walked with the officers to Central Police Station.

Even officers experienced in much criminal work could not believe at once that this small boy, with the blue eyes and flaxen hair comparative to their own sons flying toy airplanes and going to high school, was the much-wanted "boy bandit."

There was nothing vicious-looking about Jackie. While in dungarees, he was very neatly dressed in white shirt and collar and tie evenly tied in a four-in-hand. He was chewing gum like any other kid his age and smiling when taken before Chief Cline. While he had the manner of the nervy, nonchalant criminal, Jackie displayed no special bravado. He did not attempt to assume the air of the notorious "lone wolf" that he was. He simply sat down in the office of the detective chief and told straightforwardly and without trepidation how he "pulled" the various robberies.

CRIMINAL'S SLANT

"Sure, I pulled 'em," he declared. "It's easy. Those guys just fold up when you stick a pistol into them. They handed over the cash and that's all there was to it.

"But what did you want to do it for?" asked Chief Cline, "don't you realize that you might have killed some one or that you might have been shot yourself?"

"Well, I got the money, didn't I?" answered Jackie. "And I know how to use that gun."

"But you knew that we'd get you sooner or later," persisted Cline.

'LL GET OUT!"

"Yeh," said Jackie, "I guessed you'd get me, maybe, but what of it. I'll get out. This is only the second reel for me. I wanted the money and it was easy. 'Course I didn't figger to stay here. You don't think I went back to that telegraph office the second time just for fun, do you? I got a tip they was going to have a bunch of cash there. I was going to take it and then blow."

When asked about the cars he took to use in the robberies, Jackie said, "Oh, I just picked them up. Only two of them were unlocked. I had a special key that would open 'em."

BUCCANEER'S LIFE

And in describing how he eluded the many officers on his trail Jackie explained, "Why I never slept much. At night I'd go to one of these all-night shows and in the daytime I'd slide out to an aviation field. I spent most of the $300 I got for airplane rides."

Jackie said he had a father living somewhere in town but did not know where, but that he was able to take care of himself.

Acting on information supplied by Young O'Neil, police last night arrested Leslie R. Gideon, 31 years of age, of Sherman on suspicion of robbery, and he is held for further investigation. Gideon, who claims he is a cow-boy, was picked up at 1419 Cahuenga avenue, and denies participating in any hold-ups. According to the story of O'Neil, Gideon arranged an oil-station robbery for May 2, but got "cold-feet" and refused to carry out the plans, leaving the job for O'Neil.

Thousands Every Week Save Money This Way

"What does she mean . . . saying she attends several hundred bargain sales a week?"

"Oh, that's her way of saying she reads Times Want Ads. She got me to reading them, too, and I saved enough on several things last week to buy a new hat."

MEN 45

PREFERABLY WHO ARE AT PRESENT EMPLOYED

BOOK-KEEPERS, ACCOUNTANTS, MEN OF THE TRADES (SUCH AS MECHANICS, CARPENTERS, PLASTERERS AND BRICK MASONS) OR MEN FROM ANY FIELD OF EMPLOYMENT, DESIROUS OF EARNING $25 TO $45 EVERY WEEK FOR AN HOUR'S WORK EACH AFTERNOON OR EVENING.

THE WORK

IS simple and routine, of an institutional publicity nature, and will in no way interfere with your present occupation. MY REASON for preferring employed people is because I desire serious-minded, thinking people who are progressive enough to wish to better their financial condition, and not the chronic "ad reader" who answers ads every day and never connects permanently with any work. NO EXPERIENCE IS NECESSARY AND YOU WILL NOT BE ASKED TO SELL ANYTHING.

THESE positions are legitimate and Bona Fide with NO RED TAPE OR SCHOOLS OF INSTRUCTIONS NECESSARY. You earn as good as you start to work with this well known firm if you qualify. It is only necessary for you to be white and 25 years or more in age and willing to follow this work as outlined for you to become a permanent worker. Many tourists find this work splendid for help pass their time during their visit to Los Angeles. Should you wish to bring your wife or sister (or any female member of your family) they will also be given on this part-time employment. We have a few permanent positions for those unemployed. To receive this work, without interfering with your present employment, apply to
